The Enclosed Garden and the Medieval Religious Imaginary Liz Herbert McAvoy, 2021 During the Middle Ages the arresting motif of the walled garden especially in its manifestation as a sacred or love inflected hortus conclusus was a common literary device Usually associated with the Virgin Mary or the Lady of popular romance it appeared in myriad literary and iconographic forms largely for its aesthetic decorative and symbolic qualities This study focuses on the more complex metaphysical functions and meanings attached to it between 1100 and 1400 and in particular those associated with the gardens of Eden and the Song of Songs Drawing on contemporary theories of gender gardens landscape and space it traces specifically the resurfacing and reworking of the idea and image of the enclosed garden within the writings of medieval holy women and other female coded texts In so doing it presents the enclosed garden as generator of a powerfully gendered hermeneutic imprint within the medieval religious imaginary indeed as an alternative language used to articulate those highly complex female coded approaches to God that came to dominate late medieval religiosity The book also responds to the eco turn in our own troubled times that attempts to return the non human to the centre of public and private discourse The texts under scrutiny therefore invite responses as both literary and garden spaces where form often reflects content and where their authors are also diligent gardeners the apocryphal Lives of Adam and Eve for example the horticulturally inflected Hortus Deliciarum of Herrad of Hohenburg and the green philosophies of Hildegard of Bingen's Scivias the visionary writings of Gertrude the Great and Mechthild of Hackeborn collaborating within their Helfta nunnery the Middle English poem Pearl and multiple reworkings of the deeply problematic and increasingly sexualized garden enclosing the biblical figure of Susanna Touching, Devotional Practices, and Visionary Experience in the Late Middle Ages David Carrillo-Rangel, Delfi I. Nieto-Isabel, Pablo Acosta-García, 2019-12-16 This book addresses the history of the senses in relation to affective piety and its role in devotional practices in the late Middle Ages focusing on the sense of touch It argues that only by deeply analysing this specific context of perception can the full significance of sensory religious experience in the Late Middle Ages be understood Considering the centrality of the body to medieval society and Christianity this collection explores a range of devotional practices mainly relating to the Passion of Christ and features manuscripts works of devotional literature art woodcuts and judicial records It brings together a multidisciplinary group of scholars to offer a variety of methodological approaches in order to understand how touch was encoded evoked and purposefully used The book further considers how touch was related to the medieval theory of perception examining its relation to the inner and outer senses through the eyes of visionaries mystics theologians and confessors not only as praxis but from different theoretical points of view While considered the most basic of spiritual experience the chapters in this book highlight the all pervasive presence of touch and the significance of affective piety to Late Medieval Christians Chapter 3 Drama Performance and Touch in the Medieval Convent and Beyond is Open Access under a CC BY 4 0 license at link springer com The Power of a Woman's Voice in Medieval and Early Modern Literatures Albrecht Classen, 2012-02-13 The study takes the received view among scholars that women in the Middle Ages were faced with sustained misogyny and that their voices were seldom heard in public and subjects it to a critical analysis The ten chapters deal with various aspects of the question and the voices of a variety of authors both female and male are heard The study opens with an enquiry into violence against women including in texts by male writers Hartmann von Aue Gottfried von Stra burg Wolfram von Eschenbach which indeed describe instances of violence but adopt an extremely critical stance towards them It then proceeds to show how women were able to develop an independent identity in various genres and could present themselves as authorities in the public eye Mystic texts by Hildegard of Bingen Marie de France and Margery Kempe the medieval conduct poem known as Die Winsbeckin the Devout Books of Sisters composed in convents in South West Germany but also quasi historical documents such as the memoirs of Helene Kottaner or Anna Weckerin s cookery book demonstrate that far more women were in the public gaze than had hitherto been assumed and that they possessed the self confidence to establish their positions with their intellectual and their literary achievements In the Land of Forgetfulness Wayne A. Ewing, 2024-07-25 In the Land of Forgetfulness meditatively reflects on dementia caregiving territory previously unexplored the uncanny parallel of the language used to describe dementia from the outside looking in with the language used by contemplatives and mystics to describe their spiritual formation from the inside looking outward The quiet passages are written in the interests of providing personal and professional dementia caregivers both solace and resource for the arduous exhausting and wearying journey with the Beloved into and through the land of forgetfulness The spiritually curious will also find the meditations to be provocative and sustaining The book is a companion volume to the author s previous multi award winning collection of reflections Tears in God s Bottle Imagination and Fantasy in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Time Albrecht Classen, 2020-08-24 The notions of other peoples cultures and natural conditions have always been determined by the epistemology of imagination and fantasy providing much freedom and creativity and yet have also created much fear anxiety and horror In this regard the pre modern world demonstrates striking parallels with our own insofar as the projections of alterity might be different by degrees but they are fundamentally the same by content Dreams illusions projections concepts hopes utopias dystopias desires and emotional attachments are as specific and impactful as the physical environment This volume thus sheds important light on the various lenses used by people in the Middle Ages and the early modern age as to how they came to terms with their perceptions images and notions Previous scholarship focused heavily on the history of mentality and history of emotions whereas here the history of pre modern imagination and fantasy assumes center position Imaginary things are taken seriously because medieval and early modern writers and artists clearly reveal their great significance in their works and their daily lives This approach facilitates a new deep structure analysis of pre modern culture

Persons and Immortality Kenneth A. Bryson,2022-02-07 The religious belief in personal immortality depends on the evidence for the existence of God an immaterial soul or mind and human nature We also need to support the view that God will always want to maintain relationships with us in the afterlife So immortality is a hard sell The suffering of innocent victims suggests that the existence of a loving God is not self evident Furthermore the soul s separation from the body at death raises the troublesome problem of personal identity How can that be me in the afterlife without my body The tradition from Plato to Descartes plants the seed of personal immortality in our rational nature But the deconstruction of human nature suggests that our species is not special Yet the belief in immortality lingers The first step in the reconstruction of personal immortality is found in systems theory or belief that the whole individuates the part This view suggests that we are the outcome of relationships rather than eternal natures entering into relationships We are the product of relationships taking place at three basic levels 1 In psyche where being human is the result of a tendency toward good and evil 2 As social entities where the existence of other human beings individuates us 3 In being's unconcealment where the intelligibility of things provides a foundation for epistemic life Heidegger's view of the nothing or horizon surrounding being allows us to identify God as creator entering into personal relationships with us a view supported by contemporary science That will be me in the afterlife if the relationships that individuate me in my pre mortem state continue into my post mortem existence The reversal in being's unconcealment suggests that human death continues the cycle of personal existence The

Pleiadian Agenda Barbara Hand Clow,1995-10-01 Noted astrologer and spiritual teacher Barbara Hand Clow channels the voice of Satya a Pleiadian goddess Satya describes the huge cosmic drama taking place simultaneously in nine dimensions with Earth as the chosen theater The Pleiadians are a group of enlightened beings who believe that the end of the Mayan Calendar will signal a critical leap in human evolution the Pleiadians will be there to guide us for that leap This shift is the coming Age of Light and the entry of our solar system into the Photon Band and the Age of Aquarius World of Patterns Rens Bod,2022-05-10 A comprehensive account of the methods of knowledge production throughout human history and across the globe The idea that the world can be understood through patterns and the principles that govern them is one of the most important human insights it may also be our greatest survival strategy Our search for patterns and principles began 40 000 years ago when striped patterns were engraved on mammoths bones to keep track of the moon's phases What routes did human knowledge take to grow from these humble beginnings through many detours and dead ends into modern understandings of nature and culture In this work of unprecedented scope Rens Bod removes the Western natural sciences from their often central role to bring us the first global history of human knowledge Having sketched the history of the humanities in his ground breaking A New History of the Humanities Bod now adopts a broader perspective stepping beyond classical antiquity back to the Stone Age to answer the question Where did our knowledge of the world today begin and how did it develop Drawing on developments from all five continents of the inhabited world World of Patterns offers startling connections Focusing on a dozen fields ranging from astronomy philology medicine law and mathematics to history botany and musicology Bod examines to what degree their progressions can be considered interwoven and to what degree we can speak of global trends In this pioneering work Bod aims to fulfill what he sees as the historian's responsibility to grant access to history's goldmine of ideas Bod discusses how inoculation was invented in China rather than Europe how many of the fundamental aspects of modern mathematics and astronomy were first discovered by the Indian Kerala school and how the study of law provided fundamental models for astronomy and linguistics from Roman to Ottoman times The book flies across continents and eras The result is an enlightening symphony a stirring chorus of human inquisitiveness extending through the ages Making Sense of "God" Norman Solomon,2023-05-04 All over the world people talk about God and argue endlessly about what God said and what if anything we should do about it Do they know what are they talking about Do they ever seriously consider what it might look like or feel like if God actually spoke to you How could you tell if someone said God spoke to them whether they were deluded bluffing or high on drugs The reflections dialogues and arguments in this book address such questions often with humor sometimes provocatively as when the author suggests the ancient gods have returned to invade the institutions of our great religions or when two spirits William and James viewing the world from afar voice their doubt as to whether the human species will ever attain the pinnacles of cooperation reason beauty and love Ancient texts from the Mayan Popol Vuh through the Bible to the Chinese classics are invoked and the discoveries of modern science from anthropology to zoology are brought into play as the reader is gently led to an appreciation of the role of religious language in modern society
