Late Baroque and Rococo Architecture Christian Norberg-Schulz,1974 Baroque Architecture Christian Norberg-Schulz,1972 The Baroque in Architectural Culture, 1880-1980 Andrew Leach,John Macarthur,2016-03-09 In his landmark volume Space Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion paired images of two iconic spirals Tatlin's Monument to the Third International and Borromini's dome for Sant Ivo alla Sapienza The values shared between the baroque age and the modern were thus encapsulated on a single page spread As Giedion put it writing of Sant Ivo Borromini accomplished the movement of the whole pattern from the ground to the lantern without entirely ending even there And yet he merely groped towards that which could be completely effected in modern architecture achieving the transition between inner and outer space The intellectual debt of modern architecture to modernist historians who were ostensibly preoccupied with the art and architecture of earlier epochs is now widely acknowledged This volume extends this work by contributing to the dual projects of the intellectual history of modern architecture and the history of architectural historiography It considers the varied ways that historians of art and architecture have historicized modern architecture through its interaction with the baroque a term of contested historical and conceptual significance that has often seemed to shadow a greater contest over the historicity of modernism Presenting research by an international community of scholars this book explores through a series of cross sections the traffic of ideas between practice and history that has shaped modern architecture and the academic discipline of architectural history across the long twentieth century The editors use the historiography of the baroque as a lens through which to follow the path of modern ideas that draw authority from history In doing so the volume defines a role for the baroque in the history of architectural historiography and in the history of modern architectural culture A World History of Architecture Marian Moffett,Michael W. Fazio,Lawrence Wodehouse,2003 The Roman architect and engineer Vitruvius declared firmitas utilitas and venustas firmness commodity and delight to be the three essential attributes of architecture These qualities are brilliantly explored in this book which uniquely comprises both a detailed survey of Western architecture including Pre Columbian America and an introduction to architecture from the Middle East India Russia China and Japan The text encourages readers to examine closely the pragmatic innovative and aesthetic attributes of buildings and to imagine how these would have been praised or criticized by contemporary observers Artistic economic environmental political social and technological contexts are discussed so as to determine the extent to which buildings met the needs of clients society at large and future generations AIA Journal American Institute of Architects,1978 World Architecture and Society Peter Louis Bonfitto,2021-12-06 This two volume encyclopedia covers buildings and sites of global significance from prehistoric times to the present day providing students with an essential understanding of architectural development and its impact on human societies This two volume encyclopedia provides an in depth look at buildings and sites of global significance throughout history The volumes are separated into four regional sections 1 the Americas 2 Europe 3 Africa and the Middle East and 4 Asia and the Pacific Four regional essays investigate the broader stylistic and historical contexts that describe the development of architecture through time and across the globe Entries explore the unique importance of buildings and sites including the megalithic wonder of Stonehenge and the imposing complex of Angkor Wat Entries on Spanish colonial missions in the Americas and the medieval Islamic universities of the Sahara connect to broader building traditions Other entries highlight remarkable stories of architectural achievement and memory like those of Tuskegee University a site hand built by former slaves or the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park which was built at the site of the atomic detonation Each entry focuses on the architectural but includes strong consideration of the social impact importance and significance each structure has had in the past and in the present Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,Library of Congress. Temples and Sanctuaries in the Roman East Arthur

Segal,2013-10-31 This lavishly illustrated volume presents a comprehensive architectural study of 87 individual temples and sanctuaries built in the Roman East between the end of the 1st century BCE and the end of the 3rd century CE within a broad region encompassing the modern states of Syria Lebanon Israel and Jordan Religious architecture gave faithful expression to the complexity of the Roman East and to its multiplicity of traditions pertaining to ethnic and religious aspects as well as to the powerful influence of Imperial Rome The source of this power lay in the uniformity of the architectural language the inventory of forms the choice of styles and the spatial layout of the buildings Thus while temples have an eclectic character there is an underlying unity of form comprising the podium the stairway between the terminating walls antae and the columns along the entrance front in other words the axuality frontality and symmetry of the temple as viewed from outside The temples and sanctuaries studied in this volume demonstrate individual nuances of plan spatial design location in the sanctuary and interrelations with the immediate vicinity but can be divided into two main categories Vitruvian temples derived from Hellenistic Roman architecture and Non Vitruvian temples those with plans and spatial designs that cannot be analysed according to architectural criteria such as those defined by Vitruvius The individual descriptions presented focus solely upon the analysis of the external and internal space of the temples of all types and do not involve any cultural or ethnic discussion
