Knoetze, Alfred R. Brunsdon, 2022-02-07 The higher education landscape has arguably become one of the most arduous to traverse More so in the African context where a host of variables continuously challenge educators to reflect critically on their philosophies and practices as they engage an ever changing audience In this book a critical engagement with theological education in Africa is offered As the book originates from South Africa it is presented as a South African perspective although contributors are situated across the African continent and abroad The common denominator is that all contributors are in some way or another invested in theological education in Africa The main contribution of this collaborative work is to be sought in the insights it offers on four main areas of theological education A historical and current orientation on theological education in Africa some paradigm shifts in theological education in Africa ministerial formation needs versus theological education challenges and a critical reflection on elective models and methods The book presents the original and innovative research of scholars for fellow scholars involved in theological higher education as it is grounded in the respective fields of interest of each contributor It contributes to a better understanding of the complex African theological higher education landscape that is also mindful of post COVID 19 realities Methodologically the work draws on a combination of methods including literature studies empirical work and in some cases sectional

Community involvement in heritage Koen Van Balen, Aziliz Vandesande, 2015-01-27 The value of heritage for society is increasingly underscored This goes hand in hand with a growing interest for local communities involvement in heritage management plans Although this shift in discourse is acknowledged its practical implementation seems often too ambitious and not easy to apply Therefore the Raymond Lemaire International Centre for Conservation RLICC University of Leuven considered community participation in valuing and managing heritage a relevant and timely topic for its annual international conference the Thematic Week This volume reports on the lectures and fruitful debates dedicated to this theme during the 2014 Thematic Week which took place January 22nd 24th The conference entailed an integral and holistic approach towards community participation Focusing traditionally on the conservation of the historic urban environment and immovable heritage the RLICC took the opportunity to involve both the intangible and movable heritage fields which have a more apparent relation with community participation in managing heritage The contributions by different international authors including theoretical reflections policy discourse analyses and practical case studies show that a balanced approach is needed They evidence that more research is required on the success and on failure factors associated with community participation in heritage preservation and management projects It appears that taking full advantage of public participation requires considering heritage as an economic social and intellectual resource for local communities These added benefits can enhance the value a community attributes to heritage and encourages them to maintain it This publication was developed in context of the UNESCO Chair on Preventive Conservation Monitoring and Maintenance of Monuments and Sites PRECOM3OS established at the RLICC in collaboration with Monumentenwacht Vlaanderen and the Faculty of Architecture of the University of Cuenca in Ecuador and financially supported by the Janssen Fund for Preventive Conservation Spirit Wives and Church Mothers Christy Schuetze, 2023-08-22 Since the beginning of the twenty first century Pentecostal churches have proliferated around the world Expanding at astonishing rates in Africa Latin America and Asia Pentecostalism has shifted Christianity's global center of gravity from the West to the global South In Spirit Wives and Church Mothers Christy Schuetze explores how the growth of Pentecostal churches in central Mozambique occurred alongside a striking increase in so called traditional religious practices such as spirit mediumship and spiritual healing She follows women who comprise the majority both of participants in Pentecostal churches and of initiates to new forms of mediumship through two emergent rival healing networks Drawing on years of field research Schuetze offers a richly drawn ethnographic analysis of these important religious transformations in the lives of female participants Illustrating how economic and social context shapes the possibilities for and forms of women's empowerment Spirit Wives and Church Mothers intervenes in scholarly debates about the nature of agency and challenges universalist Western feminist assumptions about the form of women's liberation
