Five Modern Canadian Poets:

Five Modern Canadian Poets Eli Mandel, Thomas Roy Bentley, 1970 Collection of poems with an introduction to each poet Five Modern Canadian Poets Elias Wolf Mandel, 1970 Canadian Poets, 1960-1973 George Woodcock, 1976-01-01 Compiled in 1976 by George Woodcock this book lists works by 600 poets in 1200 books and booklets during the era leading up to Canada's literary coming of age This listing of the writings in verse of Canadian poets between 1960 and 1973 came into existence because I was invited by Carl F Klinck the General Editor of the Literary History of Canada to write for a new edition of that work the chapter covering poetry published in Canada since 1960 It was obvious that my first need was an adequate list for I very soon realized that in quantity even more than in character the poetry published in Canada during the past decade has differed radically from what had appeared at any other time in the literary progress of our country

Introductory note by George Woodcock Eight More Canadian Poets Eli Mandel, 1972 15 Canadian Poets Gary Geddes, Phyllis Bruce, 1978 Keepers of the Code Robert Lecker, 2013-02-07 Keepers of the Code explores the complex network of associations and negotiations that influenced the development of literary anthologies in English Canada from 1837 to the present Lecker shows that these anthologies are deeply conflicted narratives that embody the tensions and anxieties felt by their editors when faced with the challenge of constructing or rejecting national ideals He argues that these are intensely self-conscious works with their own literary mechanisms and architecture In reading the history of these anthologies he witnesses a complex narrative of nation a compelling story about the values and interests informing English Canadian literary history Making of Modern Poetry in Canada Louis Dudek, Michael Gnarowski, 2017-04-24 The Making of Modern Poetry in Canada gathers together primary literary documents including manifestos reviews critical essays and recollections to illustrate the most significant developments in the rise of modernist English Canadian poetry Rather than present exclusively academic criticism the editors have carefully selected original texts by the principal figures of modernism to offer readers a behind the scenes look at twentieth century poetry in Canada Collecting several decades of writings by luminaries beginning with pivotal essays by John Sutherland and A J M Smith and including George Bowering Northrop Frye Irving Layton P K Page F R Scott Raymond Souster and William Carlos Williams this volume also provides explanatory notes to guide the reader and to evaluate the significance of each piece in its literary and historical context This classic work of Canadian literary studies is now back in print with a substantial new introduction and appendices by Michael Gnarowski who explains and interprets the essence of key initiatives in the unfolding of a modernist point of view The Making of Modern Poetry in Canada offers a comprehensive chronological path from the earliest examples of Canadian modernism to the beginning of the postmodern period Literary History of Canada Carl F. Klinck, Alfred G. Bailey, Claude Bissell, Roy Daniells, Northrop Frye, Desmond Pacey, 1976-12-15 Hailed as a landmark in Canadian literary scholarship when it was originally published in 1965 the Literary History of Canada is now being reissued revised and enlarged in three volumes This

Ontario Library Review ,1926 Barking & Biting Sina Queyras,2016-03-31 This collection brings together representative work from Sina Queyras's poetic oeuvre. Queyras is at the forefront of contemporary discussions of genre, gender, and criticism of poetry. Her influential blog turned literary magazine Lemon Hound published up and coming writers as well as work by established literary figures in Canada and abroad. The title Barking & Biting makes reference to the tagline of Lemon Hound: more bark than bite. Erin Wunker's introduction situates Queyras's poetry within ongoing debates around genre and gender. It suggests that Queyras's writing, be it literary, critical, poetic, or prose, is precise and probing but avoids toothless critical positioning. It pays particular attention to Queyras's poetic innovations and intertextual references to other women writers and suggests that read together, Queyras's oeuvre embodies an engaged feminist attention, what Joan Retallack has called a poethics, where poetry and ethics are bound together as a mode of inquiry and aesthetics. Queyras's poems trace a consistent concern with both poetic genealogies and the status of women. Thus far, twenty-first-century poetics have been preoccupied with two ongoing conversations: the perceived divide between lyric and conceptual writing and the underrepresentation of women and other non-dominant subjects. While these two topics may seem epistemologically and ethically separate, they are in fact irrevocably intertwined. Questions of form are at their root: questions of visibility and recognizability. Will the reader know a poem when she sees it? And will that seeing alter her perception of the world? And how is the form of the poem altered productively or unproductively by the identity politics of its author? These are the questions that undergird Queyras's poetry and guide the editorial selections. Queyras's poetics pay dogged attention to questions of both representation and genre. In each of her poetry collections, she inhabits tenets of the traditional lyric but leverages the genre open to let conceptualism in. This is demonstrated in her afterword Lyric Conceptualism: a Manifesto in Progress, which was first published on the Poetry Foundation's Harriet the Blog. In it, Queyras puts forward a set of maxims about the possibilities of a new hybrid: the conceptual lyric poem.

The Routledge Introduction to Twentieth- and Twenty-First-Century Canadian Poetry Erin Wunker,2022-11-21 When asked the question what is the power of poetry, writer Ian Williams said poetry punctures the surface. Williams' statement that poetry matters and that it does something is at the heart of this book. Building from this core idea that poetry perforates the everyday to give greater range to our lives and our thinking, the practical and pedagogical aim of this book is twofold: the first aim is to provide students with an introduction to the key cultural, political, and historical events that inform twentieth and twenty-first century Canadian poetry and to familiarize those same readers with poetic movements, trends, and forms of the same time period. This book addresses the aesthetic and social contexts of Canadian poetry written in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries; it models for its readers the critical and theoretical discourses needed to understand the contexts of literary production in Canada. Put differently, readers need a sense of the where and how of poetic production to help situate them in the what of poetry itself. In addition to offering a historically contextualized overview of the significant movements developments and poets of this time period this book also familiarizes readers with key moments of reflection and rupture such as the effects of economic and ecological crisis global conflicts and debates around appropriation of culture This book is built on the premise that poetry in Canada does not happen outside of political social and cultural contexts
