Encyclopedia of American Folklore helps readers explore the topics terms themes figures and issues related to the folklore of the United States Mapping the History of Folklore Studies Dace Bula,Sandis Laime,2017-05-11 This collection of articles provides rich and diverse insights into the historical dynamics of folkloristic thought with its shifting geographies shared spaces centres and borderlands By focusing on intellectual collaboration and sharing the volume also reveals the limitations barriers and boundaries inherent in scholarship and scholarly communities Folklore scholars from Estonia Germany Hungary Latvia Lithuania Sweden and the USA reflect upon a range of related questions including To what extent and in what sense can folklore studies be regarded as a shared field of knowledge Which lines of authority have held it together and what forces have led to segmentation How have the hierarchies of intellectual centres and peripheries shifted over time Do national or regional styles of scholarly practice exist in folkloristics The contributors here pay attention to individual personalities the politics and economics of scholarship and forms of communication as meaningful contexts for discussing the dynamics of folklore theory and methods Cultural Heritage in Transit Deborah Kapchan,2014-05-21 Are human rights universal The immediate response is yes of course However that simple affirmation assumes agreement about definitions of the human as well as what a human is entitled to under law bringing us quickly to concepts such as freedom property and the inalienability of both The assumption that we all mean the same things by these terms carries much political import especially given that different communities national ethnic religious gendered enact some of the most basic categories of human experience self home freedom sovereignty differently But whereas legal definitions often seek to eliminate ambiguity in order to define and protect the rights of humanity ambiguity is in fact inherently human especially in performances of heritage where the rights to sense to imagine and to claim cultural identities that resist circumscription are at play Cultural Heritage in Transit examines the intangibilities of human rights in the realm of heritage production focusing not only on the ephemeral culture of those who perform it but also on the ambiguities present in the idea of cultural property in general who claims it who may use it who should not but does In this volume folklorists ethnologists and anthropologists analyze the practice and performance of culture in particular contexts including Roma wedding music Trinidadian wining Moroccan verbal art and Neopagan rituals in order to draw apart the social political and aesthetic materialities of heritage production including inequities and hierarchies that did not exist before The authors collectively craft theoretical frameworks to make sense of the ways the rights of nations interact with the rights of individuals and communities when the public value of artistic creations is constituted through international law Contributors Valdimar Tr Hafstein Deborah Kapchan Barbro Klein Sabina Magliocco Dorothy Noyes Philip W Scher Carol Silverman Scandinavian Museums and Cultural Diversity Katherine J. Goodnow, Hacı Akman, 2008-09 Museums across the world are facing the task of capturing reflecting and representing the notion of complex identities personal religious and ethnic Narratives of national allegiances are being slowly replaced and supplemented by indigenous and minority voices providing a more complex understanding of diversity especially where intangible heritage is called on as a witness The approach taken by Scandinavian museums in response to this challenge highlights the hybrid forms of cultural diversity and how they interrelate and work together By bringing together debates and discussions of identity and diversity this volume offers a particular insight into a broad geographic region and its diverse people from the Sami and the limit to new migrants It also presents a set of historical views on the formation of national museums and their contested perceptions of identity Whilst developing new arguments and furthering an ongoing debate it offers museum curators possible ways forward BOOK JACKET The Nordic Storyteller Susan Brantly, Thomas A. DuBois, 2008-12-18 The Nordic Storyteller Essays in Honour of Niels Ingwersen consists of a set of nineteen research essays plus an introduction written by colleagues and admirers of Niels and Faith Ingwersen leaders in the field of Scandinavian Studies in North America for some four decades A first section of seven essays entitled Songs and Tales in Oral Tradition presents research in the area of folklore studies including balladry saints lives incantations healing legendry and personal experience narrative Articles take up such issues as classification thematics cultural and historical change and the effects of technology on daily life A closely related second section From Oral Tradition to Literature includes three essays which examine the adaptation of oral tradition to literary forms focusing on the works of P Chr Asbj rnsen Esias Tegn r Elias L nnrot F R Kreutzwald and the illustrations of Arthur Rackham all figures important in the rise of folklore as a key interest of Romantic nationalism A further set of nine essays grouped under the title Tales in Literary Form examine aspects of the writings of some of the greatest storytellers of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries including H C Andersen Herman Bang Henrik Ibsen J hann Magn s Bjarnason Charles Dickens Thomas Mann Isak Dinesen Martin Andersen Nex Billy August Hans Scherfig Peter H eg Klaus Rifbjerg Leif Panduro and Kjartan Fl gstad Articles address topics including autobiography source criticism symbolism personal and national identities and the representation of political ideals Together the essays of this volume demonstrate the unflagging salience of narrative of storytelling in the personal lives and social experiences of Scandinavians and their neighbors past and present

O'Dell,2023-12-22 Focusing on how museums prioritize and produce content Hip Heritage demonstrates how economic issues play an ever larger role in determining how cultural heritage is being framed and presented in contemporary heritage museums Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork conducted by the authors at seven museums over the course of five years this book offers an in depth analysis of heritage museums in Nordic Scandinavian and North American contexts It investigates how economic realities coupled with the cultural contexts in which museums operate affect how these institutions organize manage and develop their collections to make themselves relevant in society Once charged with the primary task of educating citizens about their cultural identity and history national museums and heritage organizations are also under pressure to rethink their market demands and meet stakeholders increasing interest in growing visitor numbers and expanding economic returns Simultaneously many museums are part of a cultural sector with diminished public funding and increased competition for the existing financing Against this background this book questions When the budget is tight whose heritage counts most It considers museums as arenas for heritage politics in action on the local national and international levels as well as at the institutional level Hip Heritage will appeal to scholars and students engaged in the study of ethnology heritage museum studies marketing leisure and tourism public folklore and sociology
