Graphic Design in Museum Exhibitions Jona Piehl, 2020-12-30 Graphic Design in Museum Exhibitions offers an in depth analysis of the multiple roles that exhibition graphics perform in contemporary museums and exhibitions Drawing on a study of exhibitions that took place at the Victoria and Albert Museum London the Museum of London and the Haus der Geschichte Bonn Piehl brings together approaches from museum studies design practice and narrative theory to examine museum exhibitions as multimodal narratives in which graphics account for one set of narrative resources The analysis underlines the importance of aspects such as accessibility and at the same time problematises conceptualisations that focus only on the effectiveness of graphics as display device by drawing attention to the contributions that graphics make towards the content on display and to the ways in which it is experienced in the museum space Graphic Design in Museum Exhibitions argues for a critical reading of and engagement with exhibition graphic design as part of wider debates around meaning making in museum studies and exhibition making practice As such the book should be essential reading for academics researchers and students from the fields of museum and design studies Practitioners such as exhibition designers graphic designers curators and other exhibition makers should also find much to interest them in the book Design

Great Graphics on a Budget Simon Dixon,2003

Thinking through Graphic Design History Aggie Toppins,2025-01-23 Graphic design has a paradoxical relationship to history While it claims to promote originality and innovation ideas that emphasize the new and unique design practice is deeply embedded in previous ideals Too often design students encounter the past in brief visual impressions which seduce them to imitate form rather than engage with historical contexts Even though it has claimed to be objective and even comprehensive graphic design history has focused largely on individual careers and Eurocentric achievements Yet the past swells with untapped potential Graphic design history can serve the field of today and tomorrow but its narratives require updates History like design is always changing and like design history is driven by present day questions This book shows how students and practicing designers can enrich their work by thinking historically about design With thoughtful analyses stimulating creative prompts inspiring case studies and perspectives from designers all over the world this book challenges our traditional understanding of graphic design history and the very notion of the design canon offering ways to shape socially engaged critical practices

Museum Making Suzanne Macleod, Laura Hourston Hanks, Jonathan Hale, 2012-03-15 Over recent decades many museums galleries and historic sites around the world have enjoyed an unprecedented level of large scale investment in their capital infrastructure in building refurbishments and new gallery displays This period has also seen the creation of countless new purpose built museums and galleries suggesting a fundamental re evaluation of the processes of designing and shaping of museums Museum Making Narratives Architectures Exhibitions examines this re making by exploring the inherently spatial character of narrative in the museum and its potential to connect on the deepest levels with human perception and imagination Through this uniting theme the chapters explore the power of narratives as structured experiences unfolding in space and time as well as the use of theatre film and other technologies of storytelling by contemporary museum makers to generate meaningful and it is argued here highly effective and affective museum spaces Contributions by an internationally diverse group of museum and heritage professionals exhibition designers architects and artists with academics from a range of disciplines including museum studies theatre studies architecture design and history cut across traditional boundaries including the historical and the contemporary and together explore the various roles and functions of narrative as a mechanism for the creation of engaging and meaningful interpretive environments
