The God Who Believes Christian D. Kettler, 2005-09-01 How does one deal with doubt Are faith and doubt irreconcilable Does one's understanding of God affect the answers to these questions Christian Kettler investigates these questions from a christological perspective drawing implications from the Scottish theologian T F Torrance and his doctrine of the vicarious humanity of Christ If we take the humanity of Christ seriously should we not speak of the faith of Jesus as a vicarious faith believing for us and in our place when it is difficult if not impossible to believe How Christians know God Jesus Knows God for Us and in Our Place who God is Who is the God Whom Jesus Knows and how to believe in God in a world of suffering and evil Providence Evil Suffering and the God Who Believes receive new insight in light of this christological exploration Wendell Berry's poignant novel of a humble country barber Jayber Crow adds an incarnational context to a discussion with important pastoral and existential dimensions In the vicarious faith of Christ we are not left as James Torrance cautions us to be thrown back upon ourselves but called to participate by the Spirit in the faith of Jesus

Reading Ray S. Anderson Christian D. Kettler, 2010-09-01 Why is theology often divorced from ministry Why is ministry left bereft of a robust theology Ray S Anderson a professor of Fuller Theological Seminary for over thirty years has left a legacy of provocative reflections on these questions In this book Kettler provides a sure guide to major themes in the work of one of the most creative theological minds to have sought to integrate theology and ministry Ray Anderson's radical incarnational theology of the kenotic community provides a new basis for a broader risk taking ecclesiology He also brings theological anthropology to the front of the agenda and therefore into ministry to actual hurting human persons Each chapter ends with a case study from an actual life situation to test out and work through the implications of Anderson's theology

Theological Foundations for Ministry Ray S. Anderson, 2010-07-01 This is a collection of essential passages on the ministry of the church By selecting significant sources which share a common assumption concerning the nature of theology and its methodology the editor presents a single consistent theology of ministry The book is carefully organised to allow a thorough exploration of the different aspects of ministry Contributors include Karl Barth Dietrich Bonhoeffer Hans K ng Helmut Thielicke and Thomas F Torrance
Knowledge of the Self-Revealing God in the Thought of Thomas Forsyth

Torrance John Douglas Morrison, 2005-02-07 This work examines Thomas Forsyth Torrance's concern for the modern re-entrenchment of dualism as it has negatively affected the Christian faith and the realist knowledge of God in Christ Additionally an analysis is made of Torrance's program to faithfully restore theological thinking theological science and true objectivity out of the Christocentric Trinitarian self disclosure of God via the modern return to critical realist epistemology in the physical sciences e g Einstein Polanyi The study concludes with a critical examination of the adequacy and completeness of Torrance's endeavor the problem of residual dualism in the light of his own theological and redemptive concerns T&T Clark Handbook of Thomas F. Torrance Paul D. Molnar, Myk Habets, 2020-02-20 This handbook explores Thomas F. Torrance's importance in modern theology with each contribution bringing Torrance's deep and nuanced insights to a broad range of contemporary theological concerns. The contributors to this volume present cutting edge Torrance scholarship for a new generation which will enable readers to see the timely significance of Torrance for today. Comprising both contexts and dogmatics, these essays not only introduce key themes in Torrance's extensive published writings including his work on the Trinity, ecumenism, incarnation, atonement, and eschatology, but also provide fresh interpretations fully conversant with theological problems facing the church in the world today. Designed as both a guide for students and a reference point for scholars, this handbook thoroughly explores the frameworks of key debates related to Torrance's theology while also suggesting fresh interpretative strategies concerning his thought. Thomas Torrance's Mediations and Revelation Titus Chung, 2016-12-05 Could a work of revelation be justified as a viable theological project today, especially in light of some modern sceptics questioning its validity as a doctrinal discipline? Engaging with the work of theologians such as Karl Barth, Paul Tillich, and Colin Gunton, Chung explores and justifies revelation and mediation in the theology of T. F. Torrance and argues that Torrance's distinctiveness is able to contribute significantly to current debate and bring a fresh perspective to the theological landscape. On Being Christian and Human Todd Speidell, 2002-04-17 In the tradition of Karl Barth, T. F. Torrance, and J. B. Torrance, and Ray Anderson, this collection of essays articulates a theology of ministry based on the humanity of Christ. A Christian theology of ministry, it insists, can be nothing less than a theology for humanity. The Theology of Ronald Gregor Smith Clements, 2023-09-20 Has God Said? John Douglas Morrison, 2006-03-01 Has God said? Has God actually spoken, declared himself, and his purposes to us? Historically, the Christian faith has affirmed God's redemptive revelatory speaking as historical, contentful, redemptive, centrally in Jesus Christ and under Christ and by the Spirit in the text of Holy Scripture. But in the past three centuries, developments in Western culture have created a crisis in relation to historical divine authority. The modern reintroduction of destructive dualisms, cosmological and epistemological, via Descartes, Newton, Spinoza, and Kant have injured not only the physical sciences (e.g., positivism) but Christian theology as well. The resulting eclipse of God has permeated Western culture. In terms of the Christian understanding of revelation, it has meant the separation of God from historical action, the rejection of God's actual self-declaration, and especially in textual form, Holy Scripture. After critical analysis of these dualistic developments, this book presents the problematic effects in both Protestant (Schleiermacher, Bultmann, Tillich) and Roman Catholic (Rahner, Dulles) theology. The thought and influence of Karl Barth on the nature of Scripture is examined and distinguished from most Barthian approaches. The effects of dualistic Barthian thought on contemporary evangelical views of Scripture (Pinnock, Fackre, Bloesch) are also critically analyzed, and responses made (Helm, Wolterstorff, Packer). The final chapter is a christocentric, multileveled reformulation of the classical Scripture Principle.
