History on Film/Film on History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2023-11-30 History on Film Film on History has established itself as a classic treatise on the historical film and its role in bringing the past to life In the fourth edition of this widely acclaimed text Robert A Rosenstone argues that to leave history films out of the discussion of the meaning of the past is to ignore a major means of understanding historical events This book examines what history films convey about the past and how they convey it demonstrating the need to learn how to read and understand this new visual world and integrating detailed analysis of films such as Schindler's List Glory October and Reds Advocating for the dramatic feature as a legitimate way of doing history this edition includes a new Preface and a new chapter that focuses on films produced in Latin America Africa the Middle East India and East Asia Examining the codes and conventions of how these films tell us about the past and providing guidance on how to effectively analyse films as historical interpretations this book is an essential introduction to the field for students of history and film      The History of Cinema: A Very Short Introduction

Geoffrey Nowell-Smith, 2017-11-16 Cinema was the first and is arguably still the greatest of the industrialized art forms that came to dominate the cultural life of the twentieth century Today it continues to adapt and grow as new technologies and viewing platforms become available and remains an integral cultural and aesthetic entertainment experience for people the world over Cinema developed against the backdrop of the two world wars and over the years has seen smaller wars revolutions and profound social changes Its history reflects this changing landscape and more than any other art form developments in technology In this Very Short Introduction Nowell Smith looks at the defining moments of the industry from silent to sound black and white to colour and considers its genres from intellectual art house to mass market entertainment ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introduction series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

American History/American Film John E. O'Connor, Martin A. Jackson, 2016-10-06 In this pioneering work sixteen historians analyse individual films for deeper insight into US institutions values and lifestyles Linking all of the essays is the belief that film holds much of value for the historian seeking to understand and interpret American history and culture This title will be equally valuable for students and scholars in history using film for analysis as well as film students and scholars exploring the way social and historical circumstances are reflected and represented in film      A World History of Film
Robert Sklar, 2002 Winner of a prestigious Kraszna Krausz Foundation Book Award in 1996 Film An International History of the Medium now in its second edition presents the entire history of motion pictures from pre cinema to the present Providing a complete analysis of the principal films directors and national cinemas it supplies a thorough grounding in the social economic and political circumstances critical to an understanding of film as both art and industry In a highly readable narrative Robert Sklar one of the field's most eminent scholars covers all significant periods and styles not only commercial films and classical Hollywood cinema but also animation documentaries international art cinema and the cinematic avant garde With emphasis on the international relationships among film communities chapters are devoted to such critical nodes of film history as early cinema Soviet silent cinema Hollywood genres Italian neorealism and the French New Wave Substantial sections are also devoted to the films of Eastern Europe Latin America Japan China Africa the Middle East and India Informative sidebars complement the main text and cross cultural timelines introduce the book's seven main parts Four totally new chapters on English language art cinema new European film world cinema and Hollywood bring the book's content up to the present Film An International History of the Medium is beautifully designed and illustrated by more than 750 film stills frame enlargements production shots and diagrams The 212 color plates include rare examples of early hand tinting pre cinema technology two and three color Technicolor as well as almost 100 new images from contemporary films

These stunning and instructive illustrations further illuminate the author's cogent analyses and wide ranging perspective. Chapter endnotes, a selected bibliography, a filmography and a complete glossary of terms complete this extraordinary volume.

An Economic History of Film John Sedgwick, Michael Pokorny, 2004-09-09 The movie industry boomed in the twentieth century and is still going strong today. However, the economics of movies has been curiously underexplored until now. Innovative and informative, this accessible book, which includes contributions from some of the leading experts in the area, is a huge step forward in our understanding of this important topic.

The New Film History J. Chapman, M. Glancy, S. Harper, 2007-04-25 The first major overview of the field of film history in twenty years, this book offers a wide ranging account of the methods, sources and approaches used by modern film historians. The key areas of research are analysed alongside detailed case studies centred on well known American, Australian, British and European films.

The Historical Film Marcia Landy, 2001-01-01 This aims to show how media critics and historians have written about history as portrayed in cinema and television by historical films and documentaries, focusing on what it means to read films historically and the colonial experience as shown in post colonial film.

Flashback Louis D. Giannetti, Scott Eyman, 2006 Consolidating major figures and film movements into their decade of greatest influence or prestige, this no nonsense book offers a generously illustrated, concise and very readable history of fiction movies, with an emphasis on American cinema. Eclectic in methodology and written in a plain English style that audiences can relate to, it examines the full scope of traditional film history and criticism, viewing film as both an art and an industry as it mirrors popular audience values, social ideologies and historical epochs. Film discussions include titles such as Forrest Gump, Jurassic Park, There's Something About Mary, Face/Off, The Lion King, Saving Private Ryan, Good Will Hunting, Pulp Fiction, Choosing Amy, The Piano, Menace II Society, Sweet Hereafter, The English Patient, Sense and Sensibility, Shakespeare in Live, The Full Monty, The Crying Game, Life is Beautiful and Like Water for Chocolate. For anyone who enjoys going to and thinking about the movies.

A Short History of the Movies Gerald Mast, 1971

A History of American Movies Paul Monaco, 2010 The book focuses on 170 of the most highly regarded and recognized feature films selected by the Hollywood establishment, each Oscar winner for Best Picture as well as those voted the greatest by members of the American Film Institute. By focusing on a select group of films that represent the epitome of these collaborations, Monaco provides an essential history of one of the modern world's most complex and successful cultural institutions: Hollywood. From publisher description.

History on Film/Film on History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2014-01-14 History on Film/Film on History demonstrates how films can be analyzed as historical sources. It offers undergraduates an introduction to some of the first issues involved with studying historical films. Rosenstone argues that to leave history films out of the discussion of the meaning of the past is to ignore a major factor in our understanding of past events. He examines what history films convey about the past and how they convey it, demonstrating the need to learn how to read and understand this new visual world. This new edition places this classic text in the context of work done elsewhere in the field over the ten years since this book first published and help to renew the title for a new generation of undergraduates

Film and History James Chapman, 2017-09-16 Film is the pre eminent mass medium of the modern age It is a valuable source of evidence for the study of both the past and the contemporary world and is a social practice that has affected the lives of millions How can historians engage with this important and influential medium Written for both students and teachers Film and History provides a concise accessible introduction to the use of film in historical enquiry and a summary of the main theoretical debates Charts the development of film history as a subject area and a discipline in its own right Considers different approaches to film history including film as an art form as ideology as a historical source and as a social practice Includes case studies to ground discussion of theories and approaches in specific examples Wide ranging and authoritative Film and History equips students with the methods both to analyse film texts and to understand the place of film in history and culture
