

The background of the book cover is a dark, atmospheric photograph. It depicts a two-story house with a dark roof and a chimney, situated in a field. To the left of the house is a large, dark evergreen tree. The sky is filled with heavy, dark clouds, and a faint light source, possibly the moon, is visible behind the clouds. The overall color palette is dominated by dark blues, greys, and blacks, with a touch of green from the title text.

Latrommi End Of Tears Andrew Adkins, 2013-03-18 In a

ancient civilization trapped inside a mystic barrier and kept from the modern day world A father and his two friends are sent on a path that will send their time into the jaws of demise With betrayal love lies and truth a son steps up to the plate to save a selected people If he fails not only will everything that they know perish But the very existence of all life beyond the barrier will be casted into war that will leave nothing but ashes behind Christianity, The Other, and The Holocaust Michael R. Steele, 2003-02-28 According to the author Christianity offers a powerful system of rewards and incentives to create cultural uniformity Those who do not join in this cultural uniformity become anathematized oppressed marginalized and ultimately removed from the Christian circle of moral obligation Using culture studies as a framework for analysis Steele investigates the ways in which Christianity created cultural conditions based on a theology of violence and the use of sacred violence to foster behaviors that would lead to the involvement of millions of perpetrators and bystanders during the many instances of extreme violence used against the Other over the centuries As the original Disconfirming Other in the Christian cultural world Jews often served as the primary target Thus there was a system of definitions rewards incentives and victims already in place when the Nazis came to power Calling for a re evaluation of the cultural practices and values that have developed within Christianity over time this important new book helps account for the phenomenon of the Nazi perpetrators and bystanders during the Holocaust Framing the Holocaust as a late but logical development in a long series of violent responses by Christianity to the Other those who stand outside the Christian world either by geographical accident religious tradition or some other factor the author attempts to show how the Holocaust while not a specifically Christian event was nevertheless sanctioned and conditioned by other events in the history of Christianity Using culture studies to frame his analysis Steele focuses on historical antecedents that help account for the apathy of bystanders and point to the preexistence of a moral framework supporting and empowering the perpetrators of the Holocaust This unique perspective concludes that the Nazis invented almost nothing with regard to the Shoah and that instead a long standing insistence on cultural hegemony played a much bigger role in the attempted destruction of the Jewish community Routledge Handbook of Socio-Legal Theory and Methods Naomi Creutzfeldt, Marc Mason, Kirsten McConnachie, 2019-08-13 Drawing on a range of approaches from the social sciences and humanities this handbook explores theoretical and empirical perspectives that address the articulation of law in society and the social character of the rule of law The vast field of socio legal studies provides multiple lenses through which law can be considered Rather than seeking to define the field of socio legal studies this book takes up the experiences of researchers within the field First hand accounts of socio legal research projects allow the reader to engage with diverse theoretical and methodological approaches within this fluid interdisciplinary area The book provides a rich resource for those interested in deepening their understanding of the variety of theories and methods available when law is studied in its broadest social context as well as setting those within the history of the socio legal movement The chapters consider multiple disciplinary lenses including feminism anthropology and sociology as well as a variety of methodologies including narrative visual and spatial psychological economic and epidemiological approaches Moreover these are applied in a range of substantive contexts such as online hate speech environmental law biotechnology research in post conflict situations race and LGBT lawyers The handbook brings together younger contributors and some of the best known names in the socio legal field It offers a fresh perspective on the past present and future of sociolegal studies that will appeal to students and scholars with relevant interests in a range of subjects including law sociology and politics Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
