

L'ABSENTEE

A young girl with a braid, wearing a bright yellow raincoat and dark boots, stands with her back to the camera on a wet, reflective beach. She is looking out at the ocean under a dramatic, cloudy sky. In the distance, wooden pilings of a pier or breakwater are visible on both sides of the beach.

Untimely Beggar Patrick Greaney, This highly original book takes as its starting point a central question for nineteenth and twentieth century literature and philosophy how to represent the poor Covering the period from the publication of Les Fleurs du Mal in 1857 to the composition of Benjamin's final texts in the 1930s Untimely Beggar investigates the coincidence of two modern literary and philosophical interests representing the poor and representing potential To take account of literature's relation to the poor Patrick Greaney proposes the concept of impoverished writing which withdraws from representing objects and registers the existence of power By reducing itself to the indication of its own potential by impoverishing itself literary language attempts to engage and participate in the power of the poor This focus on impoverished language offers new perspectives on major French and German authors including Marx Nietzsche Mallarmé Rilke and Brecht and makes significant contributions to recent debates about power and potential in thinkers such as Agamben Deleuze Foucault Hardt and Negri In doing so Greaney offers significant insights into modernity's intense philosophical and literary interest in socioeconomic poverty Patrick Greaney is assistant professor of German studies at the University of Colorado Boulder Song Carol Kimball, 2006-12 Naslagwerk van de liedkunst en de literatuur hierover

The Concept of Negritude in the Poetry of Leopold Sedar Senghor Sylvia Washington Ba, 2015-03-08 Negritude has been defined by Leopold Sedar Senghor as the sum of the cultural values of the black world as they are expressed in the life the institutions and the works of black men Sylvia Washington B analyzes Senghor's poetry to show how the concept of negritude infuses it at every level A biographical sketch describes his childhood in Senegal his distinguished academic career in France and his election as President of Senegal Themes of alienation and exile pervade Senghor's poetry but it was by the opposition of his sensitivity and values to those of Europe that he was able to formulate his credo Its key theme and the supreme value of black African civilization is the concept of life forces which are not attributes or accidents of being but the very essence of being Life is an essentially dynamic mode of being for the black African and it has been Senghor's achievement to communicate African intensity and vitality through his use of the nuances subtleties and sonorities of the French language In the final chapter Sylvia Washington B discusses the future of Senghor's belief that the black man's culture should be recognized as valid not simply as a matter of human justice but because the values of negritude could be instrumental in the reintegration of positive values into western civilization and the reorientation of contemporary man toward life and love Originally published in 1973 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Theories of Africans Christopher L.
