helped Maddie survive Madeline lives through Maddie's fourth, fifth, and sixth years with her and helps her inner child cope with each horrific episode she had encountered. As Madeline holds her hand and walks by her side through those years, Maddie develops the courage to take Madeline back to the terror-filled events of her childhood. Madeline sees the abuse by her schizophrenic mother, the absence of her loving father, the taunting and bullying by a neighborhood boy, the feeling of loneliness, facing the deaths of loved ones, and finally almost her own death. As Maddie conquers her fears, she no longer needs to hide within Madeline's psyche. Madeline experiences a beautiful feeling of freedom, freedom from the fear of devastating emotional pain. She emerges as the confident, self-loving woman she wants to be. She can now love her family and others with the deep, trusting love she could never allow. She's become a whole person.

Tomorrow's Memories Angeles Monrayo, 2003-03-31 Angeles Monrayo 1912-2000 began her diary on January 10, 1924, a few months before she and her father and older brother moved from a sugar plantation in Waipahu to Pablo Manlapit's strike camp in Honolulu. Here for the first time is a young Filipino girl's view of life in Hawaii and central California in the first decades of the twentieth century, a significant and often turbulent period for immigrant and migrant labor in both settings. Angeles' vivid, simple language takes us into the heart of an early Filipino family as its members come to terms with poverty and racism and struggle to build new lives in a new world. But even as Angeles recounts the hardships of immigrant life, her diary of everyday things never lets us forget that she and the people around her went to school and church, enjoyed music and dancing, told jokes, went to the movies, and fell in love.

Essays by Jonathan Okamura and Dawn Mabalon enlarge on Angeles' account of early working-class Filipinos and situate her experience in the larger history of Filipino migration to the United States.

Each family was temporary with hopes of reunification with my family. I was subjected to worse situations in these homes that were supposed to be a place of providing me with my needs and safety. I suffered physical, sexual, verbal, and emotional abuse. I was pulled from homes as things happened, but punishment was never given to those who assaulted me. I found an outlet for taking my mind off what was happening to me, but it only helped for so long.
