Legal And Scientific Aspects Of Continental Shelf Limits:

Legal and Scientific Aspects of Continental Shelf Limits Myron H. Nordquist, John Norton Moore, Tomas Heidar, 2004-02-01 The legal and scientific aspects of continental shelf limits are of growing importance to those concerned with the international law of the sea. It is rare that the current thinking of both leading lawyers and scientists are brought together in one volume. Among the topics raised in this volume are geomorphology and geology, ridge issues, Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf, shelf resources and current issues such as the outer limit of the continental shelf in the Arctic Ocean, evaluating U.S. data holdings relevant to the definition of continental shelf limits, delimiting China's continental shelves and future directions of the International Seabed Authority. Lastly, the Under Secretary General for Legal Affairs, United Nations, H.E. Hans Corell provides a strategic overview on the challenges in implementing international ocean governance. Another unique feature of the volume is that a CD is placed in the back cover containing visual materials not included in the printed text. Legal and Scientific Aspects of Continental Shelf Limits Myron H. Nordquist, 2013

Establishing Continental Shelf Limits Beyond 200 Nautical Miles by the Coastal State Signe Veierud Busch, 2016-10-05 In Establishing Continental Shelf Limits Beyond 200 Nautical Miles by the Coastal State: A Right of Involvement for Other States, Signe Veierud Busch undertakes a study of all coastal State submissions to the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf and asks under which circumstances and to what extent States other than the coastal State may intervene in the process of establishing final and binding continental shelf limits. After analysing relevant provisions in the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea and the Commission's Rules of Procedure compared with the practice of States and the Commission, Busch raises the overall question if the possibility for other States to block the work of the Commission may in fact be undermining the mandate and functions of the Commission. The IMLI Manual on International Maritime Law David Attard, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, Norman A. Martinez Gutierrez, 2014-10-30 This three volume Manual on International Maritime Law presents a systematic analysis of the history and contemporary development of international maritime law by leading contributors from across the world. Prepared in cooperation with the International Maritime Law Institute, the International Maritime Organization's research and training institute, this is a uniquely comprehensive study of this fundamental area of international law. Volume I: The Law of the Sea addresses the major issues which arise in the law of the sea. It provides a detailed understanding of the historical development of the law of the sea, the role of the International Maritime Organization, the law surrounding maritime zones, the legal regime of islands, the international sea bed area, the legal regime governing marine scientific research, the rights and obligations of landlocked and geographically disadvantaged states, the legal regime of Arctic and Antarctic and the settlements of disputes. This volume also considers the ways in which human rights and the law of the sea interact. The forthcoming Volume II will address shipping law. Volume III will provide analysis of marine environmental law and maritime security law. The full three volume Manual will set out the entirety of international maritime law re stating and re examining its fundamental principles how it is enacted and the issues that are shaping its future It will be a superlative resource for those working with or studying this area of law

Naval Law Review ,2009 The Limits of Maritime Jurisdiction Clive H. Schofield,Seokwoo Lee,Moon-Sang Kwon,2013-11-28 The Limits of Maritime Jurisdiction edited by Clive Schofield Seokwoo Lee and Moon Sang Kwon comprises 36 chapters by leading oceans scholars and practitioners devoted to both the definition of maritime limits and boundaries spatially and the limits of jurisdictional rights within claimed maritime zones Contributions address conflicting maritime claims and boundary disputes access to valuable marine resources protecting the marine environment maritime security and combating piracy concerns over expanding activities and jurisdiction in Polar waters and the impact of climate change on the oceans including the potential impact of sea level rise on the scope of claims to maritime zones The volume therefore offers critical analysis on a range of important and frequently increasingly pressing contemporary law of the sea issues

Continental Shelf Limits P. J. Cook,Chris Carleton,2000 Setting the scene introduction the United Nations convention on the law of the sea Methodology historical methods of positioning at sea Establish the case the practical realization of the continental shelf limit Other issues deep sea fan issues Climate Change and Maritime Boundaries Snjólaug Árnadóttir,2021-12-09 Coastal States exercise sovereignty and sovereign rights in maritime zones measured from their coasts The limits to these maritime zones are bound to recede as sea levels rise and coastlines are eroded Furthermore ocean acidification and ocean warming are increasingly threatening coastal ecosystems which States are obligated to protect and manage sustainably These changes accelerating as the planet heats prompt an urgent need to clarify and update the international law of maritime zones This book explains how bilateral maritime boundaries are established and how coastal instability and vulnerable ecosystems can affect the delimitation process through bilateral negotiations or judicial settlement and it engages with core concepts within public international law to address emerging issues such as diminishing territory and changing boundaries She proposes viable ways of addressing future challenges and sets out how fundamental changes to the marine environment can justify termination or revision of settled maritime boundaries and related agreements Polar Geopolitics? Richard C. Powell,Klaus Dodds,2014-01-31 The polar regions the Arctic and Antarctic have enjoyed widespread public attention in recent years as issues of conservation sustainability resource speculation and geopolitical manoeuvring have all garnered considerable international media interest Changes in the Arctic Environment and the Law of the Sea Myron Nordquist,John Norton Moore,Tomas H. Heidar,2010-05-03 While the Arctic Ocean has long been covered with ice recent changes in climate have caused the ice to melt spurring both conservation challenges to the region's environment and biodiversity as well as new opportunities for navigation and natural resource development Changes in the Arctic Environment and the Law of the Sea offers policy and legal guidance in response to these new challenges Synthesizing the presentations of leading experts at Changes in the Arctic Environment and the Law of the Sea meeting held in May 2009 in

Seward Alaska the topics explored in this volume include the political context and scientific background marine transport environment and biodiversity in addition to offshore petroleum and the status of Spitsbergen A list of selected Internet resources provides links for additional websites as well as PowerPoint files from presentations given at the meeting Changes in the Arctic Environment and the Law of the Sea is based on the 33rd Annual Conference of the Center for Oceans Law and Policy a primary sponsor along with the Law of the Sea Institute of Iceland as well as with the U S Arctic Commission the University of Alaska Fairbanks and the Law of the Sea Institute Law School Boalt Hall University of California Berkeley

Arctic Governance: Volume 1 Ida Folkestad Soltvedt, Svein Vigeland Rottem, 2017-10-03 The Polar North is known to be home to large gas and oil reserves and its position holds significant trading and military advantages yet the maritime boundaries of the region remain ill defined In the twenty first century the Arctic is undergoing profound change As the sea ice melts a result of accelerating climate change global governance has become vital In this first of three volumes the latest research and analysis from the Fridtjof Nansen Institute the world's leading Arctic research body is brought together Arctic Governance Law and Politics investigates the legal and political order of the Polar North focusing on governance structures and the Law of the Sea Are the current mechanisms at work effective Are the Arctic states' interests really clashing or is the atmosphere of a more cooperative nature Skilfully delineating policy in the region and analysing the consequences of treaty agreements Arctic Governance's uncovering of a rather orderly Arctic race will become an indispensable contribution to contemporary International Relations concerning the Polar North Determining Outer Limits of the Continental Shelf Yunjun Li, 2025-08-11 This perceptive book analyses the determination of the outer limits of the continental shelf examining how the related articles from the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea are interpreted and applied by coastal states and the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf CLCS Handbook of the Politics of the Arctic Leif Christian Jensen, Geir Hønneland, 2015-09-25 The Arctic has again become one of the leading issues on the international foreign policy agenda in a manner unseen since the Cold War Drawing on the perspectives of geopolitics and international law this Handbook offers fresh insights and perspectives on the most pressing issues grouped under the headings of political ascendancy climate and environmental issues resources and energy and the response and policies of affected countries

International Law and the Arctic Michael Byers, James Baker (Arctic scholar), 2013 Sets out the international law relevant to the Arctic from Indigenous peoples to environmental protection to oil and gas exploration Indonesia Beyond the Water's Edge R. B. Cribb, Michele Ford, 2009 Indonesia is the world's largest archipelagic state with more than 18 000 islands and over 7.9 million square kilometres of sea The marine frontier presents the nation with both economic opportunities and political and strategic challenges Indonesia has been affected more than most countries in the world by a slow revolution in the management of its waters Whereas Indonesia's seas were once conceived administratively as little more than the empty space between islands successive governments have become aware that this view is outmoded The effective transfer to the seas of regulatory regimes that took shape on land such as territoriality has been an enduring challenge to Indonesian governments This book addresses issues related to maritime boundaries and security marine safety inter island shipping the development of the archipelagic concept in international law marine conservation illegal fishing and the place of the sea in national and regional identity

Global Challenges and the Law of the Sea Marta Chantal Ribeiro,Fernando Loureiro Bastos,Tore Henriksen,2020-05-23 This book analyses a selection of challenges in the implementation and application of the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS focusing on several areas international organizations fisheries security preserving marine biodiversity dispute settlement and interaction with other areas of international law UNCLOS has been described as the Constitution for the Oceans It sets out the fundamental rights obligations and jurisdictions of States regarding the access to uses and management of the oceans and seas and their resources It balances States diverse and sometimes conflicting interests such as conflicting uses of space against navigational interests and the protection of the marine environment UNCLOS is the first global treaty to include comprehensive obligations on the protection and preservation of the marine environment including the conservation of living marine resources These are often common or cross border challenges which can only be addressed through international cooperation The book is divided into three thematic parts The first concerns the role of international organizations in ocean governance It includes twelve chapters covering a very diverse set of issues both materially and geographically that demonstrate the importance of coordinated actions on the part of multiple States for obtaining harmonized solutions regarding the pursuit of activities in maritime spaces in connection with e g navigation fisheries or maritime security The second part concerns the relevance of dispute settlement mechanisms for understanding the international law of the sea and the international legal framework within which the actions of the great maritime powers take place It is composed of three chapters examining stakeholders role in dispute settlement the position taken by China and the Russian Federation regarding international litigation in maritime spaces and how the South China Sea Award may be relevant to the debate on the international legal concepts of rock and island In turn the third part addresses current discussions on the conservation and sustainable use of marine biological diversity of areas beyond national jurisdiction Its seven chapters report on the status quo of the ongoing negotiations for a new international legal regime of the high seas and the establishment and operationalization of environmental regimes for international maritime spaces

Routledge Handbook of Seabed Mining and the Law of the Sea Virginie Tassin,2023-12-29 For years exploration of seabed natural resources has been ongoing while exploitation in deep marine areas remained unrealistic due to land based mineral availability and costs However mounting pressures from the green transition climate change and long lasting fears of terrestrial minerals scarcity now bring exploitation prospects closer to reality This has caused concern to a growing chorus of States scientists industries NGOs and parts of civil society due to the potential environmental and social impacts of these activities As a result the idea of a moratorium or precautionary pause is gaining ground Yet an important number of interpretation and implementation issues of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS and the 1994 Agreement remain to be answered as a means to move forward in accordance with international law This multidisciplinary book designed to become the essential handbook on the matter provides a global overview of the national regional and international regulatory frameworks applicable to the exploration and exploitation of seabed minerals on the continental shelf and the Area as well as the related state of the science on the matter By presenting historical and geopolitical context crucial to understanding regulation evolution the book equips readers with foundational legal and policy knowledge It furthermore addresses contemporary and prospective issues and offers unique insights into regional and national practices including non Party States to UNCLOS Chapters I 3 IV 1 and VI 1 4 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

The IMLI Treatise On Global Ocean Governance David Joseph Attard, David M Ong, Dino Kritsiotis, 2018-07-11 The 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS remains the cornerstone of global ocean governance However it lacks effective provisions or mechanisms to ensure that all ocean space and related problems are dealt with holistically With seemingly no opportunity for revision due to the Conventions burdensome amendment provisions complementary mechanisms dealing with such aspects of global ocean governance including maritime transport fisheries and marine environmental sustainability have been developed under the aegis of the United Nations and other relevant international organizations This approach is inherently fragmented and unable to achieve sustainable global ocean governance In light of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs particularly Goal 14 the IMLI Treatise proposes a new paradigm on the basis of integrated and cross sectoral approach in order to realise a more effective and sustainable governance regime for the oceans This volume focuses on the role of UN as the central intergovernmental organization responsible for global ocean governance It examines the ocean governance challenges and how the present legal policy and institutional frameworks of the UN have addressed these challenges It identifies the strengths and weaknesses of UN legal structures and offers tangible proposals to realize the ambition of a global ocean governance system

The Arctic in International Law and Policy Kristina Schönfeldt, 2017-08-24 The Arctic is an increasingly important region faced with major challenges caused not only by the effects of climate change but also by a growing interest in its living and non living resources its attraction as a new destination for tourism and as a route for navigation It is not only the eight Arctic States that have paid an increased level of attention to the region several non Arctic actors from Asia and Europe also seek to gain more influence in the High North At the same time the evolving law and policy architecture for the Arctic region has recently played a more prominent role in the political and academic debate Unlike Antarctica where the coherent Antarctic Treaty System governs international cooperation the legal regime of Arctic affairs is based on public international law domestic law and soft law These three pillars intersect and interact making Arctic governance multi faceted and highly complex This book provides an analytical introduction a chronology of legally relevant events and a selection of essential materials covering a wide range of issues eg delineation and delimitation of maritime boundaries environmental protection indigenous peoples rights shipping and fisheries Included are multilateral and bilateral treaties UN documents official statements informal instruments domestic laws and diplomatic correspondence Oceans Management in the 21st Century Alex G. Oude Elferink,Donald Rothwell,2004 Chapters throughout this book assess the roles and impact upon oceans management of the institutions both inside and outside the Convention s framework as well as the United Nations General Assembly as concerns its coordinating role in the field of oceans and law of the sea Questions addressed concern the interpretation of the Convention s substantive provisions and how these various institutions interact The impetus to resolve these and other challenges in the law of the sea and oceans management will ensure the law of the sea s continuing evolution in the years ahead
