Literary Theory and the Claims of History Satya P. Mohanty, 2018-07-05 At the core of postmodern thought especially in literary theory is the belief that such ideals as truth reason and objectivity are social constructs that have no universal or trans historical validity In exploring this constructivist view Satya P Mohanty examines its underlying epistemological claims and their social and political implications His book points the way toward a critical alternative to the epistemological and cultural relativisms Mohanty grounds his critique in readings of some of the major figures of postmodernism including Paul de Man Louis Althusser Fredric Jameson and Jacques Derrida and analyzes the views of Mikhail Bakhtin C S Peirce Hilary Putnam and Richard Rorty particularly their notions of language and referentiality Mohanty defends a post positivist realist conception of objectivity as a legitimate ideal of all inquiry He outlines a realist theory of social identity and multicultural politics which sees radical moral universalism and cultural diversity as complementary not competing ideals

Rawls, Dewey, and Constructivism Eric Thomas Weber, 2010-09-23 Examines problems in Rawls epistemology approached from a Deweyan perspective to argue for a thoroughly constructivist idea of justice and its practical implications for education

The Politics of Race and Ethnicity in Matthew's Passion Narrative Wongi Park, 2019-01-21 In Matthew s passion narrative the ethnoracial identity of Jesus comes into sharp focus The repetition of the title King of the Judeans foregrounds the politics of race and ethnicity Despite the explicit use of terminology previous scholarship has understood the title curiously in non ethnoracial ways This book takes the peculiar omission in the history of interpretation as its point of departure It provides an expanded ethnoracial reading of the text and poses a fundamental ideological question that interrogates the pattern in the larger context of modern biblical scholarship Wongi Park issues a critique of the dominant narrative and presents an alternative reading of Matthew s passion narrative He identifies a critical vocabulary and framework of analysis to decode the politics of race and ethnicity implicit in the history of interpretation Ultimately the book lends itself to a broader research agenda the destabilization of the dominant narrative of early Christianity s non ethnoracial origins perspective on the issues Historical Dictionary of Catholicism William J. Collinge, 2021-08-15 This work covers the whole history of Catholicism including the periods of Christian history prior to the present divisions into Catholic Orthodox and Protestant but within the earlier periods it focuses on the story line that leads to Catholicism in the Roman Rite and particularly to Roman Catholicism in the United States The Historical Dictionary of Catholicism Third Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on important persons and places as well as themes such as baptism contraception labor church architecture the sexual abuse crisis Catholic history doctrine and theology spirituality and worship moral and social teaching and church structure This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Catholicism The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions, Volume III Timothy Larsen, Michael Ledger-Lomas, 2017-04-28 The five volume Oxford History of Dissenting Protestant Traditions series is governed by a motif of migration out of England It first traces organized church traditions that arose in England as Dissenters distanced themselves from a state church defined by diocesan episcopacy the Book of Common Prayer the Thirty Nine Articles and royal supremacy but then follows those traditions as they spread beyond England and also traces newer traditions that emerged downstream in other parts of the world from earlier forms of Dissent Secondly it does the same for the doctrines church practices stances toward state and society attitudes toward Scripture and characteristic patterns of organization that also originated in earlier English Dissent but that have often defined a trajectory of influence independent ecclesiastical organizations The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions Volume III considers the Dissenting traditions of the United Kingdom the British Empire and the United States in the nineteenth century It provides an overview of the historiography on Dissent while making the case for seeing Dissenters in different Anglophone connections as interconnected and conscious of their genealogical connections The nineteenth century saw the creation of a vast Anglo world which also brought Anglophone Dissent to its apogee Featuring contributions from a team of leading scholars the volume illustrates that in most parts of the world the later nineteenth century was marked by a growing enthusiasm for the moral and educational activism of the state which plays against the idea of Dissent as a static purely negative identity This collection shows that Dissent was a political and constitutional identity which was often only strong where a dominant Church of England existed to dissent against

Jousting with John Adele Reinhartz, 2024-12-30 The Gospel of John is a book that tantalizes and disturbs in equal measure Its sublime imagery makes spirits soar Its positive portrayal of women such as the Samaritan woman the Bethany sisters and Mary Magdalene tickle the imagination when it comes to the roles of women in the early church Its disparagement of the Jews however reverberates through the long history of anti Judaism and antisemitism to this very day Adele Reinhartz has been one of the foremost interpreters of the Gospel of John for the past thirty years and more This volume contains a selection of her essays on the Fourth Gospel originally published from 1991 to 2020 The collection focuses on four major themes Essays on Gender consider the Gospel's portrayal of female characters its christological use of female imagery and the possibility of reading social history into or out of the Fourth Gospel Essays on the Jews explore the representation of the ioudaioi and respond to approaches employed by scholars to address the fraught question of anti Judaism The section on Method includes essays that apply different approaches such as trauma theory postcolonial theory and literary and rhetorical criticism to issues in Johannine studies The final section on Ethics considers ethics from two perspectives the ethical stance s that a reader brings to her reading of John and the question of whether the Gospel portrays Jesus as an ethical actor

David Being a Prophet Benjamin Sargent, 2014-05-26 This book seeks to identify a distinct approach to interpreting Scripture in the New Testament that makes use of assumptions about a text's author or time of composition Focusing upon the Epistle to the Hebrews the Acts of the Apostles and the Davidsohnfrage in the Synoptic Gospels it is argued that in certain cases the meaning of a scriptural text is understood by the New Testament author to be contingent upon its history that the meaning of a text is found when the identity of its author is taken into account or when its time of origin is considered This approach to interpretation appears to lack clear precedents in intertestamental and 1st Century exegetical literature suggesting that it is dependent upon distinctly Christian notions of Heilsgeschichte The analysis of the Davidsohnfrage suggests also that the origins of this approach to interpretation may be associated with traditions of Jesus exegetical sayings A final chapter questions whether an early Christian use of history in the interpretation of Scripture might offer something to contemporary discussion of the continuing relevance of historical criticism

Feminist Challenges Carole Pateman, Elizabeth Grosz, 2013-10-09 In Feminist Challenges new and established scholars demonstrate the application of feminism in a range of academic disciplines including history philosophy politics and sociology As Carole Pateman notes in her introduction all the contributors raise some extremely far reaching questions about the conventional assumptions and methods of contemporary social and political inquiry

Taking Away the Pound Elizabeth V. Dowling, 2007-04-26 Against the majority opinion this study argues that the Lukan Parable of the Talents Lk 19 11-28 is a story about the use and abuse of power The parable is also the story of those who suffer adverse consequences when they oppose unjust power structures This suppression of challenge to oppressive structures evidenced in the Parable of the Pounds fits a pattern that operates in other parts of the Lukan Gospel. We meet it for example in the arrest and killing of John the Baptist by Herod and in the arrest and crucifixion of Jesus. The Parable of the Pounds can be seen as a paradigm for the stories of those characters in the Lukan Gospel who lose their pound when they challenge an oppressive structure where pound becomes a metaphor for what one has that can be potentially taken away by those in a position of power. This study argues that this pattern of taking away the pound is also seen within stories of women characters who resist patriarchal ideals and expectations. The Parable of the Pounds is used as a lens through which to view the characterizations of Lukan women. New lenses provide new opportunities for perception. This study explores what is opened up by this way of viewing the text. In particular it explores the ways in which the dynamic of the Parable of the Pounds gives insight into the dynamic operating in the Lukan women's characterizations.

LNTS The New Cambridge Companion to Biblical Interpretation Ian Boxall, Bradley C. Gregory, 2022-12-22 This volume provides an up to date introduction to the diverse ways the Bible is being interpreted by scholars in the field

De-Introducing the New Testament Todd Penner, Davina Lopez, 2015-04-08 In De-Introducing the New Testament the authors argue for a renewed commitment to the defamiliarizing power of New Testament studies and a reclaiming of the discipline as one that exemplifies the best practices of the humanities. A new approach that asks us to defamiliarize what we think we know about the New Testament articulating themes and questions about its study that encourage further reflection and engagement. Looks behind the traditional ways in which the NT is introduced to critically engage the conceptual framework of the field as a whole. Provides a critical intervention into several methodological impasses in contemporary NT scholarship. Offers an appraisal of the relationship between economics and culture in the production of NT scholarship. Written in a style that is clear and concise ideal for student readership.

Women and New Hollywood Aaron Hunter, Martha Shearer, 2023-05-12 The 1970s has often been hailed as a great moment for American film as a generation of New Hollywood directors like Scorsese, Coppola and Altman offered idiosyncratic visions of what movies could be. Yet the auteurist discourse hailing these directors as the sole authors of their films has obscured the important creative roles women played in the 1970s American film industry. Women and New Hollywood revises our understanding of this important era in American film by examining the contributions that women made not only as directors but also as screenwriters, editors, actors, producers and critics. Including essays on film history, film texts and the decade's film theory and criticism, this collection showcases the rich and varied cinematic products of women's creative labor as well as the considerable barriers they faced. It considers both women working within and beyond the Hollywood film industry, reconceptualizing New Hollywood by bringing it into dialogue with other American cinemas of the 1970s. By valuing the many forms of creative labor involved in film production, this collection offers exciting alternatives to the auteurist model and new ways of appreciating the themes and aesthetics of 1970s American film.
