Environmental Blockades Iain McIntyre, 2021-06-10 Since the 1970s environmental blockades disrupting the exploitation and destruction of forests rivers and other biodiverse places have been one of the most attention grabbing and contentious forms of political action This book explores when where and why environmental blockading and its associated tactics first arose The author explores a broad range of questions including how did tactics and practices first developed and popularised during environmental blockades come to feature regularly in animal rights peace refugee and other campaigns What are blockaders hoping to achieve How have such blockades and tactics shaped government policy the culture of modern politics and popular understandings of ecology colonialism and activism This book offers the first comprehensive history and analysis of environmental blockading in three key countries Australia the United States and Canada As the first places to experience sustained protest cycles which fully established promoted and developed the environmental blockading repertoire as an ongoing strategic option for movements nationally and internationally these campaigns were central in creating a new approach to conservation issues They also played a leading role in making obstructive direct action a regular part of political campaigning as seen in the form of the Extinction Rebellion XR alter globalisation climate justice and other movements This book draws on rigorous archival research including sources ranging from personal diaries campaign minutes and video footage through to police reports and newspaper articles as well as interviews with more than 30 protest leaders and campaigners It will be of great interest to students and scholars in the fields of sociology political science history green criminology and interdisciplinary environmental studies Rethinking Wilderness and the Wild Robyn Bartel, Marty Branagan, Fiona Utley, Stephen Harris, 2020-10-29 Rethinking Wilderness and the Wild Conflict Conservation and Co existence examines the complexities surrounding the concept of wilderness Contemporary wilderness scholarship has tended to fall into two categories the so called fortress conservation and co existence schools of thought This book contending that this polarisation has led to a silencing and concealment of alternative perspectives and lines of enquiry extends beyond these confines and in particular steers away from the dilemmas of paradise or paradox in order to advance an intellectual and policy agenda of plurality and diversity rather than of prescription and definition Drawing on case studies from Australia Aotearoa New Zealand the United States and Iceland and explorations of embodied experience creative practice philosophy and First Nations land management approaches the assembled chapters examine wilderness ideals conflicts and human nature dualities afresh and examine co existence and conservation in the Anthropocene in diverse ontological and multidisciplinary ways By demonstrating a strong commitment to respecting the knowledge and perspectives of Indigenous peoples this work delivers a more nuanced ethical and decolonising approach to issues arising from relationships with wilderness Such a collection is immediately appropriate given the political challenges and social complexities of our time and the mounting threats to life across the globe The abiding and uniting logic of the book is to offer a unique and innovative contribution to engender transformations of wilderness scholarship activism and conservation policy This text refutes the inherent privileging and exclusionary tactics of dominant modes of enquiry that too often serve to silence non human and contrary positions It reveals a multi faceted and contingent wilderness alive with agency diversity and possibility This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of conservation environmental and natural resource management Indigenous studies and environmental policy and planning It will also be of interest to practitioners policymakers and NGOs involved in conservation protected environments and environmental governance Activist Life Christine Milne, 2017-11-08

An Activist Life is the story of an apparently ordinary woman a high school English teacher from northwest Tasmania who became a fiery environmental warrior pitted against some of the most powerful business and political forces in the country In it Christine Milne tells her story through the objects that have symbolic meaning in both her personal and political life from the butter pats in her kitchen that represent her journey from farm girl at Wesley Vale to environmental and human rights activist at the national and global level to the Pride t shirt she wore walking in Mardi Gras next to her son after years of fighting for the legal reform of gay rights in Tasmania She describes how politics actually works the deals the promises kept and broken the horse trading and treachery involved in some of the most controversial and difficult issues of our time including the attempts to forge a workable and effective climate change policy for Australia and Australia s treatment of refugees and asylum seekers This is a fascinating insider s account of what it means to be a woman in politics the sacrifices of family life and relationships the relentless misogyny and sexism that must be endured the gritty conviction that you must never ever give up the pursuit of the greater good It is the story of Australian politics and the fight to save the world and essential reading for anyone who cares about either Quarterly Essay 8 Groundswell Amanda Lohrey, 2002-11-01

Who are the Greens where do they come from and where are they going In the wake of the Cunningham by election and the Tasmanian results Amanda Lohrey novelist and political thinker looks at the philosophical background of the Greens the history of the campaigns to save the wilderness and the election figures that suggest the Greens are making powerful advances towards becoming the major minor party in Australia This is a compelling portrait of the Greens and of their leader Bob Brown which depicts them as the most formidable attempt that has been made on the Left to deal with the damage of globalisation In Australia it is the Green not the Democrats who have emerged as the authentic representatives of this developing constituency They are not a collection of ersatz Liberals they are clear on the bottom line accounting There is a crucial sense in which the Greens know where they come from Amanda Lohrey Groundswell Bob Brown in Amanda Lohrey s characterisation is certainly a man for all seasons She emphasizes the skepticism as well as the spirituality and the kind of personal integrity that can hush a House of Parliament by force not of charisma but of conviction Peter Craven She takes us systematically and in economic detail through the origins of the Green Movement as a new paradigm of what politics is or should be about the ecological the knowledgeable respectful and restrained use of nature Canberra Times Bringing her novelist's eye to the history of environmental politics Amanda Lohery paints a vivid picture of the Greens formative decades the Age Amanda Lohrey has written two Quarterly Essays Groundswell The Rise of the Greens and Voting for Jesus Christianity and Politics in Australia She is also the author of the novella Vertigo and of the short story collection Reading Madame Bovary which won the Fiction Prize and the Steele Rudd Short Story Award in the 2011 Queensland Literary Awards Her novel The Philosopher's Doll was longlisted for the Miles Franklin Award and the International IMPAC Dublin Literary Award In 2012 she was awarded the Patrick White Literary Award

A Critical Pedagogy of Embodied Education T. Ollis, 2012-04-14 Explores the differences and similarities between two groups lifelong activists who have been engaged in campaigns and social movements over many years and circumstantial activists those protestors who come to activism due to a series of life circumstances Outlines the pedagogy of activism and the process of learning to become an activist

What Do We Want? Clive Hamilton, 2016-11-01 In What Do We Want Clive Hamilton explores the colourful enthralling and stirring forms of protest used in the big social movements that defined modern Australia He examines how these movements for equality peace and environmental action have confronted the ugliness in Australian society and caused epoch defining shifts in social attitudes From Charles Perkins to Vida Goldstein Bob Brown to the gay and lesbian 78ers the stories of incredible bravery and rousing leadership will move and inspire

Inside the Greens Paddy Manning, 2019-08-19 A penetrating examination of the history and future of the Australian Greens The re election of a Coalition government after a lost decade of policy backflips and leadership volatility has redrawn the political landscape With a record quarter of voters abandoning the major parties at the last election what lies ahead for the Greens the third force in Australian politics In a nation divided over global warming rising inequality and national security can they agitate for forward thinking policy or will a refusal to compromise prove a stumbling block Inside the Greens investigates the personalities policies and turning points that have formed the party from the fight to save Lake Pedder to the Stop Adani convoy from heckling George W Bush to the fateful decision to vote down the carbon tax from party of protest to the balance of power in minority governments at state and federal level It also exposes the Greens as they are today a divided organisation reckoning with structural and strategic challenges Beset by factional showdowns and suggestions of internal sabotage can the party hang together Has it strayed too far from grassroots activism Can the Greens do politics differently and still succeed Journalist Paddy Manning draws on previously unrevealed archival material and interviews with party friends foes and key figures including Bob Brown Christine Milne Lee Rhiannon Adam Bandt and Richard Di Natale to weave a compulsively readable account of where the Greens are heading and what that means for Australia A monumental effort Inside the Greens manages to be not just a fine resource on a single party but of the times that produced them Crikey

Patriots, 2008-04 Australia's environmental movement and those defending the unique wildlife Down Under are superbly examined in this powerful account Charting the emergence of a new national green movement and its members commitment to nature's survival this exploration details the landmark environmental battles already faced as well as those lurking on the horizon      Thomas Merton: God's Messenger on the Road towards a New World Paul R. Dekar, 2021-06-02 Thomas Merton God's Messenger on the Road towards a New World highlights the contribution of the best selling North American writer between the Second World War and 1968 The Cistercian monk called people to act justly love kindness and walk humbly By his critique of technology a major impediment for people to follow Jesus by his writing on contemplative prayer by his interfaith outreach and through his witness against racism war and degradation of nature Merton still matters This book uses Micah 6 8 to organize Merton's focus on justice lovingkindness and humility as well as his dialogue with Rachel Carson Ernesto Cardinal Gandhi Martin Luther King Jr Thich Nhat Hahn and others      Thomas Merton and the New World Paul R. Dekar, 2023-09-28 Merton still matters writes Paul R Dekar about Cistercian monk Thomas Merton Calling people to act justly love kindness and walk humbly Merton used his contemplative practice to see beyond what disrupts and divides us from one another to find the truth of our common humanity unity in our creation in the image of God In Thomas Merton and the New World Dekar focuses primarily on two issues of concern to our current world First he studies Merton's warnings of the abuse that stems from unmindful and irresponsible use of technology and its ecological devastation Second he examines Merton's thinking on racial injustice in the mid 1960s through his correspondence with his allies and contemporaries James Baldwin for example Using Micah 6 8 to arrange Merton's focus on justice lovingkindness and humility with input from Merton's dialogue with Gandhi Martin Luther King Rachel Carson and others Dekar demonstrates just how prophetic and transferable Merton's teachings remain

Turning Points in Australian History Martin Crotty, David Andrew Roberts, 2009 This exciting and stimulating book looks back at turning points and crucial moments in Australian history Rather than arguing that there have been forks on a pre determined road the book challenges us to think about other paths or better paths that might have led to different outcomes

Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies in the War of the Rebellion United States. Navy Department, 1927

Wild Law - In Practice Michelle Maloney, Peter Burdon, 2014-03-05 Wild Law In Practice aims to facilitate the transition of Earth Jurisprudence from theory into practice Earth Jurisprudence is an emerging philosophy of law coined by cultural historian and geologist Thomas Berry It seeks to analyse the contribution of law in constructing maintaining and perpetuating anthropocentrism and addresses the ways in which this orientation can be undermined and ultimately eliminated In place of anthropocentrism Earth Jurisprudence advocates an interpretation of law based on the ecocentric concept of an Earth community that includes both human and nonhuman entities Addressing topics that include a critique of the effectiveness of environmental law in protecting the environment developments in domestic constitutional law recognising the rights of nature and the regulation of sustainability Wild Law In Practice is the first book to focus specifically on the practical legal implications of Earth Jurisprudence      Beyond Green Lesley Head, 2025-05-14 How are we to think about nature and the environment The idea of nature as it relates to culture society and humans has always been in constant flux and highly contested Lesley Head interrogates the ways the cultures of nature have operated in Australia across time and how these ways of thinking and being limit our capacity to deal with the challenges of the climate change and biodiversity crises Drawing on her life's work and lessons she has picked up along the way Head suggests that it is up to us to attentively listen the better to destabilise and subvert dominant narratives and to imagine new possibilities She believes we have the nous resources and lessons from Indigenous settler descendant and immigrant cultures to reduce risk in the face of the unexpected and the unimaginable In Beyond Green the story of nature and people weaves research and personal experience through many different times and spaces offering new ways of understanding It is a richly creative engagement with the abundant possibilities and pleasure of nature as a place of regeneration that is as warned by the rawk of the crow as it is accompanied by the carolling of magpies Global Trade and Mediatized Environmental Protest Libby

Lester, 2019-09-12 As more governments companies and individuals scan the globe for access to primary resources such as minerals and timber food power and water and destinations for work holidays and homes pressures on places and communities grow At the same time global environmental risks most notably climate change produce new networks and unfamiliar forms of politics Communication media are integral to this change This book explores how geographically diverse groups and individuals interact in and through media to influence the negotiations and decisions affecting often distant landscapes and communities Drawing on extensive fieldwork in the Australia Asia region the book includes case studies on the environmental protests that follow the international flow of people and resources including timber fish coal water and tourism It asks how communities of concern are evoked which transcend local places and national boundaries The River Runs Free Geoff Law, 2008-06-30 Take a ride on the wild side Geoff Law first rafted the dangerously beautiful Franklin River on a whim He was inexperienced and in a leaky raft the weather was treacherous and his travelling companion was someone he didn't know and who hated the place But that eventful trip drew him into the historic battle to save the Franklin from being dammed It was a struggle that brought down a federal government and one whose ecological reverberations twenty five years on are more commanding than ever In The River Runs Free Geoff Law gives a lively and witty account of that flagship campaign weaving it around stories of his wilderness travels Drawn since childhood to wild places he is an experienced solo bushwalker one who can never resist a challenge He writes powerfully about the connection between humans and landscape the source of inspiration for his life's work Travel with him and you never know what's coming next but you'll arrive exhilarated Law is one of Australia's great outdoor adventurers authors and advocates Bob Brown

Roosevelt and the Munich Crisis Barbara Reardon Farnham, 2021-03-09 Franklin Roosevelt's intentions during the three years between Munich and Pearl Harbor have been a source of controversy among historians for decades Barbara Farnham offers both a theory of how the domestic political context affects foreign policy decisions in general and a fresh interpretation of FDR's post Munich policies based on the insights that the theory provides Between 1936 and 1938 Roosevelt searched for ways to influence the deteriorating international situation When Hitler's behavior during the Munich crisis showed him to be incorrigibly aggressive FDR settled on aiding the democracies a course to which he adhered until America's entry into the war This policy attracted him because it allowed him to deal with a serious problem the conflict between the need to stop Hitler and the domestic imperative to avoid any risk of American involvement in a war Because existing theoretical approaches to value conflict ignore the influence of political factors on decision making they offer little help in explaining Roosevelt's behavior As an alternative this book develops a political approach to decision making which focuses on the impact that awareness of the imperatives of the political context can have on decision making processes and through them policy outcomes It suggests that in the face of a clash of central values decision makers who are aware of the demands of the political context are likely to be reluctant to make trade offs seeking instead a solution that gives some measure of satisfaction to all the values implicated in the decision

Ecological Pioneers Martin Mulligan, Stuart Hill, 2001-10-22 Whenever the history of ecological thought has been written the contributions of Australian thinkers have been omitted Yet Australia as a continent of extreme rare and complex environments has produced a startling group of ecological pioneers Across a wide range of human endeavour Australian thinkers and innovators whether they have thought of themselves as environmentalists or not have made some truly original contributions to ecological thought Ecological Pioneers traces the emergence of ecological understandings in Australia By constructing a social history with chapters focusing on different fields in the arts sciences politics and public life the authors bring to life the work of significant individuals Some of the ecological pioneers featured include Joseph Banks Russell Drysdale Judith Wright Myles Dunphy Philip Crosbie Morrison Vincent Serventy Francis Ratcliffe the Gurindji and Yolngu peoples Bill Mollison Jack Munday Val Plumwood Michael Leunig and many more

Words for Country Tim Bonyhady, 2002 Stories and phrases can powerfully shape the ways we experience and manage our environment What languages have been used to characterise Australian landscapes and how have they influenced the way we see and treat our environment How do stories take root in particular places How do we find the right words for those parts of the country that matter to us Words for Country answers these questions while exploring the inter relationship between Australia's landscape and language Tim Bonyhady and Tom Griffiths have brought together a collection of essays whose subjects range from the Ord River in the far north west to Antarctica in the south from the centre to the coast the prehistoric to the present Their terrain is environmental and cultural political and poetic Words for Country reveals not just how language grows out of the landscape but how words and stories shape the places in which we live
