Left Handed Dreams:

Left-Handed Dreams Francesca Duranti, 2013-06-25 An Italian professor seeks to understand her own mind and heart An elegant and engaging writer who treats serious questions with wit and grace The Wall Street Journal Martina Satriano an Italian professor of cultural history at New York University observes the great American city with admiration and gratitude but from an outsider's perspective She is a sublime cook she loves her job she has occasional erotic adventures but Martina is a lonely woman whose real passion is a machine that she has built to assist in her cultural research and which she uses to record her dreams These recordings infused with the memories of her childhood and early career begin to reveal a tangle of second guesses and insecurities about the path she has chosen Then when she returns briefly to Italy to attend her mother's funeral Martina discovers that she may have been born left handed but was trained to be right handed Back in New York struggling with this new revelation this possible suppression of an identity she meets a high culture Italian official who tempts her to return to Italy with a prestigious job offer While weighing her options she quite unexpectedly meets up again with her first great love a man she has not seen in more than twenty years Just as in Duranti's internationally acclaimed best selling The House on Moon Lake the question of destiny is at the heart of Left Handed Dreams Can Martina resist the urge to treat life as a puzzle that she can somehow deconstruct and solve Indeed by the end of this taut and resonant novel this expatriate must learn the essence of natalezza an Italian word that means a way of being of feeling without always being aware of one's being Her story infused with all the luscious food she prepares and enjoys with the men who come into her life makes this a delectable provocative read Right Hand, Left Hand I. C. McManus, 2002 McManus considers evidence from anthropology particle physics the history of medicine and the notebooks of Leonardo to answer questions like Why are most people right handed Why does European writing go from left to right while Arabic and Hebrew go from right to left And how do we know that Jack the Ripper was left handed Encyclopedia of Sleep and Dreams Deirdre Barrett, Patrick McNamara Ph.D., 2012-06-12 This fascinating reference covers the major topics concerning dreaming and sleep based on the latest empirical evidence from sleep research as well as drawn from a broad range of dream related interdisciplinary contexts including history and anthropology While many books have been written on the subject of sleep and dreams no other resource has provided the depth of empirical evidence concerning sleep and dream phenomena nor revealed the latest scientific breakthroughs in the field Encyclopedia of Sleep and Dreams The Evolution Function Nature and Mysteries of Slumber explores the evolution nature and functions of sleep and dreams The encyclopedia is divided into two volumes and is arranged alphabetically by entry Topics include nightmares and their treatment how sleep and dreams change across the lifetime and the new field of evolution of sleep and dream While this book includes ample material on the science of sleep and dreams content is drawn from a broad range of disciplinary contexts including history and anthropology A to Z of Dreams and Their Meanings Gordon Cotter, 2011-05-05 Synopsis of myself Gordon Cotter Male DOB 11 05 1934 in

Birmingham England In September 1939 I and thousands of children was evacuated from inner cities to rural Britain this was to escape the onset of heavy bombing by German Luftwaffe planes As war had been declared on Germany I was sent to a small community in Northern Scotland There was no communication in those days Only things we heard was from the Radio It was put on twice a day The local community was made up of farmers and some of the wives went to the local Landowner as maids and cleaning staff I was 5 years old and it took time for me to be accepted I went to the local schoolhouse three times a week for lessons The rest of the time I was expected to help around the farmyard I began to notice that a lot of women often came to the house and was taken into the parlour sometimes I would sneak into here and watch and listen to the women talking After a while I got braver and just sat in a corner whilst the women were there It began to come to me that these women were telling my Grandma about their dreams When they were finished they gave my granda some eggs or butter Now I understand it was payment As time went on I began to understand more of what granda was saying to these women I became interested in it I still did not know what it was about Years past and when I was about eleven or twelve The was came to an end I had settled into life in Scotland and quite enjoyed the life It was then that I was told about me being an Evacuee and I could return to my original home if I wanted to I did not remember any of it so I said that I wanted to stay Years Later I regretted this action I had become very close to my grandmother during this time and she and I often talked about the dreams and she said that I did seem to have the gift I had by this time began to understand just what she meant by the various talks with these women I was eventually allowed to sit in on the talks and sometimes I was asked for my opinion In later life my granda became poorly and she showed me a lot of her private books that she had written down her musings on all of the subjects within dreams I was asked to take over from her for the readings When she died I was asked if I wanted anything of hers I asked for the books that she had written down her thoughts on the subject I moved back to Birmingham and the books lay in my attic for years In 1972 I came across them and again began to get an interest in the interpretation of dreams I got out grandma s books and decided to bring them up to date It has taken my since then to complete them
