White, 2024-10-28 The essays in this volume discuss feuding and peacemaking in France during a period extending from the mid 10th to the early 12th century They treat various aspects of so called dispute processing a term coined by legal anthropologists to refer to the political processes and discursive practices through which conflict is mediated politically socially legally and culturally Each of the essays can be read both as one element in a larger critique of the theory that a feudal revolution in c 1000 initiated a century long era of feudal anarchy in France and as a study on a particular topic in medieval European legal and political history These include feuding violence the emotional dimensions of conflicts among elites the role of norms and normative argument in disputes the uses of unilateral ordeals and judicial duels in litigation and alternative strategies for terminating disputes

R. Hiatt, 1996-06-27 In the debates which followed the publication of Darwin's book on the origin of species Australian Aborigines were used as the ideal exemplars of early human forms by European scholars bent on discovering the origins of social institutions The Aborigines have consequently featured as the crucial case study for generations of social theorists including Tylor Frazer Durkheim and Freud Arguments about Aborigines reviews a range of controversies such as family life religion and ritual and land rights which marked the formative period of British social anthropology Professor Hiatt also examines how changes in Aboriginal practices have affected scholarly debate This elegant 1996 book will provide a valuable introduction to aboriginal ethnography for students scholars and the general reader It is also a shrewd and stimulating history of the great debates of anthropology seen through the prism of Aboriginal studies Discovering Religious History in the Modern Age Hans Kippenberg, 2002-03-03 Kippenberg is a fine scholar of real integrity His book is a readable and practical introduction to the rise of the study of religion and culture in Europe as well as an intriguing piece of cultural theorizing It is serious without being pompous intelligent without being at all impenetrable and fresh without being strange Ivan Strenski University of California Riverside Navigating World History P. Conceptualizing Society Adam Kuper, 2002-03-11 The social anthropologists represented in this volume share the view that together ethnography and theoretically informed comparison constitute a single plausible enterprise and they reject both the postmodernist criticism of ethnography as epistemologically problematic and the opposing view that no theory could possibly do justice to the insights and complex descriptions of ethnography In this volume the first papers taken from the first conference of the newly formed European Association of Social Anthropologists the contributors discuss the various models at the disposal of the modern ethnographer Their concerns range through structuralism postmodernism and world systems theory and the volume as a whole offers a lively account of the state of general theory in social anthropology today

After Society João Pina-Cabral, Glenn Bowman, 2020-07-01 In the early 1980s when the contributors to this volume completed their graduate training at Oxford the conditions of practice in anthropology were
