

How many older Minnesota adults are problem gamblers?

- Another source of data to answer this question is gambling treatment studies. There have been two gambling treatment outcome studies in Minnesota.
- The first one was from 1992 to 1995 and recruited 1,249 adults from six state-supported treatment programs
- The second was from 2006 to 2007 and recruited 444 adults from eleven state-supported treatment providers
- These studies cannot be considered to be comprehensive numbers of MN older adults in gambling treatment because there are other treatment resources besides the state-supported providers
