Immigrant Acts:

Immigrant Acts Lisa Lowe, 1996 Argues that understanding Asian immigration to the United States is fundamental to understanding the racialized economic and political foundations of the nation Lowe discusses the contradictions whereby Asians have been included in the workplaces and markets of the U S nation state yet through exclusion laws and bars from citizenship have been distanced from the terrain of national culture In this uniquely interdisciplinary study Lowe examines the historical political cultural and aesthetic meanings of immigration in relation to Asian Americans back cover

Immigrant Acts Lisa Lowe, 2012-08 In Immigrant Acts Lisa Lowe argues that understanding Asian immigration to the United States is fundamental to understanding the racialized economic and political foundations of the nation Lowe discusses the contradictions whereby Asians have been included in the workplaces and markets of the U S nation state yet through exclusion laws and bars from citizenship have been distanced from the terrain of national culture Lowe argues that a national memory haunts the conception of Asian American persisting beyond the repeal of individual laws and sustained by U S wars in Asia in which the Asian is seen as the perpetual immigrant as the foreigner within In Immigrant Acts she argues that rather than attesting to the absorption of cultural difference into the universality of the national political sphere the Asian immigrant at odds with the cultural racial and linguistic forms of the nation displaces the temporality of assimilation Distance from the American national culture constitutes Asian American culture as an alternative site that produces cultural forms materially and aesthetically in contradiction with the institutions of citizenship and national identity Rather than a sign of a failed integration of Asians into the American cultural sphere this critique preserves and opens up different possibilities for political practice and coalition across racial and national borders In this uniquely interdisciplinary study Lowe examines the historical political cultural and aesthetic meanings of immigration in relation to Asian Americans Extending the range of Asian American critique Immigrant Acts will interest readers concerned with race and ethnicity in the United States

American cultures immigration and transnationalism The Makings and Unmakings of Americans Cristina Stanciu, 2023-01-24 Challenges the myth of the United States as a nation of immigrants by bringing together two groups rarely read together Native Americans and Eastern European immigrants In this cultural history of Americanization during the Progressive Era Cristina Stanciu argues that new immigrants and Native Americans shaped the intellectual and cultural debates over inclusion and exclusion challenging ideas of national belonging citizenship and literary and cultural production Deeply grounded in a wide ranging archive of Indigenous and new immigrant writing and visual culture including congressional acts testimonies news reports cartoons poetry fiction and silent film this book brings together voices of Native and immigrant America Stanciu shows that although Native Americans and new immigrants faced different legal and cultural obstacles to citizenship the challenges they faced and their resistance to assimilation and Americanization often ran along parallel paths Both struggled against idealized models of American citizenship that dominated public spaces Both participated in government sponsored Americanization efforts and worked to gain agency and sovereignty while negotiating naturalization Rethinking popular understandings of Americanization Stanciu argues that the new immigrants and Native Americans at the heart of this book expanded the narrow definitions of American identity Sounding Our Way Home Susan Miyo Asai, 2024-01-18 A product of twenty five years of archival and primary research Sounding Our Way Home Japanese American Musicking and the Politics of Identity narrates the efforts of three generations of Japanese Americans to reach home through musicking Using ethnomusicology as a lens Susan Miyo Asai examines the musical choices of a population that historically is considered outside the racial and ethnic boundaries of American citizenship Emphasizing the notion of national identity and belonging the volume provokes a discussion about the challenges of nation building in a democratic society Asai addresses the politics of music interrogating the ways musicking functions as a performance of social cultural and political identification for Japanese Americans in the United States Musicking is an inherently political act at the intersection of music identity and politics particularly if it involves expressing one's ethnicity and/or race Asai further investigates how Japanese American ethnic identification and cultural practices relate to national belonging Musicking cultivates a narrative of a shared history and aesthetic between performers and listeners The discourse situates not only Japanese Americans but all Asians into the Black white binary of race relations in the United States Sounding Our Way Home contributes to the ongoing struggle for acceptance and equal representation for people of color in the US A history of Japanese American musicking across three generations the book unveils the social and political discrimination that nonwhite immigrants and their offspring continue to face when it comes to finding acceptance in US society and culture time Classical Projections offers film quotation as a new concept for understanding how preexisting moving image fragments are reframed and re viewed within subsequent films As a visual corollary to literary quotation film quotations embed film fragments in on screen movie screens Though film quotations have appeared since silent cinema Classical Projections focuses on quotations of classical Hollywood film mainstream American studio production 1915 1950 as quoted in post classical Hollywood roughly 1960 to present This strategic historical frame asks how does post classical cinema visualize its awareness of coming after a classical or golden age How do post classical filmmakers claim or disavow classical history How do historically disenfranchised post classical filmmakers whether by gender sexuality or race grapple with exclusionary and stereotype ridden canons As a constitutive element of post classical authorship film quotations amass and manufacture classical Hollywood in retrospective highly strategic ways By revealing how quotational tellings of film history build and embolden exclusionary myopic canons Classical Projections uncovers opportunities to construct more capacious cultural memory

Taking on Practical Theology Courtney Goto, 2018-08-20 In Taking on Practical Theology Courtney T Goto explores the regnant paradigm that shapes knowledge production and that preserves power privilege and historic communal injury even as scholars intend to enlighten and transform communities Approaching context as a case study Goto illumines how this commonly used taken for granted concept is idolized Though practical theologians are sensitive to context researchers often fail to consider how their own assumptive world dictates and influences their practices of research teaching and engaging in scholarly conversations These practices unwittingly validate scholars who enjoy the most social capital while inflicting harm on both communities they research and on colleagues and students who do not fit or fit less well the norms of the majority

Learning to Speak a New Tongue Fumitaka Matsuoka, 2011-09-14 Learning to Speak a New Tongue attempts to respond to a timely question facing America today What holds people together in a fragmented world The response comes from a religious community that has not been very visible Asian Americans The author employs the threefold epistemological scaffold familiar to Asian Americans 1 translocal value orientation embedded in the experiences of racialization 2 a heightened sensitivity to pathos arising out of our dissonance with the societal norms and values and 3 amphibolous spirituality that is a co existence of multiple religious traditions without any resolution of their differences The angle of vision embedded in this epistemological framework of Asian Americans lives may well provide a clue to an alternate architectural paradigm in building a new peoplehood and to redefine democratic freedom as the historical paradigm of American peoplehood

Diasporic Poetics Timothy Yu, 2021-07-08 This book advances a new concept of the Asian diaspora that creates links between Asian American Asian Canadian and Asian Australian identities Drawing from comparable studies of the black diaspora it traces the histories of colonialism immigration and exclusion shared by these three populations The work of Asian poets in each of these three countries offers a rich terrain for understanding how Asian identities emerge at the intersection of national and transnational flows with the poets thematic and formal choices reflecting the varied pressures of social and cultural histories as well as the influence of Asian writers in other national locations Diasporic Poetics argues that racialized and nationally bounded Asian identities often emerge from transnational political solidarities from Third World struggles against colonialism to the global influence of the American civil rights movement Indeed this volume shows that Asian writers disclaim national belonging as often as they claim it placing Asian diasporic writers at a critical distance from the national spaces within which they write As the first full length study to compare Asian American Asian Canadian and Asian Australian writers the book offers the historical and cultural contexts necessary to understand the distinctive development of Asian writing in each country while also offering close analysis of the work of writers such as Janice Mirikitani Fred Wah Ouyang Yu Myung Mi Kim and Cathy Park Hong
