Inventing Europe Idea Identity Reality:

Inventing Europe G. Delanty, 1995-04-19 A critical analysis of the idea of Europe and the limits and possibilities of a European identity in the broader perspective of history This book argues that the crucial issue is the articulation of a new identity that is based on post national citizenship rather than ambivalent notions of unity Inventing Europe Gerard Delanty, 1995 Inventing Europe, 2012 Inventing Europe NA NA, Gerard Delanty, 1995-07-13 Imagining Frontiers, Contesting Identities Steven G. Ellis, Lud'a Klusáková, 2007 Scottish Nationalism and the Idea of Europe Atsuko Ichijo, 2004-08-02 Scottish Nationalism and the Idea of Europe offers fresh insights into the pro European dimension of Scottish nationalism and its implications for the UK Constructing Europe's Identity Lars-Erik Cederman, 2001 The authors assess not only the benefits but also the costs of attempts to assert a European identity Referring to debates about the respective merits of deepening and widening they address the equally important associated tradeoffs between exclusion and dilution they point to the risks on the one hand of a Europe that excludes foreign goods immigrants and entire countries and on the other of an unfocused definition of Europe that may dilute the very values that a European identity is intended to protect Europe as Ideological Resource Marta Lorimer, 2024-03-13 How did the far right go from illegitimate fringe to contender for public office and did Europe have anything to do with it Europe as Ideological Resource argues that European integration functioned as an ideological resource for far right parties looking for legitimation because it enabled them to refashion their political message in a more acceptable form while maintaining the allegiance of their existing supporters Drawing on the qualitative analysis of over 400 documents produced by the Movimento Sociale Italiano Alleanza Nazionale in Italy 1978 2009 and the Rassemblement National in France 1978 2019 Lorimer identifies the core concepts and discourses the parties used to talk about Europe and the legitimation mechanisms associated with them The book's narrative is developed through the analysis of four key concepts the concept of identity which enabled the parties to transnationalise their message and create a positive association between themselves and Europe the concept of liberty which made it possible for them to foster an image of actors holding uncontroversial positions the concept of threat which helped them promote the idea that desperate times call for desperate measures and the concept of national interest which helped them stress commitment to core principles in their ideology Ever since its re emergence on the European political scene scholars have sought to explain the mainstreaming of the far right By understanding how the process of European integration facilitated its transition from the margins to the mainstream this book adds one piece to the puzzle of far right legitimation

Multiplicity of Nationalism in Contemporary Europe Ireneusz Paweł Karolewski, Andrzej Marcin Suszycki, 2010-01-01 Nationalism remains one of the key political societal and socio psychological phenomena in contemporary Europe The international scholars assembled in this edited collection suggest that the use of three perspectives supranationalism boundary making nationalism and regional nationalism may be promising as an explanatory framework for the analysis of nationalism in Europe The volume distances itself from older dichotomies such as civic and ethnic nationalism and questions the one sided normativity of nationalism in particular regarding the concept of liberal nationalism It argues that a promising approach to contemporary nationalism should reflect the multiplicity of nationalism

European Identity Revisited Viktoria Kaina,Ireneusz Pawel Karolewski,Sebastian Kuhn,2015-12-14 It has been argued that the emergence of a European collective identity would help overcome growing disparity caused by the increasing diversity of today s European Union with 28 member states and more than 500 million people Research on European integration is facing the pressing question of what holds Europe together in times of crisis growing distributional conflict and instability in its neighbourhood This book departs from the ideas of group cohesion in the EU and reflects on the newest dynamics and practices of European identity Whilst applying innovative qualitative quantitative and experimental research methods and an interdisciplinary approach this volume looks at a variety of issues such as European citizenship mobility of European citizens space based identities dual identities student identity and value sharing In doing so this volume presents new perspectives on this complex and dynamic subject and points to potential solutions both in the academic discourse and the political practice of the EU This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of European integration European studies international relations citizenship studies political sociology as well as more broadly in the social sciences

Negotiating Europe O. Calligaro,2013-12-18 The book explores the promotion of Europeanness which aims to arouse feelings of belonging to the European Union It demonstrates that the promotion of Europeanness at the EU level does not constitute an overarching identity policy that imposes a homogenous interpretation of European identity Rather it is a process of negotiation in which various entrepreneurs of Europeanness within and outside the EU institutions invent and communicate representations of Europe Both the negotiation and the multilayered representations of Europe that it produces are investigated through three case studies the academia and the historians European heritage and the iconography of the euro

The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema Temenuga Trifonova,2020-07-09 The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema explores contemporary debates around the concepts of Europe and European identity through an examination of recent European films dealing with various aspects of globalization the refugee crisis labour migration the resurgence of nationalism and ethnic violence neoliberalism post colonialism with a particular attention to the figure of the migrant and the ways in which this figure challenges us to rethink Europe and its core Enlightenment values citizenship justice ethics liberty tolerance and hospitality in a post national context of ephemerality volatility and contingency that finds people desperately looking for firmer markers of identity The book argues that a compelling case can be made for re orienting the study of contemporary European cinema around the figure of the migrant viewed both as a symbolic figure representing post national citizenship urbanization the gap between ethics and justice and as a figure occupying an increasingly central place in European cinema in general rather than only in what is usually called migrant and diasporic cinema By drawing attention to the structural and affective affinities between the experience of migrants and non migrants Europeans and non Europeans Trifonova shows that it is becoming increasingly difficult to separate stories about migration from stories about life under neoliberalism in general
