The Cultural Shaping of Accounting Ahmed Riahi-Belkaoui, 1995-05-30 An important but usually overlooked variable that affects the process and product of accounting is culture Consensus on what constitutes proper accounting methods and behavior varies among countries and it is this cultural relativism and its impacts that Riahi Belkaoui explores here His purpose is to elaborate on the nature of cultural relativism in accounting and in the interpretation of accounting data He thus shows the way culture determines accounting judgments and explains the intercultural differences in the perception of accounting concepts and in the field's self regulation internationally His point is that accounting is actually a cultural rather than a technical process and that professionals as well as academics should be aware of this A challenging useful discussion for teachers graduate students and accounting practitioners particularly in international settings

Achieving Global Convergence of Financial Reporting Standards Christopher Patel, Parmod Chand, 2011-12-15 This research monograph examines whether International Financial Reporting Standards IFRS are interpreted and applied in a consistent manner within and across countries and questions the implicit assumption that accounting convergence will automatically lead to comparability in financial reporting

The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education Richard M.S. Wilson, 2014-04-29 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education training undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students to the accounting profession and to stakeholders in the wider community This book's overriding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education training and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain including emerging and cutting edge issues as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change whether in the field of practice on the one hand e.g. increased regulation globalisation risk and complexity or from developments in the academy on the other e.g. pressures to embed technology within the classroom or to meet accreditation criteria on the other Thirty chapters written by leading scholars from around the world are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes including student curriculum pedagogic and assessment considerations International Business Mohammad Reza Vaghefi, Steven K.
