(1330-1376) et sa légende Antoine Lebègue, 2023-09-16T00:00:00+02:00 Le Prince Noir est l'un des personnages centraux de l'histoire de la France et de l'Angleterre au XIV<sup>e</sup> siècle. Il a joué un rôle décisif dans la guerre de Cent Ans notamment lors des batailles de Crécy, Calais, Poitiers et Najera. Son règne en Aquitaine en tant que prince a marqué l'apogée politique de Bordeaux et de sa région au Moyen Âge. Cet ouvrage abordant le sujet avec le triple point de vue français, anglais et aquitain tient compte des interprétations les plus actuelles et propose une relecture de certains événements ou sujets importants par exemple sur le sens donné à l'épisode des bourgeois de Calais. Il est le premier à étudier l'évolution du mythe du Prince Noir du XV<sup>e</sup> siècle à nos jours en présentant les objets qui y sont liés. Le livre montre aussi parfois avec un trait d'humour l'actualité moderne des gens du XIV<sup>e</sup> siècle et met en lumière des aspects étonnants de cette période de l'Histoire comme le rôle de l'Eglise, le rôle de l'ONU de l'époque ou de la finance dans les relations internationales.

Transnational Moments of Change Padraic Kenney, Gerd Rainer-Horn, 2004-01-29 Transnational Moments of Change offers a broad introduction to the methodology and practice of transnational history. To demonstrate the value of this approach the work focuses on Europe since World War II a period whose study particularly benefits from a transnational vantage point. Twelve distinguished contributors from around the globe offer a range of transnational approaches to three continent-wide moments of change. The work begins with a look at the close of World War Two when liberation from Nazi occupation offered the opportunity for social and political experiment. Next essays explore the late 1960s as generational change and political dissatisfaction rocked urban centers from Paris to Prague. Finally the book turns to the fall of communism a moment of revolutionary change that not only spread rapidly from country to country but even affected and interacted with protest movements in Western Europe and elsewhere. Together the essays provide both a new perspective on postwar Europe and a range of models for the historian interested in using the transnational approach.

The Economy of Glory Robert Morrissey, 2013-12-16 From the outset of Napoleon's career the charismatic Corsican was compared to mythic heroes of antiquity like Achilles and even today he remains the apotheosis of French glory a value deeply embedded in the country's history. From this angle the Napoleonic era can be viewed as the final chapter in the battle of the Ancients and Moderns. In this book Robert Morrissey presents a literary and cultural history of glory and its development in France and explores the economy of glory Napoleon sought to implement in an attempt to heal the divide between the Old Regime and the Revolution. Examining how Napoleon saw glory as a means of escaping the impasse of Revolutionary ideas of radical egalitarianism Morrissey illustrates the challenge the leader faced in reconciling the antagonistic values of virtue and self-interest, heroism and equality. He reveals that the economy of glory was both egalitarian creating the possibility of an aristocracy based on merit rather than wealth and traditional being deeply embedded in the history of aristocratic chivalry and the monarchy making it the heart of Napoleon's politics of fusion. Going beyond Napoleon Morrissey considers how figures of French romanticism such as Chateaubriand, Balzac and Hugo constantly reevaluated this legacy of glory and its consequences for modernity. Available for the first time in English The Economy of Glory is a sophisticated and beautifully written addition to French history

Slavery, Empathy, and Pornography Marcus Wood, 2002-11-21 Slavery Empathy and Pornography considers the operations of slavery and of abolition propaganda on the thought and literature of English from the late eighteenth to the mid nineteenth centuries Incorporating materials ranging from canonical literatures to the lowest form of street publication Marcus Wood writes from the conviction that slavery was and still is a dilemma for everyone in England and seeks to explain why English society has constructed Atlantic slavery in the way it has He takes on the works of canonic eighteenth and nineteenth century white authors which claimed when written to account for slavery and asks with some scepticism what kind of truth they hold Taking an interdisciplinary approach chapters focus on the writings of the major Romantic poets English Radicals William Cobbett and John Thelwall the Surinam writings of John Stedman the full range of slavery texts generated by Harriet Martineau John Newton and the social prophets Carlyle and Ruskin Slavery Empathy and Pornography also contains a radical new critique of the operations of slavery within the work of Austen and Charlotte Brontë

Contesting Empires J. Hart, 2005-02-15 Based on extensive archival research this book looks at the earlier contest of empires in the New World especially among Spain France and England and then examines the opposition to empire the promotion of empire and the question of slavery Hart's discussion on slavery has even larger scope ranging from early Arab African and Portuguese practices in Africa and beyond to the legal abolition of slavery in the British empire the United States and elsewhere in the Nineteenth century

Living by the Gun in Chad Marielle Debos, 2016-10-15 How do people live in a country that has experienced rebellions and state organised repressions for decades and that is still marked by routine forms of violence and impunity What do combatants do when they are not mobilised for war Drawing on over ten years of fieldwork conducted in Chad Marielle Debos explains how living by the gun has become both an acceptable form of political expression and an everyday occupation Contrary to the popular association of violence and chaos she shows that these fighters continue to observe rules frontiers and hierarchies even as their allegiances shift between rebel and government forces and as they drift between Chad Libya Sudan and the Central African Republic Going further she explores the role of the globalised politico military entrepreneurs and highlights the long involvement of the French military in the country Ultimately the book demonstrates that ending the war is not enough The issue is ending the inter war which is maintained and reproduced by state violence Combining ethnographic observation with in depth theoretical analysis Living by the Gun in Chad is a crucial contribution to our understanding of the intersections of war and peace

Hall, 2011-06-06 The mobilization of local ideas about racial difference has been important in generating and intensifying civil wars that have occurred since the end of colonial rule in all of the countries that straddle the southern edge of the Sahara Desert From Sudan to Mauritania the racial categories deployed in contemporary conflicts often harken back to an older history in which blackness could be equated with slavery and non blackness with predatory and uncivilized banditry This book traces the development of arguments about race over a period of more than 350 years in one important place along the southern edge of the Sahara Desert the Niger Bend in northern Mali Using Arabic documents held in Timbuktu as well as local colonial sources in French and oral interviews Bruce S Hall reconstructs an African intellectual history of race that long predated colonial conquest and which has continued to orient inter African relations ever since Genie Civil, 1883 The Ottoman Scramble for Africa Mostafa Minawi, 2016-06-15 The Ottoman Scramble for Africa is the first book to tell the story of the Ottoman Empire's expansionist efforts during the age of high imperialism Following key representatives of the sultan on their travels across Europe Africa and Arabia at the close of the nineteenth century it takes the reader from Istanbul to Berlin from Benghazi to Lake Chad Basin to the Hijaz and then back to Istanbul It turns the spotlight on the Ottoman Empire's expansionist strategies in Africa and its increasingly vulnerable African and Arabian frontiers Drawing on previously untapped Ottoman archival evidence Mostafa Minawi examines how the Ottoman participation in the Conference of Berlin and involvement in an aggressive competition for colonial possessions in Africa were part of a self reimagining of this once powerful global empire In so doing Minawi redefines the parameters of agency in late nineteenth century colonialism to include the Ottoman Empire and turns the typical framework of a European colonizer and a non European colonized on its head Most importantly Minawi offers a
