Communication in International Development Florencia Enghel, Jessica Noske-Turner, 2018-05-23 International development stakeholders harness communication with two broad purposes to do good via communication for development and media assistance and to communicate do gooding via public relations and information This book unpacks various ways in which different efforts to do good are combined with attempts to look good be it in the eyes of donor constituencies at large or among more specific audiences such as journalists or intra agency decision makers Development communication studies have tended to focus primarily on interventions aimed at doing good among recipients at the expense of examining the extent to which promotion and reputation management are elements of those practices This book establishes the importance of interrogating the tensions generated by overlapping uses of communication to do good and to look good within international development cooperation The book is a critical text for students and scholars in the areas of development communication and international
