people's aspirations for self-determination and of the life projects by which they seek and have sought autonomy in deciding the meaning of their life independently of projects promoted by the state and market. They are not simply projects of isolation from outside influences as they have sometimes been characterised but attempts by people to take control of the course of their lives. In the sometimes acrimonious debates about outstations the lived experiences, motivations and histories of existing communities are missing. For this reason we invited a number of anthropological witnesses to the early period in which outstations gained a purchase in remote Australia to provide accounts of what these communities were like and what their residents' aspirations and experiences were. Our hope is that these closer to the ground accounts provide insight into and understanding of what Indigenous aspirations were in the establishment and organisation of these communities. This volume will be a great addition not only to the origins and history of outstations but in light of the closing of over 100 Aboriginal communities in Western Australia it should be a required bedtime reading for all politicians across Australia. The contributors do not simply concentrate on the so-called outstations movement of the 1970s but rather help the reader understand why in the 1930s, 40s, 50s and 60s Aboriginal people moved away from cattle stations, missions and settlements to reconstruct their moral compass in settings which made more contemporaneous sense not only to them but often to the whites who were there as well. Professor Francoise Dussart, University of Connecticut.

Personal Saving, Consumption, and Tax Policy Marvin H. Kusters, 1992. This volume offers the views of 19 fiscal policy analysts well qualified to evaluate any attempt to raise national saving and domestically financed investment.

Biennial Report of the Board of Regents to the Governor, 1900. Hearings and Reports on Atomic Energy United States. Congress. Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, 1975.

Cobbett's Parliamentary Debates Great Britain. Parliament, 1845. Status of Puerto Rico: Economic factors in relation to the status of Puerto Rico United States-Puerto Rico Commission on the Status of Puerto Rico, 1966. Annual Report of the State Controller, State of California, for the Fiscal Year Ended June 30 ... California. Office of State Controller, 1910.

Volcker William L. Silber, 2012-09-04. A profile of the former Federal Reserve chairman lauds his handling of multiple economic crises, crediting him with restoring America's financial system in the 1970s and aiding the Obama administration with establishing Wall Street regulations.

Dishonest Behavior: From Theory to Practice Guy Hochman, Shahar Ayal, Dan Ariely, 2016-11-17. The rapidly growing field of behavioral ethics shows that dishonest acts are highly prevalent in all walks of life, from corruption among politicians through flagrant cases of doping in sports to everyday slips and misdemeanors of ordinary people who nevertheless perceive themselves as highly moral. When considered cumulatively, these seemingly innocuous and ordinary unethical behaviors cause considerable societal damage and add up to billions of dollars annually. Research in behavioral ethics has made tremendous advances in characterizing many contextual and social factors that promote or hinder dishonesty. These findings have prompted the development of interventions to curb dishonesty and to help individuals become more committed to ethical standards. The current e-book includes studies that test and advance current theory and deepen our understanding of the cognitive and physiological processes underlying dishonest behavior discuss possible implications of findings in behavioral ethics research for real life situations document dishonest behavior in the field and or directly examines interventions to reduce it      The Great Fiscal Experiment Rudolph Gerhard Penner,1991      The Financial Review of Reviews ,1912
