Kuna Ways Of Speaking:

Kuna Ways of Speaking Joel Sherzer, 1983 For the Kuna a nonindustrial people of the South American tropical forest the world is perceived conceived organized controlled by oral speech language Thus by exploring their ways of speaking Joel Sherzer provides valuable insights into the nature of Kuna social political organization world view religion economics medicine aesthetics This unique work encompasses the full range of speech from the dominant areas of ritual life magic curing puberty rites politics to everyday conversation gossip narration greeting leave taking Kuna ways of speaking Joel Sherzer, 1990 The Trobriand Islanders' Ways of Speaking Gunter Senft, 2010-07-19 Bronislaw Malinowski claimed in his monograph Argonauts of the Western Pacific that to approach the goal of ethnographic field work requires a collection of ethnographic statements characteristic narratives typical utterances items of folk lore and magical formulae as a corpus inscriptionum as documents of native mentality This book finally meets Malinowski's demand Based on more than 40 months of field research the author presents documents and illustrates the Trobriand Islanders own indigenous typology of text categories or genres covering the spectrum from ditties children chant while spinning a top to gossip songs tales and myths The typology is based on Kilivila metalinguistic terms for these genres and considers the relationship they have with registers or varieties which are also metalinguistically distinguished by the native speakers of this language Rooted in the ethnography of speaking paradigm and in the anthropological linguistics linguistic anthropology approach the book highlights the relevance of genres for researching the role of language culture and cognition in social interaction and demonstrates the importance of understanding genres for achieving linguistic and cultural competence In addition to the data presented in the book its readers have the opportunity to access the original audio and video data presented via the internet on a special website which mirrors the structure of the book Thus the reader can check the transcriptions against the original data recordings This makes the volume particularly valuable for teaching purposes in general Austronesian Oceanic documentary and anthropological linguistics and ethnology Understanding Pragmatics Gunter Senft, 2014-01-21 Understanding Pragmatics takes an interdisciplinary approach to provide an accessible introduction to linguistic pragmatics This book discusses how the meaning of utterances can only be understood in relation to overall cultural social and interpersonal contexts as well as to culture specific conventions and the speech events in which they are embedded From a cross linguistic and cross cultural perspective this book debates the core issues of pragmatics such as speech act theory conversational implicature deixis gesture interaction strategies ritual communication phatic communion linguistic relativity ethnography of speaking ethnomethodology conversation analysis languages and social classes and linguistic ideologies incorporates examples from a broad variety of different languages and cultures takes an innovative and transdisciplinary view of the field showing linguistic pragmatics has its predecessor in other disciplines such as philosophy psychology ethology ethnology sociology and the political sciences Written by an experienced teacher and researcher this introductory textbook is essential reading for all students studying pragmatics Explorations in the Ethnography of Speaking Richard Bauman, Joel Sherzer, 1989-10-19 Classic case studies surveying the use role and function of language and speech in social life

Introducing Anthropology of Religion Jack David Eller, 2007-08-07 This lively and readable survey introduces students to key areas of the field and shows how to apply an anthropological approach to the study of contemporary world religions. Written by an experienced teacher it covers all of the traditional topics of anthropology of religion including definitions and theories, beliefs, symbols and language and ritual and myth and combines analytic and conceptual discussion with up to date ethnography and theory. Eller includes copious examples from religions around the world both familiar and unfamiliar and two mini case studies in each chapter. He also explores classic and contemporary anthropological contributions to important but often overlooked issues such as violence and fundamentalism, morality, secularization, religion in America and new religious movements. Introducing Anthropology of Religion demonstrates that anthropology is both relevant and essential for understanding the world we inhabit today.

Explorations in Semantic Parallelism James J. Fox, 2014-07-28 This collection of eighteen papers explores issues in the study of semantic parallelism, a world wide tradition in the composition of oral poetry. It is concerned with both comparative issues and the intensive study of a single living poetic tradition of composition in strict canonical parallelism. The papers in the volume were written at intervals from 1971 to 2014, a period of over forty years. They are a summation of a career long research effort that continues to take shape. The concluding essay reflects on possible directions for future research. Therapeutic Ways with Words Kathleen W. Ferrara, 1994-04-07 Therapeutic Ways with Words provides a unique glimpse into language use in psychotherapy, an important speech event which has previously been shrouded in mystery. This important book shows how both clients and therapists accomplish their aims through language which paradoxically is both the method of diagnosis and the medium of treatment in this cultural practice With a discourse analysis of tape recordings and transcripts of actual psychotherapy sessions enhanced by a variety of ethnographic observations Kathleen Warden Ferrara explores the skillful and creative uses of language in the complicated speech event of psychotherapy Shedding light on discourse practices such as retellings of personal experience narrative jointly constructed sentences and metaphorical extensions and strategic uses of repetition the study emphasizes the interactive nature of all discourse and shows how language is mutually constructed as people interweave pieces of their own and others sentences metaphors and narratives

Dialogic Moments Tamar Katriel, 2004 An original ethnographic study about communication and culture in Palestine and Israel during the Twentieth Century examining three modes of communication soul talks straight talk and talk radio The vision of communication as authentic dialogue as the mutual communion of souls has animated a great many twentieth century discussions of language and communication both in scholarly writings and in various forms and contexts of popular culture In its various manifestations this communicative utopia has identified dialogue or conversation as a locus of authenticity of both individuals and groups This study traces the ways in which this utopian vision of communication has played itself out in the particular context of Israeli society through the twentieth century encapsulating central trends in the evolving Israeli cultural conversation over the years In this sense it is a historically situated study of the cultural fluctuations of a given society in all its particularity In another sense however it seeks to offer a more general statement about the culturally constructed nature of the quest for authenticity as a project of modernity by focusing on conceptions of communication and language as its quintessential loci From the Introduction by Tamar Katriel

Whoever Hears You Hears Me Richard A. Horsley, Jonathan A. Draper, 1999-11-01 Here is a challenge to New Testament scholars to engage in a fresh analysis of Q The authors argue that recent American study of Q has been dominated by those trained in form criticism and oriented to Hellenistic rather than Judean culture resulting in the extreme atomization of the Q sayings and reconstructions of Jesus and his first followers as Cynics and in the de politicization and de judaization of the Q materials and Jesus Also determinative of the current situation has been the assumption in New Testament studies of textuality of an ethos of written communication and of textual models for analysis However as is recently becoming clear from studies of oral and written communication the communication situation of Jesus and his first followers was almost certainly oral Horsley and Draper therefore contend that it is time the interpretation of Q took seriously the oral communication environment in which this material developed and continued before Matthew and Luke incorporated it into their Gospels This book then applies approaches to oral derived literature from oral theorists socio linguistics ethnopoetics and the ethnography of speaking to the Q materials The result is a developing theory of oral performance that generates meaning as symbols articulated in the appropriate performance situation resonate with the cultural tradition in which the hearers are grounded Richard A Horsley is Professor of Classics and Religion at the University of Massachusetts Boston Jonathan A Draper teaches at the University of Natal South Africa

Do You See What I Mean? Brenda Farnell, 2009-06-01 Plains Indian Sign Talk PST a complex system of hand signs once served as the lingua franca among many Native American tribes of the Great Plains who spoke very different languages Although some researchers thought it had disappeared following the establishment of reservations and the widespread adoption of English Brenda Farnell discovered that PST is still an integral component of the storytelling tradition in contemporary Assiniboiné Nakota culture Farnell s research challenges the dominant European American view of language as a matter of words only In Nakota language practices she asserts words and gestures are equal partners in the creation of meaning Drawing on Nakota narratives videotaped during field research at the Fort Belknap reservation in northern Montana she uses the movement script Labanotation to create texts of the movement content of these performances The first and only ethnographic study of contemporary uses of PST Do You See What I Mean draws on important developments in the study of language and culture to provide an action centered
