Images of Västerås Jan Gustafsson, Frank Kusán, 1989 Northern Renaissance Art Susie Nash, 2008-11-27 This book offers a wide ranging introduction to the way that art was made valued and viewed in northern Europe in the age of the Renaissance from the late fourteenth to the early years of the sixteenth century Drawing on a rich range of sources from inventories and guild regulations to poetry and chronicles it examines everything from panel paintings to carved altarpieces While many little known works are foregrounded Susie Nash also presents new ways of viewing and understanding the more familiar such as the paintings of Jan van Eyck Rogier van der Weyden and Hans Memling by considering the social and economic context of their creation and reception Throughout Nash challenges the perception that Italy was the European leader in artistic innovation at this time demonstrating forcefully that Northern art and particularly that of the Southern Netherlands dominated visual culture throughout Europe in this crucial period Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2002 What is an Image? James Elkins, 2011 Brings together historians philosophers critics postcolonial theorists and curators to ask how images pictures and paintings are conceptualized Issues discussed include concepts such as image and picture in and outside the West semiotics whether images are products of discourse religious meanings and the ethics of viewing Provided by publisher Tracing the Jerusalem Code Kristin B. Tree of Jesse Iconography in Northern Europe in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries Susan L. Green, 2018-10-26 This book is the first detailed investigation to focus on the late medieval use of Tree of Jesse imagery traditionally a representation of the genealogical tree of Christ In northern Europe from the mid fifteenth to the early sixteenth centuries it could be found across a wide range of media Yet as this book vividly illustrates it had evolved beyond a simple genealogy into something more complex which could be modified to satisfy specific religious requirements It was also able to function on a more temporal level reflecting not only a clerical preoccupation with a sense of communal identity but a more general interest in displaying a family s heritage continuity and or social status It is this dynamic and polyvalent element that makes the subject so fascinating

Patterns in Nature Philip Ball, 2020-03-04 The acclaimed science writer curates a visually striking riotously colorful photographic display of physical patterns in the natural world Publishers Weekly starred review Though at first glance the natural world may appear overwhelming in its diversity and complexity there are regularities running through it from the hexagons of a honeycomb to the spirals of a seashell and the branching veins of a leaf Revealing the order at the foundation of the seemingly chaotic natural world Patterns in Nature explores not only the math and science but also the beauty and artistry behind nature s awe inspiring designs Unlike the patterns we create natural patterns are formed spontaneously from the forces that act in the physical world Very often the same types of pattern and form such as spirals stripes branches and fractals recur in places that seem to have nothing in common as when the markings of a zebra mimic the ripples in windblown sand But many of these patterns can be described using the same mathematical and physical principles giving a surprising unity to the kaleidoscope of the natural world Richly illustrated with 250 color photographs and anchored by accessible and insightful chapters by esteemed science writer Philip Ball Patterns in Nature reveals the organization at work in vast and ancient forests powerful rivers massing clouds and coastlines carved out by the sea By exploring similarities such as the branches of a tree and those of a river network this spectacular visual tour conveys the wonder beauty and richness of natural pattern formation

Arv ,1996 Imagining Spaces and Places Saija Isomaa, Kirsi Saarikangas, 2014-07-18 Imagining Spaces and Places seeks to produce an interdisciplinary dialogue between art history and literature studies and other fields of cultural analysis that work with the concepts of space place and various scapes such as cityscapes bodyscapes mindscapes and memoryscapes as well as the more familiar landscapes The volume was inspired by new lines of study that underline the experiential and multidimensional aspects of spaces We explore how art literature or urban spaces forge scapes by imposing or suggesting aesthetic evaluative or ideological orderings and perceptual as well as emotive perspectives on the raw material or on previous ways of spatial worldmaking We look at the role of cultural and artistic renderings of space in relation to everyday experiences of spaces We examine how the experiences of places are mediated in various art forms and other cultural discourses or practices and how these discourses contribute to the understanding of particular places and also to understanding space in more general terms Imagining Spaces and Places is addressed to scholars and teachers working at the intersection of cultural and spatial analyses as well as to their undergraduate and postgraduate students

Making Strategies in Spatial Planning Maria Cerreta, Grazia Concilio, Valeria Monno, 2010-09-11 This provocative collection of essays challenges traditional ideas of strategic s tial planning and opens up new avenues of analysis and research The diversity of contributions here suggests that we need to rethink spatial planning in several f reaching ways Let me suggest several avenues of such rethinking that can have both theoretical and practical consequences First we need to overcome simplistic bifurcations or dichotomies of assessing outcomes and processes separately from one another To lapse into the nostalgia of imagining that outcome analysis can exhaust strategic planners work might appeal to academics content to study what should be but it will doom itself to further irrelevance ignorance of politics and rationalistic technocratic fantasies But to lapse into an optimism that good process is all that strategic planning requires similarly rests upon a ction that no credible planning analyst believes that enough talk will miraculously transcend con ict and produce agreement Neither sing minded approach can work for both avoid dealing with con ict and power and both too easily avoid dealing with the messiness and the practicalities of negotiating out con icting interests and values and doing so in ethically and politically critical ways far from resting content with mere compromise Second we must rethink the sanctity of expertise By considering analyses of planning outcomes as inseparable from planning processes these accounts help us to see expertise and substantive analysis as being on tap ready to put into use rather than being particularly and technocratically on top
