Introductory Business Statistics With Microsoft Excel:

Introductory Business Statistics with Microsoft Excel Andrew J. Robson, 1999 Learning Business Statistics with Microsoft Excel 97 John L. Neufeld, 1998 This is a supplemental text intended to accompany an introductory statistics textbook. Each chapter is organized around a particular statistical concept or technique. Some of the chapters contain experiments designed to permit students to explore statistical concepts by using the computer to perform experiments. The use of Excel to conduct established analytical procedures is fully covered. Learning Business Statistics with Microsoft Excel 2000 John L. Neufeld, 2001 Business statistics students at both the undergraduate and MBA level who are not experts in the use of Excel. This text is designed to reflect the important changes in the teaching of statistics brought about by the usage of computers. It takes advantage of the ability of computers to help students understand statistical methods. It uses a straightforward step by step approach and uses the computer both as a tool for solving statistical problems and as a pedagogical device to help students understand difficult concepts. Excel usage has been simplified. Less emphasis on formatting. More emphasis on helping students get the big picture. Excel is used more as a scratch pad. In the revision the approach has moved from creating worksheets which automatically solve problems to using Excel as a scratch pad for each problem that arises. All screen captures updated to Excel 2000 and all the material has been tested on Excel 2000. Step by step instructions. Detailed instructions are given as each new topic is introduced. As students become more familiar with the topics less coaching is provided. Computer demonstrations reinforce student understanding. Students are directed to use Excel.
