Essential Goals in World Politics Jisi Wang, 2021-05-04 This book presents a unique effort to apply political philosophy to realities of the world Among numerous objectives that states politicians and individuals try to reach some are vague like power interest and happiness Some others like democracy order and rule of law are ways and means to serve more fundamental purposes While national reunification is seen as prerequisite on the political agenda of the People's Republic of China and both South and North Korea and religious purity is regarded as essential to many Muslim communities these are not universally accepted principal goals in the world. The author identifies and defines security, wealth, faith, justice and freedom as five ultimate goals in world politics and explains why they are central. Without jargons and using many cases in China and other countries, the author illustrates that different countries at different times have varied priorities in their national politics but they must provide security, sustain economic growth, set up a value system, maintain social justice and secure personal freedom for their citizens. Although the world today has been relatively peaceful and accumulated much more wealth as compared to the past centuries, vacuums of faith and morality, conflicting beliefs and lack of social justice are threatening mankind. In theory, the five ultimate goals should be reached simultaneously and reinforce each other. However, in practice, they are often in contradiction. For example, national security might be strengthened at the expense of prosperity and industrialization for economic growth has sacrificed nontraditional security interests such as the environment. The accumulation of wealth often results in its unequal distribution and grievances about injustice and freedom and equality are regarded by some political thinkers as natural enemies to each other. A virtuous state should be able to reach all the five goals while a bad state may not have even one of them. Looking around the world today, Denmark in Europe and Japan in Asia are closer to a virtuous state than most other countries despite their own deficiencies but they are generally homogeneous in terms of ethnicity and culture. Singapore with its ethnic diversity has to limit freedom to obtain other goals. This book compares the development paths of China, the United States and some other countries to demonstrate their advantages and disadvantages in becoming a better polity.

Fundamentals of International Business

Michael R. Czinkota, Ilkka A. Ronkainen, Michael H. Moffett, Siah Hwee Ang, Daya Shanker, Adlina Ahmad, Peter Lok, 2008-07-02. Fundamentals of International Business 1st Asia Pacific Edition is an introductory international business text ideal for use at the undergraduate level. While providing a broad overview of international business as it is conducted around the globe, a key differentiating theme of the text is its focus on the rapidly growing Asian region. This focus is achieved through analysing the increasing efforts of Australian, New Zealand, European and United States firms in conducting international business in these Asian markets as well as the activities of organisations from Australia, New Zealand and Asian countries expanding into the lucrative markets of the United States and Europe. Today's fast-paced competitive and increasingly globalised business environment presents both new challenges and opportunities for international business managers. Fundamentals of International Business 1st Asia Pacific Edition provides readers with the key knowledge and practical skills necessary to successfully conduct international business in our region, namely: An appreciation of the cultural differences of markets in the Asia Pacific and how to deal with this diversity; Broad understanding of the range of economic, political and legal issues that can affect the success of international business ventures; Literacy in financial terminology and awareness of the impact of international financial markets and instruments on business operations. Information on government assistance programs for export development An evaluation of alternative market entry strategies International trade trends An outline of the international marketing supply chain and human resource management issues likely to be encountered This visually stunning full colour text makes extensive use of maps tables graphs and charts to present key concepts and information clearly and concisely Its solid theoretical base coupled with a wealth of practical examples and activities makes it the ideal resource for contemporary international business managers students and lecturers in the Asia Pacific region

The International Hospitality Business Lawrence Yu,1999 Yu tourism and hospitality management George Washington University examines the social cultural political and economic environment within which international hospitality operations compete He covers a broad range of policy issues in operating hotels and restaurants in foreign countries including development strategies and organizational structures He also discusses managerial functions such as accounting finance tax law marketing and human resources The book is intended for both students and managers Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Tucholka,A. Blöchlinger,J. Widmer,R. Schmidt,2008-06-24 Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject Tourism Miscellaneous grade 1 0 Stralsund University of Applied Sciences FH Stralsund in Zusammenarbeit mit Universit de Haute Alsace Mulhouse language English abstract Diversity among employees in terms of cultural background leads to a richer more sophisticated and more effective corporate environment World has changed completely and is still on a way of continuous transformation Globalisation and international business are keywords nowadays Introduction of Intercultural Management and International Human Resource Management has become inevitable the last few years Companies have to think and act in an international way In order to be successful it is necessary to enter new markets and to make international contacts With intercultural well trained leaders a company gets competitive advantage global leaders know the customs culture and etiquette of a foreign country and understand the nuances of business practices in those areas Expatriation of executives or managers has become an important part of business life But this mobility represents a real challenge for multinational organisations In most cases the implementation and performance of Intercultural Management and International Human Resource Management cannot be made without difficulties Expatriation failures deterioration of performance social or personal problems are just some examples of intercultural difficulties One tool to solve or avoid such problems is Intercultural Training which consists of two parts preparation for expatriates who are going to leave the home country and training for repatriates who come back to the home country after a foreign assignment The following seminar paper focuses on the repatriation This part of Intercultural Training is often badly treated and lots of companies do not pay attention to it If they do their programmes are often incomplete although satisfying reintegration is a key factor for success or failure of the foreign assignment In a first theoretical part general facts about repatriation its necessity and meaning will be pointed out It follows a practical part that should underline the company's behaviour towards repatriation. Therefore a questionnaire was made which can be found in the appendix. Unfortunately only few companies responded so that this survey is not representative. Nevertheless it gives an interesting insight into company's practices of Intercultural Training. Together with the theoretical facts it allows to draw a general conclusion about repatriation programmes.
