Great Cat Stories Roxanne Willems Snopek,2011-07-25 This inspiring collection of stories explores the loving relationship between cats and their people A woman devotes herself to caring for feral cats on the cold hostile streets of Saskatoon A clever cat becomes a famous columnist with just a little help from his writer owner In Ottawa an elderly man selflessly cares for the cats of Parliament Hill From cats that heal and console the ailing to cats that survive only through the dedication of their caregivers the stories of these memorable pets will warm the hearts of all animal lovers

More Great Cat Stories Roxanne Willems Snopek,2011-07-25 The bond between cats and their people comes to the fore in these charming true stories Cinders shows her young owner that she is more than her fears and insecurities Mr Morris s love of people makes him a winner as a therapy cat A stray named Kitty finds a new owner and gives him a reason to live Poignant and heartwarming these stories will be cherished by cat lovers of all ages

The Great Cat Massacre Robert Darnton,2009-05-12 The landmark history of France and French culture in the eighteenth century a winner of the Los Angeles Times Book Prize When the apprentices of a Paris printing shop in the 1730s held a series of mock trials and then hanged all the cats they could lay their hands on why did they find it so hilariously funny that they choked with laughter when they reenacted it in pantomime some twenty times Why in the eighteenth century version of Little Red Riding Hood did the wolf eat the child at the end What did the anonymous townsman of Montpelier have in mind when he kept an exhaustive dossier on all the activities of his native city These are some of the provocative questions the distinguished Harvard historian Robert Darnton answers The Great Cat Massacre a kaleidoscopic view of European culture during in what we like to call The Age of Enlightenment A classic of European history it is an essential starting point for understanding Enlightenment France

The Great Cat & Dog Massacre Hilda Kean,2017-03-14 The tragedies of World War II are well known But at least one has been forgotten in September 1939 four hundred thousand cats and dogs were massacred in Britain The government vets and animal charities all advised against this killing So why would thousands of

British citizens line up to voluntarily euthanize household pets In The Great Cat and Dog Massacre Hilda Kean unearths the history piecing together the compelling story of the life and death of Britain's wartime animal companions She explains that fear of imminent Nazi bombing and the desire to do something to prepare for war led Britons to sew blackout curtains dig up flower beds for vegetable patches send their children away to the countryside and kill the family pet in theory sparing them the suffering of a bombing raid Kean's narrative is gripping unfolding through stories of shared experiences of bombing food restrictions sheltering and mutual support Soon pets became key to the war effort providing emotional assistance and helping people to survive a contribution for which the animals gained government recognition Drawing extensively on new research from animal charities state archives diaries and family stories Kean does more than tell a virtually forgotten story She complicates our understanding of World War II as a good war fought by a nation of good people Accessibly written and generously illustrated Kean's account of this forgotten aspect of British history moves animals to center stage forcing us to rethink our assumptions about ourselves and the animals with whom we share our homes

The Great Cat Massacre - A History of Britain in 100 Mistakes Gareth Rubin, 2014-05-08 In 1914 a train pulled into a provincial British railway station The porter a curious chap asked the regiment of soldiers where they were from Ross shire one called down but the porter heard Russia And so began a rumor that led to Germany losing World War I Often the history we learn at school is only half the story We hear of heroic deeds and visionary leaders but we never hear about the people who turned up late for court and thereby changed the law or who stood in the wrong queue at university and accidentally won a Nobel Prize The Great Cat Massacre A History of Britain in 100 Mistakes demonstrates that the nation is as much a product of error as design Through chapters on religion law culture war science and politics it reveals such things as how an edict from Pope Gregory IX helped spread the Black Death how the sister of cricketer John Willes invented overarm bowling and how had a letter not been lost Disraeli might never have become prime minister This book is history told through human failings schoolboy errors bad luck and extraordinary consequences a history of mishearing misdiagnosis and misinterpretation a history that you won't find in the textbooks

New York Magazine, 1984-02-27 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
