Justice And Reverse Discrimination:

Justice and Reverse Discrimination Alan H. Goldman, 2015-03-08 Through careful consideration of the mutually plausible yet conflicting arguments on both sides of the issue Alan Goldman attempts to derive a morally consistent position on the justice or injustice of reverse discrimination From a philosophical framework that appeals to a contractual model of ethics he develops principles of rights compensation and equal opportunity He then applies these principles to the issue at hand bringing his conclusions to bear on an evaluation of Affirmative Action programs as they tend to work in practice Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Equality Justice and Reverse Discrimination , Affirmative Action Francis J. Beckwith, Todd E. Jones, 1997 Blacks and Social Justice Bernard R. Boxill, 1992 Delineate the principal arguments for and against the major racial issues of our time The Making of Reverse Discrimination Ellen Messer-Davidow, 2021-07-14 In The Making of Reverse Discrimination Ellen Messer Davidow offers a fresh and incisive analysis of the legal judicial discourse of DeFunis v Odegaard 1974 and Regents of the University of California v Bakke 1978 the first two cases challenging race conscious admissions to professional schools to reach the US Supreme Court While the voluminous literature on DeFunis and Bakke has focused on the Supreme Court's far from definitive answers to important constitutional questions Messer Davidow closely examines each case from beginning to end She investigates the social surrounds where the cases incubated their tours through the courts and their aftereffects Her analysis shows how lawyers and judges used the mechanisms of language and law to narrow the conflict to a single white male applicant and a single white dominated university program to dismiss the historical sociological statistical and experiential facts of systemic racism and thereby to assemble reverse discrimination as a new object of legal analysis In exposing the discursive mechanisms that marginalized the interests of applicants and communities of color Messer Davidow demonstrates that the construction of facts the reasoning by precedent and the invocation of constitutional principles deserve more scrutiny than they have received in the scholarly literature Although facts precedents and principles are said to bring stability and equity to the law Messer Davidow argues that the white centered narratives of DeFunis and Bakke not only bleached the color from equal protection but also served as the template for the dozens of anti affirmative action projects lawsuits voter referenda executive orders that conservative movement organizations mounted in the following years Equality, Affirmative Action and Justice Johan Rabe, 2001 Affirmative Action and Justice Michel Rosenfeld, 1991-01-01 A comprehensive discussion of both the interpretive and critical issues central to the question of whether affirmative action programs are constitutional Michel Rosenfeld presents a new theory that strongly defends the justice of affirmative action from the standpoint of both philosophy and constitutional law Compensatory Justice John W. Chapman, 1991-09 Began with presentations and commentaries at the meeting of The American Society for Political and Legal Philosophy held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Association of American Law Schools in New Orleans 5 8 January 1989 Preface

The Affirmative Action Debate Steven M. Cahn, 2002 Contributors Steven M Cahn James W Nickel J L Cowan Paul W Taylor Michael D Bayles William A Nunn III Alan H Goldman Paul Woodruff Robert A Shiver Judith Jarvis Thomson Robert Simon George Sher Robert Amdur Robert K Fullinwider Bernard R Boxhill Lisa H Newton Anita L Allen Celia Wolf Devine Sidney Hook Richard Waaserstrom Thomas E Hill Jr John Kekes Literacy and Racial Justice Catherine Prendergast, 2003 In anticipation of the fiftieth anniversary of the landmark Brown v Board of Education decision Catherine Prendergast draws on a combination of insights from legal studies and literacy studies to interrogate contemporary multicultural literacy initiatives thus providing a sound historical basis that informs current debates over affirmative action school vouchers reparations and high stakes standardized testing As a result of Brown and subsequent crucial civil rights court cases literacy and racial justice are firmly enmeshed in the American imagination so much so that it is difficult to discuss one without referencing the other Breaking with the accepted wisdom that the Brown decision was an unambiguous victory for the betterment of race relations Literacy and Racial Justice The Politics of Learning after Brown v Board of Education finds that the ruling reinforced traditional conceptions of literacy as primarily white property to be controlled and disseminated by an empowered majority Prendergast examines civil rights era Supreme Court rulings and immigration cases spanning a century of racial injustice to challenge the myth of assimilation through literacy Advancing from Ways with Words Shirley Brice Heath's landmark study of desegregated communities Prendergast argues that it is a shared understanding of literacy as white property which continues to impact problematic classroom dynamics and education practices To offer a positive model for reimagining literacy instruction that is truly in the service of racial justice Prendergast presents a naturalistic study of an alternative public secondary school Outlining new directions and priorities for inclusive literacy scholarship in America Literacy and Racial Justice concludes that a literate citizen is one who can engage rather than overlook longstanding legacies of racial strife Ethics in Criminal Justice Sam S. Souryal, John T. Whitehead, 2019-09-17 Introducing the fundamentals of ethical theory Ethics in Criminal Justice In Search of the Truth Seventh Edition exposes the reader to the ways and means of making moral judgments by exploring the teachings of the great philosophers sources of criminal justice ethics and ethical issues in the criminal justice system It is presented from two perspectives a thematic perspective that addresses ethical principles common to all components of the discipline and an area specific perspective that addresses the state of ethics in criminal justice in the fields of policing corrections and probation and parole The seventh edition features discussion of current critical issues in criminal justice accusations of racism police shootings stop and frisk

policy marijuana laws mass incarceration life sentences prison privatization the swift and certain deterrence model of probation excessive probation fees and the Good Lives Model in corrections The seventh edition also offers completely revised coverage of capital punishment and the rehabilitation debate and a discussion of how juvenile justice often fails to live up to its ideals Finally the book features new case studies of recent ethical dilemmas in criminal justice to enhance students understanding of real life ethics decision making Suitable for advanced undergraduates or graduate students in criminal justice programs in the US and globally this text offers a classical view of ethical decision making and is well grounded in specific case examples

Interrogating Critical Pedagogy Pierre Wilbert Orelus, Rochelle Brock, 2014-11-13 Educators teacher practitioners and social activists have successfully used critical pedagogy as a tool to help marginalized students develop awareness and seek alternative solutions to their poor educational and socioeconomic situations However this theory is often criticized as being mostly dominated by privileged white males bringing issues of race and gender to the forefront This volume provides insight on how critical pedagogy can be helpful to scholars and teachers alike in their analysis of racial gender linguistic and political problems It features a wide range of respected scholars who examine the way and the degree to which critical pedagogy can be used to improve education for students of color women and other marginalized groups

Approximate Justice George Sher, 1997-12-04 In this book distinguished philosopher George Sher explores the normative moral and social problems that arise from living in a decidedly non ideal world a world that contains immorality evil and injustice and in which resources including knowledge are often inadequate Sher confronts difficult issues surrounding preferential treatment and equal opportunity compensatory justice and punishment the allocation of goods by lottery and abortion and moral compromise In each case Sher asks not what an ideal society would involve but how we should deal with failures to live up to individual or social ideals Challenging current academic orthodoxy Sher's work is sure to incite discussion among students and scholars alike Approximate Justice is an engaging and provocative book that will excite anyone with interest in social and political philosophy justice and law

The Passion for Equality Kenneth Cauthen, 1987 From the Revolutionary War through the Civil War to the debates of today the passion for equality has been one of the keystones of American society This study offers an historical survey of the idea of equality in America a philosophical analysis of the concept and a proposal for a more balanced integration of equality in the structure of American society The Passion for Equality is an important book grounded in the traditions of John Rawls and Robert Nozick It is recommended for philosophers ethicists economists political scientists and social theorists of all political persuasions

The European Fundamental Freedoms Pedro Caro de Sousa, 2015-04-23 Law can be looked at from both an internal legal perspective reflected in the official discourse supporting legal decisions and an external perspective which is pursued by studies that look at the law from the outside as the subject of sociological economic or philosophical analysis This external dimension related to extra legal factors that impact the law such as the institutional environment in which the law is applied is usually ignored or not addressed systematically by studies that focus on the internal perspective. By systematically internalizing these external elements into legal theory and practice, contextual approaches lead to the development of better descriptive theories and more attractive normative models of the law and specifically EU law than de-contextualized approaches. Additionally, contextual approaches are more self-aware than de-contextualized approaches since they are able to make sense of the role that legal practice by judges, legal practitioners and academics plays in the development of the law. It is through a contextual approach that Pedro Caro de Sousa develops a general theory of European constitutional law in particular free movement law and the EU fundamental freedoms. As a contribution to the development of EU constitutionalism, this monograph focuses on the interplay between the different normative concerns behind the EU's market freedoms identified in traditional legal discourse and the various extra-legal and institutional factors that affect how that law is applied and develops in practice. Moving away from traditional studies of free movement law, Caro de Sousa's book offers a fresh approach to free movement law. Rather than proposing normative approaches, he uses this approach to construct a broader thesis that the EU law of free movement can best be understood as interplay of traditional legal doctrines and practices and the specific institutional environment where this law is applied and developed.

The Future of Remedies in Europe Tonia Novitz, Claire Kilpatrick, Paul Skidmore, 2000-11-20. This book explores the lively and often controversial dialogues between courts national and supranational on remedies.

Social Justice R.L. Braham, 2012-12-06. The Conference on Social Justice was the second in the series of conferences organized under the auspices of the Departments of Economics, Philosophy and Political Science of The City College of The City University of New York. This conference was made possible under a generous grant from the Morton Globus Fund. Its success was assured by the participation of distinguished scholars and educators from the organizing departments as well as from a number of other American institutions of higher learning. Not all who participated are included in this volume drawn from the conference but we are grateful to all equally for their contribution as discussants. On behalf of the chairmen and members of the participating departments I would like to express thanks to the panelists for making their papers available for publication. I would also like to express my gratitude to Mr Morton Globus for his generosity and to Acting President Arthur Tiedemann and Professor Jerome Siegel the Acting Dean of the Social Science Division of The City College for their consistent support of this project. Finally I would like to express my appreciation to the publisher Martinus Nijhoff Publishing for its patience and cooperation and to my wife Elizabeth Braham for her advice and editorial assistance.

Living With Contradictions Alison M Jaggar, 2018-03-08. This book explores some of the moral and public policy issues that divide Western especially North American feminists as the twentieth century ends and the twenty-first century begins. It represents an in-house discussion among feminists and their social ethics.

EU Health Systems and Distributive Justice Danielle Da Costa Leite Borges, 2016-07-01. EU Health Systems and Distributive Justice uses theories of distributive justice to examine tensions created by the application of the Internal Market rules to the provision of health care services within the European Union Using the concepts and principles embedded in the theories of egalitarianism and libertarianism this book analyses the impact of the Internal Market rules on common values and principles shared by European health systems such as universality accessibility equity and solidarity This analysis is conducted using the specific issue of cross border health care This book makes innovative contributions to the study of the relationship between EU health systems and the Internal Market it encompasses the analysis of all principles recognised by EU institutions as guiding principles of European health systems it integrates human rights law and practice into the discussion of the EU Court of Justice s approach to patient mobility cases and it assesses the potential impact of the Internal Market over EU health systems through the lens of distributive justice looking at the underlying principles of these systems that are mostly concerned with social justice Ultimately this is not a book on EU law and health care but it is a book on distributive justice health care and the principles and policies guiding European health systems Nomination of Clarence Thomas to be an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court ,1991
