Interior Landscapes Stefano Corbo, 2016-06-30 The tension between interior and exterior has always been present in architecture differently articulated over the centuries and expressed through several means of representation Contemporary architecture is often characterized by the total interpenetration of interior and exterior configurations often the differentiation between these two dialectical poles has become undistinguishable boundaries blurry and the result of any design process is a hybrid product based on the superposition of different and heterogeneous layers Starting from the 18th century Interior Landscapes describes the principles of the relationship between interior and exterior landscapes in architecture It unveils the invariant forms that have crossed the History of Architecture and which have periodically re emerged to shape contemporary design episodes By borrowing different interpretative elements drawings photographs illustrations Interior Landscapes is configured as a visual atlas aimed to demonstrate how through the contamination of interior and exterior always new architectural insights emerge Comprising detailed essays that contribute insightfully to the international discourse Stefano Corbo unpacks the general re organization of topics internal to the territory of architecture This book distinguishes itself with almost 70 unique plates of etchings sketches illustrations and photographs each linking carefully and directly the visual with the theory providing unique entry points and examinations of this text s fascinating observations
