Experience Of Space The Privileged Role Of Spatial Prefixation In:

The Experience of Space Sarah Ellen Shull, 2000      The Experience of Space Sarah Shull, 2003 Cognitive linguistic research suggests that Slavic verbal prefix semantics may be described by assuming a spatial prototype from which non spatial abstract prefixes are derived metaphorically This research aims to evaluate the relation between spatial abstract uses and to determine if abstract uses do indeed involve primarily spatial metaphor      Beyond Aspectual Semantics Astrid De Wit, Frank Brisard, Carol Madden-Lombardi, Michael Meeuwis, Adeline Patard, 2024 This volume examines the multifaceted nature of grammatical aspect The chapters explore less typical contexts in which aspectual constructions are used and draw on data from a range of languages many of them understudied including several African languages and the sign language Kata Kolok      Spatial Concepts in Slavic Ljiljana Šarić, 2008 The focus of this book is how Slavic languages represent spatial relations and how spatial cognition and perception influence the understanding and linguistic coding of nonspatial domains Individual analyses concentrate on the semantics of selected prepositions and cases in Bosnian Croatian Serbian B C S providing a comparative perspective on other Slavic languages primarily Russian and Polish The opening analysis discusses the main theoretical notion metaphorical extension exemplifying the relation of spatial usages of linguistic items to non spatial usages This is followed by an analysis of the most basic spatial relations in ness and on ness The meaning network of prepositions equivalent to on and in helps explain the meaning of the cases they combine with the accusative and locative Another crucial spatial relation proximity is taken into account in the semantic analysis of the B C S prepositions kod and pri their Slavic equivalents and cases they combine with the genitive and locative The next chapter deals with the spatial meaning of the dative case examining dative s prepositional usages the bare directional dative in B C S and the semantic relation of the bare directional dative to other meaning domains of this case      Case Studies of Linguistic Representations of Motion Yo Matsumoto, 2025-02-17 How languages describe spatial motion events has been a hotly discussed topic in recent years in cognitive linguistics and linguistic typology This two volume book provides new descriptions and proposals on this fascinating topic based on a large scale experimental study of motion event descriptions in almost 20 languages across the globe as part of a research project conducted by NINJAL The chapters are based on papers presented at international conferences most at NINJAL international symposium held in January 2019 some at International Cognitive Linguistics Conferences in 2017 and 2019 This volume provides valuable descriptions of familiar and unfamiliar languages as well as insightful discussions of controversial issues based on those descriptions This book would interest students in linguistics and cognitive science in Asia Pacific Europe and North America      Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics as an Empirical Science Laura A. Janda, 2018-06-05 Ten Lectures on Cognitive Linguistics as an Empirical Science details the relationship between form and meaning in language especially at the systematic level of morphology The role of metaphor and metonymy in elaborating meaning are investigated as well as the structuring of semantics in terms of prototypes and radial categories Implications for cultural studies and pedagogical applications are explored The bulk of examples and data are drawn from the Slavic languages      The Cambridge Handbook of Slavic Linguistics Danko Šipka,Wayles Browne,2024-05-31 The linguistic study of the Slavic language family with its rich syntactic and phonological structures complex writing systems and diverse socio historical context is a rapidly growing research area Bringing together contributions from an international team of authors this Handbook provides a systematic review of cutting edge research in Slavic linguistics It covers phonetics and phonology morphology and syntax lexicology and sociolinguistics and presents multiple theoretical perspectives including synchronic and diachronic Each chapter addresses a particular linguistic feature pertinent to Slavic languages and covers the development of the feature from Proto Slavic to present day Slavic languages the main findings in historical and ongoing research devoted to the feature and a summary of the current state of the art in the field and what the directions of future research will be Comprehensive yet accessible it is essential reading for academic researchers and students in theoretical linguistics linguistic typology sociolinguistics and Slavic East European Studies

Motion and Space across Languages Iraide Ibarretxe-Antuñano,2017-08-15 This volume offers a unique combination of interdisciplinary research and a comprehensive overview of motion and space studies from a semantic typological perspective The chapters present cutting edge research covering central topics such as the status of semantic components in motion event descriptions and their role in typological variation the function of linguistic multimodal structures for the codification of motion the diachronic evolution of motion expressions and its effects on motion typologies the correspondences between physical and non physical fictive metaphorical motion and the impact of contexts and genres on the characterization and interpretation of motion events These issues are examined from a theoretical and applied linguistic perspective L1 L2 acquisition translation interpreting The analyses make use of diachronic and synchronic data collected by a range of methods elicitation experimentation and corpus research in more than fifteen languages All in all this book will be of great value to scholars and students interested in the expression of motion and space across languages      The Construction of Discourse as Verbal Interaction María de los Ángeles Gómez González,J. Lachlan Mackenzie,2018-09-20 This edited volume showcases new work on discourse analysis by big names in the field and promising early career researchers Arising from the latest in the series of IWoDA workshops in Santiago de Compostela it provides novel insights into both the explicit and the implicit characteristics of discourse as used in verbal interaction Discourse markers as their name indicates are among the explicit signals of coherence while discourse relations may be either explicit or implicit Similarly the discourse used for purposes of evaluation stance taking and interpersonal engagement is either overt or covert as is also true of the expression of emotions and empathy This in general terms is the challenging terrain into which the contributors to this volume have ventured The book combines theoretical issues with a practical orientation comparing languages analysing different registers studying the openings of Skype conversations and much more besides it will prove highly relevant for postgraduate and advanced practitioners of discourse analysis interaction studies semantics and pragmatics

Multiple Preverbs in Ancient Indo-European Languages Chiara Zanchi, 2019-08-26 The book investigates multiple preverbs PVs in some ancient IE languages Vedic Homeric Greek Old Church Slavic and Old Irish After an introduction it opens with the theoretical framework and a typologically oriented overview of PVs It then gives quantitative data about multiple PV composites and carries out philological formal semantic and syntactic analyses on them The comparison among these languages suggests that a process of accumulation lies behind multiple PV composites Also PV ordering is explained by different factors semantic solidarity between PVs and verbs PVs tendency to be specified by event participants PVs etymologies influence from other languages The book also contributes to casting light on the reasons for PVs grammaticalization and lexicalization These are two distinct reanalyses triggered by the same factor i e the mentioned semantic solidarity which makes PVs be felt as redundant They are thus reassigned salient pieces of information as actional markers grammaticalization or reinterpreted as part of the verb lexicalization

Russian Prepositional Phrases Marika Kalyuga, 2020-06-23 The book presents a comprehensive study of Russian prepositions with a focus on expressing spatial characteristics It primarily deals with how metaphorical and metonymical transfers motivate the use of Russian prepositional phrases explaining the collocations of prepositional phrases with verbs as a realisation of a conceptual metaphor or a metonymy The author confronts a problem that is attracting growing attention within present day linguistics the semantics of prepositions and cases The book seeks to clarify the conceptual motivations for the use of the combinations of Russian primary prepositional phrases as well as to demonstrate how their spatial meanings are extended into non spatial domains This book incorporates an analysis of a large number of items including 30 combinations of primary prepositions with cases An original contribution the book is of interest to teachers and students studying Slavic languages and to cognitive linguists

Harvard Ukrainian Studies ,2006      The role of prefixes in the formation of aspectuality Rosanna Benacchio, Alessio Muro, Svetlana Slavkova, 2017 One of the most widely debated topics in Slavic linguistics has always been verbal aspect which takes different forms because of the various grammaticalization paths which led to its emergence In the formation of the category of aspect in Slavic languages a key role was played by the morphological mechanism of prefixation a k a preverbation whereby the prefixes which originally performed the function of markers of adverbial meanings came to act as markers of boundedness This volume contains thirteen articles on the mechanism of prefixation written by leading international scholars in the field of verbal aspect Ancient and modern Slavic varieties as well as non Slavic and even non Indo European languages are represented making the volume an original and significant contribution to Slavic as well as typological linguistics

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2006-07      The Evolution of the System of Long and Short Adjectives in Old Russian Karin Larsen, 2005 The present study is a comprehensive analysis of the evolution of the system of long and short adjectives in Old Russian Old Russian chronicle texts display a substantially transformed system

no longer reflecting the opposition between definiteness and indefiniteness but governed by parameters of information structure     The Experience of Space Sarah Shull, 2003 A typology of Czech and Russian prepositions Source and Goal Prefixes in Czech and Russian Path Prefixes in Czech and Russian The prefix no po Conclusion spatial and abstract prefixes Linguistics ,2003     Russian Second-language Textbooks and Identity in the Universe of Discourse Olga Mladenova, 2004 This book provides an overview of the changes of the Second Language Learning discursive formation and the Identity discursive formation in Russian history It proposes an explanatory model in which small scale linguistic detail is joined with larger scale language units in order to illuminate matters of cultural importance in their linguistic guise
