International Film Guide 1982 Peter Cowie, 1981      International Film Guide, 1989      Austrian Cinema Robert von Dassanowsky, 2015-08-01 Austria the multicultural crossroad of the European continent has been the genesis of many artistic concepts Just as late 19th and early 20th century Austria gave influential modernism to the world in the fields of medicine urban planning architecture design literature music and theater so its film industry created a significant national cinema that seeded talents and concepts internationally Nevertheless the value of Austrian cinema to international film has been long obscured Austria's important bond with American film is also underappreciated because of the lack of accessible English language scholarship on the early careers of Austro Hollywood artists and on influential developments in Austrian film history This first comprehensive English survey of Austrian film introduces more than a century of cinema following the development of the industry chronologically through the nation's various transformations since 1895 Important industry movements genres and films are highlighted with sociopolitical cultural and aesthetic details An analysis of the economic trends that have influenced Austrian film is also provided The survey considers the directors actors producers writers cinematographers editors composers and other film artists who have been essential to the development and influence of Austrian cinema The closing chapter anticipates new faces of the Austrian film industry in the 21st century      Mexican Cinema Carl J. Mora, 2015-05-07 Mexican filmmaking is traced from its early beginnings in 1896 to the present in this book Of particular interest are the great changes from 1990 to 2004 the confluence of talented and dedicated filmmakers important changes in Mexican cinematic infrastructure and significant social and cultural transformations From Nicolas Echevarria's Cabeza de Vaca 1991 to the 1992 releases of Hellboy director Guillermo del Toro's Cronos and Alfonso Arau's Como agua para chocolate to Alfonso Cuarón's Y tu mamá también 2001 this work provides a close look at Mexican films that received international commercial success and critical acclaim and put Mexico on the cinematic world map Arranged chronologically this edition originally published in 2005 covers the entire scope of Mexican cinema The main films and their directors are discussed together with the political social and economic contexts of the times      International Film Guide 1985 Peter Cowie, Derek Elley, 1984      The Art and Politics of Bolivian Cinema Sánchez-H., José, 1999-08-05 In Bolivia politics have always shaped art particularly when it comes to film This book presents Bolivia's most significant filmmakers largely in their own words Since 1981 José Sánchez H. has personally interviewed most of the filmmakers featured and has consistently maintained a commitment to rigorous scholarship and attention to new developments One of the first studies in English on Bolivian cinema this work provides the non-Bolivian with important information about Bolivian cinema and its cultural and political context The chapters flow from a broad profile of the country and its history through a chronological presentation of the history of Bolivian cinema to careful treatments of important films filmmakers and periods in Bolivian film history Filmmakers treated include Antonio Eguino Jorge Sanjines Jorge Ruiz Marcos Loayza Paolo Agazzi and Oscar Soria

Sanchez H includes information about every aspect of the cinema including the music Appendixes include a chronology of the films and political events a list of awards won by Bolivian films and useful addresses Variety International Film Guide, 2003 Third World Film Making and the West Roy Armes, 1987-07-29 This is the fully comprehensive account of film production in the Third World Although they are usually ignored or marginalized in histories of world cinema Third World countries now produce well over half of the world's films Armes places this huge output in a wider context examining the forces of tradition and colonialism that have shaped the Third World In addition to charting filmic developments too little known in Europe and the United States the book calls into question many of the assumptions that shape conventional film history It stresses the role of distribution in defining and limiting production queries simplistic notions of independent national cinemas and points to the need to take social and economic factors into account when considering authorship in cinema Above all the book celebrates the achievements of a mass of largely unknown film makers who in difficult circumstances have distinctively expanded our definitions of the art of cinema
