Finding Our Way Rethinking Ethnocultural Relations In Canada:

Finding Our Way Will Kymlicka, 2004      Charles Taylor Mark Redhead, 2002 An examination and critique of the theoretical and political efforts of Taylor to promote deep diversity as an antidote to the process of political fragmentation in general and specifically in his home of Quebec Redhead political theory Oregon State U argues that Taylor's opposition to Quebecois separatists is equally rooted in a political theory of communitarian liberalism his political activities within the New Democratic Party of Canada and Quebec his understanding of his Catholic faith and his experiences growing up in an Anglo French household Redhead argues that Taylor's philosophy ultimately fails to address questions of nationalist projects that simplify identity or questions of openness to different moral ontologies      Immigration, Racial and Ethnic Studies in 150 Years of Canada, 2019-01-21 Canada's history since its birth as a nation one hundred and fifty years ago is one of immigration nation building and contested racial and ethnic relations In Immigration Racial and Ethnic Studies in 150 Years of Canada Retrospects and Prospects scholars provide a wide ranging overview of this history with a core theme being one of enduring racial and ethnic conflict and inequality The volume is organized around four themes where in each theme selected racial and ethnic issues are examined critically Part 1 focuses on the history of Canadian immigration and nation building while Part 2 looks at situating contemporary Canada in terms of the debates in the literature on ethnicity and race Part 3 revisits specific racial and ethnic studies in Canada and finally in Part 4 a state of the art is provided on immigration and racial and ethnic studies while providing prospects for the future Contributors are Victor Armony David Este Augie Fleras Peter R Grant Shibao Guo Abdolmohammad Kazemipour Anne Marie Livingstone Adina Madularea Ayesha Mian Akram Nilum Panesar Yolande Pottie Sherman Paul Pritchard Howard Ramos Daniel W Robertson Vic Satzewich Morton Weinfeld Rima Wilkes Lori Wilkinson Elke Winter Nelson Wiseman Lloyd Wong and Henry Yu      The Canadian Alternative Klaus Martens, 2004      The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Migration Rubina Ramji, Alison Marshall, 2022-05-19 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Migration presents the story of religion and migration predominantly through the experiences of Muslims Sikhs Hindus and Buddhists considering intersectional issues including race ethnicity class gender and generation throughout Many chapters are grounded in embodied ethnography including participant observation fieldwork interviews oral history collections and qualitative analysis drawing on sociological and anthropological theory as well as non western and historical approaches to religion Chapters also chronicle migration in regional transnational multicultural and populist contexts examining everyday religiosity and religion across generations The volume includes chapters on Islam and Muslim identity Chinese and Vietnamese Buddhism Filipino and Korean religiosity and Polish Catholicism      Social Inequalities in Comparative Perspective Fiona Devine, Mary C. Waters, 2008-04-15 This unique collection of original essays brings a comparative perspective to issues of social inequality First rate sociologists from around the world have contributed to this exciting and rigorous volume drawing upon their own research in the fields of race and ethnicity class and inequality and gender and sexuality Contains original essays by first rate scholars on issues of social inequalities around the world Features research and examples from the USA Canada UK Australia France Portugal Finland and Japan Reviews research on issues of social inequalities from the fields of race class and gender Reflects on methodological issues and the strengths of qualitative research Provides students with an important overview of the development of social stratification studies

Controlling Immigration James F. Hollifield, Philip L. Martin, Pia M. Orrenius, François Héran, 2022-09-27 The fourth edition of this classic work provides a systematic comparative assessment of the efforts of major immigrant receiving countries and the European Union to manage migration paying particular attention to the dilemmas of immigration control and immigrant integration Retaining its comprehensive coverage of nations built by immigrants the so called settler societies of the United States Canada Australia and New Zealand the new edition explores how former imperial powers France Britain and the Netherlands struggle to cope with the legacies of colonialism how social democracies like Germany and the Scandinavian countries balance the costs and benefits of migration while maintaining strong welfare states and how more recent countries of immigration in Southern Europe Italy Spain and Greece cope with new found diversity and the pressures of border control in a highly integrated European Union The fourth edition offers up to date analysis of the comparative politics of immigration and citizenship the rise of reactive populism and a new nativism and the challenge of managing migration and mobility in an age of pandemic exploring how countries cope with a surge in asylum seeking and the struggle to integrate large and culturally diverse foreign populations

Maternal Transition Candace Johnson, 2014-07-11 What are the political dimensions that are revealed in women s preferences for health care during pregnancy and childbirth The answers to this question vary from one community to the next and often from woman to the next although the trends in the Global North and South are strikingly different Employing three conceptual frames medicalization the public private distinction and intersectionality Candace Johnson examines these differences through the narratives of women in Canada the United States Cuba and Honduras In Canada and the United States women from privileged and marginalized social groups demonstrate the differences across the North South divide and women in Cuba and Honduras speak to the realities of severely constrained decision making in developing countries Each case study includes narratives drawn from in depth interviews with women who were pregnant or who had recently had children Johnson argues that women s expressed preferences in different contexts reveal important details about the inequality that they experience in that context in addition to as various elements of identity Both inequality and identity are affected by the ways in which women experience the division between public and private lives the life of the community and the life of the home and family as well as the consequences of intersectionality the combinations of various sources of disadvantage and women s reactions to these either in the form of resistance or compliance The rigorous and highly original cross cultural and comparative research on health gender poverty and social context makes Maternal Transition an excellent contribution to global maternal health policy debates      Multinational Democracies Alain Gagnon, James Tully, 2001-07-30 In this book political scientists provide a collaborative study of multinational democracies and the difficulties in governing them      Nationalism and Conflict Management Eric Taylor Woods, Robert Schertzer, Eric Kaufmann, 2013-09-13 Ethno national conflict is one of the central issues of modern politics Despite the emergence of approaches to managing it from nation building to territorial autonomy in recent years the application of these approaches has been uneven Old conflicts persist and new ones continually emerge The authors of this book contend that what is needed to drive forward the theory and practice of ethno national conflict management is a more nuanced understanding of ethnicity and nationalism The book addresses this issue by linking theories of ethnicity and nationalism to theories of conflict management Its contributors share a common goal of demonstrating that a nuanced understanding of ethnicity and nationalism can beneficially inform conflict management in theory and practice To do so they analyse both hot and cold conflict zones as well as cases that have been important in the development of the most widely used conflict management models The book is aimed at those interested in the theory and practice of ethno national conflict management as well as the study of ethnicity and nationalism It is well suited for undergraduate and advanced research students experts and policy makers This book was originally published as a special issue of Commonwealth and Comparative Politics      The Wiley International Handbook of History Teaching and Learning Scott Alan Metzger, Lauren McArthur Harris, 2018-03-02 A comprehensive review of the research literature on history education with contributions from international experts The Wiley International Handbook of History Teaching and Learning draws on contributions from an international panel of experts Their writings explore the growth the field has experienced in the past three decades and offer observations on challenges and opportunities for the future The contributors represent a wide range of pioneering established and promising new scholars with diverse perspectives on history education Comprehensive in scope the contributions cover major themes and issues in history education including policy research and societal contexts conceptual constructs of history education ideologies identities and group experiences in history education practices and learning historical literacies texts media and social spaces and consensus and dissent This vital resource Contains original writings by more than 40 scholars from seven countries Identifies major themes and issues shaping history education today Highlights history education as a distinct field of scholarly inquiry and academic practice Presents an authoritative survey of where the field has been and offers a view of what the future may hold Written for scholars and students of education as well as history teachers with an interest in the current issues in their field The Wiley International Handbook of History Teaching and Learning is a comprehensive handbook that explores the increasingly global field of history education as it has evolved to the present day      Shifting Boundaries Tim Schouls, 2011-11-01 Canada is often called a pluralist state but few commentators view Aboriginal self government from the perspective of political pluralism Instead Aboriginal identity is framed in terms of cultural and national traits while self government is taken to represent an Aboriginal desire to protect those traits Shifting Boundaries challenges this view arguing that it fosters a woefully incomplete understanding of the politics of self government Taking the position that a relational theory of pluralism offers a more accurate interpretation Tim Schouls contends that self government is better understood when an identification perspective on Aboriginal identity is adopted instead of a cultural or national one He shows that self government is not about preserving cultural and national differences as goods in and of themselves but rather is about equalizing current imbalances in power to allow Aboriginal peoples to construct their own identities In focusing on relational pluralism Shifting Boundaries adds an important perspective to existing theoretical approaches to Aboriginal self government It will appeal to academics students and policy analysts interested in Aboriginal governance cultural studies political theory nationalism studies and constitutional theory

Citizenship in Transformation in Canada Yvonne M. Hébert, 2002-01-01 Contributors argue persuasively that since conceptions of democratic citizenship are changing so too should operational definitions of citizenship education

Rights in Divided Societies Colin Harvey, Alex Schwartz, 2012-07-20 This collection examines the role and value of rights in divided and post conflict societies approaching the subject from a comparative and theoretical perspective Societies emerging from violent conflict often opt for a bill of rights as part of a wider package of constitutional reform Where conflict is fuelled by longstanding ethno national divisions these divisions are often addressed through group differentiated rights Recent constitutional settlements have highlighted the difficulties in drafting a bill of rights in divided post conflict societies where the aim of promoting unity is frequently in tension with the need to accommodate difference In such cases a bill of rights might be a rallying point around which both minorities and the majority can articulate a common vision for a shared society Conversely a bill of rights might provide merely another venue in which to play out familiar conflicts further dividing an already divided society The central questions that animate the collection are 1 Can constitutional rights provide a basis for unity and a common human rights culture in divided societies If so how 2 To what extent should divided societies opt for a universalistic package of rights protections or should the rights be tailored to the specific circumstances of a divided society providing for special group sensitive protections for minorities 3 Is a divided society more or less likely to adopt a bill of rights 4 How does the judiciary figure in the management or resolution of ethno national conflict 5 What are the general theoretical and philosophical issues at stake in a rights based approach to the management or resolution of ethno national divisions or other conflicts

Multiculturalism in Canada Hugh Donald Forbes, 2019-10-12 Multiculturalism is often thought to be defined by its commitment to diversity inclusivity sensitivity and tolerance but these established values sometimes require contrary practices of homogenization exclusion insensitivity and intolerance Multiculturalism in Canada clarifies what multiculturalism is by relating it to more basic principles of equality freedom recognition authenticity and openness Forbes places both official Canadian multiculturalism and Quebec's semi official interculturalism in their historical and constitutional setting examines their relations to liberal democratic core values and outlines a variety of practical measures that would make Canada a more open country and a better illustration of what a commitment to egalitarian cultural pluralism now means Consisting of a series of connected essays including careful considerations of the works of Will Kymlicka and Charles Taylor this book provides the first comprehensive account of multiculturalism in Canada

Multiculturalism Question Jack Jedwab,2016-03-14 Canada's policy of multiculturalism has been the object of ongoing debate since it was first introduced in 1971 Decades later Canadians still seem uncertain about the meaning of multiculturalism Detractors insist that government has not succeeded in discouraging immigrants and their descendants from preserving their cultures of origin undercutting a necessary identification with Canada while supporters argue that immigrant groups abilities to influence their adjustments to Canada has strengthened their sense of belonging Beyond what often seems to be a polarized debate is a broad spectrum of opinion around multiculturalism in Canada and what it means to be Canadian The Multiculturalism Question analyzes the policy ideology and message of multiculturalism Several of Canada's leading thinkers provide valuable insights into a crucial debate that will inevitably continue well into the future

Contemporary Majority Nationalism Alain Gagnon,Geneviève Nootens,André Lecours,2011 For many years nationalism has been associated with political demands by minority nations that challenge the rights of the central state However over the last two decades many works have challenged this perspective arguing that nationalism as a political phenomenon is likely to emerge among both majority and minority nations In light of a renewed interest in the study of national Contemporary Majority Nationalism brings together a group of major scholars committed to making sense of this widespread phenomenon To better illustrate the reality of majority nationalism and the way it has been expressed authors combine analytical and comparative perspectives In the first section contributors highlight the paradox of majority nationalism and the ways in which collective identities become national identities The second section offers in depth case study analyses of France the United Kingdom Spain Canada and the United States This book is an international project led by three members of the Research Group on Plurinational Societies based at Universit du Qu bec Montr al Interrogating Race and Racism Vijay Agnew,2007-01-01 Agnew delves into the public and private spheres of several distinct communities in order to expose the underlying inequalities within Canada's economic social legal and political systems that frequently result in the denial of basic rights to migrant women Canadian Federalism Herman Bakvis,Grace Skogstad,2020-07-15 This is Canada's only up to date collection of essays on issues in Canadian federalism covering the Harper and Trudeau eras as well as federal provincial debates over healthcare climate change trade and more Forging Alberta's Constitutional Framework Richard Connors,John M. Law,University of Alberta. Centre for Constitutional Studies,2005-11 Forging Alberta's Constitutional Framework analyzes the principal events and processes that precipitated the emergence and formation of the law and legal culture of Alberta from the foundation of the Hudson's Bay in 1670 until the eve of the centenary of the Province in 2005 The formation of Alberta's constitution and legal institutions was by no means a simple process by which

English and Canadian law was imposed upon a receptive and passive population Challenges to authority latent lawlessness interaction between indigenous and settler societies periods pre and post 1905 of jurisdictional confusion and demands for individual group and provincial rights and recognitions are as much part of Alberta s legal history as the heroic and mythic images of an emergent and orderly Canadian west patrolled from the outset by red coated mounted police and peopled by peaceful and law abiding subjects of the Crown Papers focus on the development of criminal law in the Canadian west in the nineteenth century the Natural Resources Transfer Agreement of 1930 the National Energy Program of the 1980s Federal Provincial relations and the role and responsibilities of the offices of Justices of the Peace and of the Lieutenant Governor and the legacies of the Lougheed and Klein governments
