Introduction To Scholarship In Modern Languages And Literatures:

Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures David G. Nicholls, 2015-01-01 The third edition of the MLA's widely used Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures features sixteen new essays by leading scholars. Designed to highlight relations among languages and forms of discourse, the volume is organized into three sections. Understanding Language provides an overview of the field of linguistics with special attention to language acquisition and the social life of languages. Forming Texts offers tools for understanding how speakers and writers shape language; it examines scholarship in the distinct but interrelated fields of rhetoric, composition, and poetics. Reading Literature and Culture continues the work of the first two sections by introducing major areas of critical study. The nine essays in this section cover textual and historical scholarship, interpretation, comparative cultural and translation studies, and the interdisciplinary topics of gender, sexuality, race, and migrations, among others. As in previous volumes, an epilogue examines the role of the scholar in contemporary society. Each essay discusses the significance, underlying assumptions, and limits of an important field of inquiry; traces the historical development of its subject; introduces key terms; outlines modes of research now being pursued; postulates future developments; and provides a list of suggestions for further reading. This book will interest any member of the academic community seeking a review of recent scholarship, while it provides an indispensable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of modern languages and literatures.

Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures Joseph Gibaldi, 1992-01 In lively, informative discussions, fifteen distinguished scholars of language and literature address graduate students and advanced undergraduates. Each essay examines the significance, underlying assumptions, and limits of an important field in linguistics or literary studies; traces the historical development of its subject; introduces key terms; outlines modes of inquiry now being pursued; and predicts likely future developments. Introduction to Scholarship makes an excellent text in courses designed to acquaint upper-level students with the forms and practice of research and criticism in language and literature study. Frequent examples make the material readily accessible. Students will find the suggestions for further reading especially helpful.

Introduction to Scholarship in Modern Languages and Literatures, 1983 The Margins of the Text David C. Greetham, 1997 These essays challenge the positivist, patriarchal assumptions of earlier approaches to textual criticism. The Uses of Literary History Marshall Brown, 1995 In this collection, Marshall Brown has gathered essays by twenty leading literary scholars and critics to appraise the current state of literary history. Representing a range of disciplinary specialties and approaches, these essays illustrate and debate the issues that confront scholars working on the literary past and its relation to the present. Concerned with both the theory and practice of literary history, these provocative and sometimes combative pieces examine the writing of literary history, the nature of our interest in tradition, and the ways that literary works act in history. Among the numerous issues discussed are the uses of evidence, anachronism, the dialectic of texts and contexts, particularism, and the resistance to reductive understanding the construction of identities memory and the endurance of the past New historicism nationalism and gender studies appear in relation to more traditional issues such as textual editing taste and literary pedagogy Combining new and old perspectives The Uses of Literary History provides a broad view of the field Contributors Charles Altieri Jonathan Arac R Howard Bloch Richard Dellamora Paul H Fry Geoffrey Hartman Denis Hollier Donna Landry Lawrence Lipking Jerome J McGann Walter Benn Michaels Rukmini Bhaya Nair Virgil Nemoianu Annabel Patterson David Perkins Marjorie Perloff Meredith Anne Skura Doris Sommer Peter Stallybrass Susan Stewart Writing for Scholarly Publication Christine Pears Casanave, Stephanie Vandrick, 2003-10-17 This collection of first person essays by established authors provides a wealth of support and insights for new and experienced academic writers in language education and multicultural studies Although writing for publication is becoming increasingly important as these fields become both more professional and more competitive few scholars talk candidly about their experiences negotiating a piece of writing into print These essays will help researchers practitioners and graduate students expand their understanding of what it means professionally and personally to write for publication Carefully crafted focused and provocative the chapters in this volume document authors experiences with a range of practical political and personal issues in writing for publication Many portray the hardship and struggle that are not obvious in a finished piece of writing Readers are encouraged to resonate with the events and issues portrayed and to connect the narratives to their own lives Practical information such as contact information for journal and book publishers manuscript guidelines and useful books are included in appendices Although organized thematically the essays in Writing for Scholarly Publication Behind the Scenes in Language Education overlap in many ways as each author considers multiple issues In the Introduction the editors discuss key aspects of writing for scholarly publication such as writing as situated practice issues faced by newcomers the construction of personal identity through writing writing and transparency facets of the interactive nature of scholarly writing and intertwined political issues Part I focuses on issues and concerns faced by Newcomers In Part II Negotiating and Interacting the essays closely examine the interactions among authors editors manuscript reviewers and collaborators these interactions tend to be the least often discussed and these essays therefore offer readers fascinating insights into the sensitive social political and personal relationships among the many players in the scholarly writing game Identity Construction is addressed in Part III where authors share their experiences with and reflections on the ways that professional writing helps them construct their identities as writers and scholars The essays in Part IV From the Periphery help redefine what the notion of periphery might mean from a concept with a negative connotation of outsider to a positive connotation of active and unconventional participant Transforming Postsecondary Foreign Language Teaching in the United States Janet Swaffar, Per Urlaub, 2014-07-25 This volume addresses critical challenges and issues facing foreign language departments in colleges and universities across the U S It presents the insights of individuals who have built or are in the process of building foreign language curricula during a major transition period in postsecondary institutions The authors of this volume come from various language departments and institutional experience from across the U S including private and public postsecondary foreign language teachers researchers and administrators The chapters address issues and provide templates for curricular change at all learning levels The five sections of this book explore Changing Perceptions about Foreign Language Learning The Case for a Multi literacy FL Curriculum in Concept and Assessment Praxis Curricular Transformations Historical Hurdles and Faculty Heuristics Rethinking the Graduate Curriculum Foreign Languages Integration into the Interdisciplinary University This thought provoking and timely volume addresses the question of how historic and current disciplinary institutional and political conditions affect curricular transformation in collegiate foreign language programs Responding to the issues raised in the 2007 MLA Report this collection of nine essays presents a diversity of curricular models and approaches from different theoretical perspectives focusing on the integration of language and content The book will undoubtedly be of great interest to a broad audience such as foreign language educators curriculum designers administrators graduate students and researchers Nelleke Van Deusen Scholl Yale College CT USA

The Routledge Handbook of Translation History Christopher Rundle, 2021-09-30 The Routledge Handbook of Translation History presents the first comprehensive state of the art overview of this multi faceted disciplinary area and serves both as an introduction to carrying out research into translation and interpreting history and as a key point of reference for some of its main theoretical and methodological issues interdisciplinary approaches and research themes The Handbook brings together 30 eminent international scholars from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds offering examples of the most innovative research while representing a wide range of approaches themes and cultural contexts The Handbook is divided into four sections the first looks at some key methodological and theoretical approaches the second examines some of the key research areas that have developed an interdisciplinary dialogue with translation history the third looks at translation history from the perspective of specific cultural and religious perspectives and the fourth offers a selection of case studies on some of the key topics to have emerged in translation and interpreting history over the past 20 years This Handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation and interpreting history translation theory and related areas

Polygraphies Alison Rice, 2012 Coinciding with the fiftieth anniversary of Algeria s independence Polygraphies is significant and timely in its focus on autobiographical writings by seven of the most prominent francophone women writers from Algeria today including Ma ssa Bey H l ne Cixous Assia Djebar and Malika Mokeddem These authors witnessed both the before and after of the colonial experience in their land and their fictional and theoretical texts testify to the lasting impact of this history From a variety of personal perspectives and backgrounds each writer addresses linguistic religious and racial issues of crucial contemporary importance in Algeria Alison Rice engages their work from a range of disciplines striving both to heighten our sensitivity to the plurality inherent in their texts and to move beyond a true false dichotomy to a wealth of possible truths all communicated in writing

Professing Criticism John Guillory, 2022-12-30 A sociological history of literary study both as a discipline and as a profession As the humanities in higher education struggle with a labor crisis and with declining enrollments the travails of literary study are especially profound No scholar has analyzed the discipline s contradictions as authoritatively as John Guillory In this much anticipated new book Guillory shows how the study of literature has been organized both historically and in the modern era both before and after its professionalization The traces of this volatile history he reveals have solidified into permanent features of the university Literary study continues to be troubled by the relation between discipline and profession both in its ambivalence about the literary object and in its anxious embrace of a professionalism that betrays the discipline s relation to its amateur precursor criticism In a series of timely essays Professing Criticism offers an incisive explanation for the perennial churn in literary study the constant revolutionizing of its methods and objects and the permanent crisis of its professional identification It closes with a robust outline of five key rationales for literary study offering a credible account of the aims of the discipline and a reminder to the professoriate of what they already do and often do well

Global Matters Paul Jay, 2014-02-15 As the pace of cultural globalization accelerates the discipline of literary studies is undergoing dramatic transformation Scholars and critics focus increasingly on theorizing difference and complicating the geographical framework defining their approaches At the same time Anglophone literature is being created by a remarkably transnational multicultural group of writers exploring many of the same concerns including the intersecting effects of colonialism decolonization migration and globalization Paul Jay surveys these developments highlighting key debates within literary and cultural studies about the impact of globalization over the past two decades Global Matters provides a concise informative overview of theoretical critical and curricular issues driving the transnational turn in literary studies and how these issues have come to dominate contemporary global fiction as well Through close imaginative readings Jay analyzes the intersecting histories of colonialism decolonization and globalization engaged by an array of texts from Africa Europe South Asia and the Americas including Zadie Smith s White Teeth Junot Diaz s The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao Kiran Desai s The Inheritance of Loss Arundhati Roy s The God of Small Things Vikram Chandra s Red Earth and Pouring Rain Mohsin Hamid s Moth Smoke and Zakes Mda s The Heart of Redness A timely intervention in the most exciting debates within literary studies Global Matters is a comprehensive guide to the transnational nature of Anglophone literature today and its relationship to the globalization of Western culture A

Synoptic Hamlet: a Critical-Synoptic Edition of the Second Quarto and First Folio Texts of Hamlet Jesús

Tronch-Pérez, Jesús Tronch, 2002 A Synoptic Hamlet is an alternative response to the editorial problems of this multiple text play Like most critical editions it presents the early texts in a manner helpful to the general reader by modernizing spelling and punctuation and emending non sensical readings However it does not hide the text s diversity by exclusively selecting readings from either the Second Quarto or the First Folio in order to reconstruct a single reading version corresponding to the authentic Hamlet Rather it makes their significant variants immediately available in the line itself offering alternative editorial interpretations of identical or similar readings at certain points Thus the reader can have a direct appreciation of the divergence and similarity between these early texts from which the Hamlet of today is known Signature Pieces Peggy
