and women who lived worked and played in the legendary Hotel Scribe set in a highly fashionable part of the largely undamaged city. Press jeeps and trailers packed the street outside while inside the hotel was completely booked with hundreds of correspondents. The busiest spot was the dining area where the clatter of typewriters combined with shouts of correspondents needing hot water to brew coffee from military powder. But the basement level bar was the hotel's top attraction where famed war correspondents like Ernie Pyle, Walter Cronkite, A.J. Liebling, Ernest Hemingway, Martha Gellhorn, Janet Flanner, Lee Miller, Marguerite Higgins, Irwin Shaw, Edward Kennedy, Charles Collingwood, Robert Capa and many others held court while in the company of military censors and top brass. Weber uncovers the struggles between correspondents and Allied officials over censorship and the release of information, the heated press chaos surrounding the war's end and the drama of the second German surrender orchestrated by the Russians in shattered Berlin. The elation of total victory was mixed with the abrupt emptiness of a task finished. While work on the Continent remained for journalists, it now dealt with the slog of the occupation of Germany rather than the blood and glory of war. Yet Weber shows there were many reasons to carry on after VE Day. In this delightfully entertaining account of the hotel where correspondents were regularly briefed on the war and its aftermath, wrote their stories, had them transmitted to international media outlets and rarely neglected the pleasures of a Paris reborn until December 1, 1945, when the Hotel Scribe was officially vacated by the American military. The Newspaper Preservation Act United States, Congress, Senate, Judiciary, 1969 Australian

Women War Reporters Jeannine Baker, 2015-09-01 This is the hidden story of Australian and New Zealand women war reporters who fought for equality with their male colleagues and filed stories from the main conflicts of the twentieth century. In Australian Women War Reporters, Jeannine Baker provides a much needed account of the pioneering women who reported from the biggest conflicts of the twentieth century. Two women covered the South African War at the turn of the century and Louise Mack witnessed the fall of Antwerp in 1914. Others such as Anne Matheson, Lorraine Stumm and Kate Webb wrote about momentous events including the rise of Nazism, the liberation of the concentration camps, the aftermath of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and the Cold War conflicts in Korea and Southeast Asia. These women carved a path for new generations of female foreign correspondents who have built upon their legacy. Jeannine Baker deftly draws out the links between the experiences of these women and the contemporary realities faced by women journalists of war, including Monica Attard and Ginny Stein, allowing us to see both in a new light. The Quill, 1947
