Nation and the Writing of History in China and Britain, 1880-1930 Asier Hernández Aguirresarobe, 2022-08-19 Nation and the Writing of History in China and Britain explores through a comparative approach the reception of the nationalist worldview and its effects on the practice of history in China and Britain This book proposes that nationalism rather than a political doctrine is a way of making sense of the world which results from the combination of a set of definite assumptions The work analyzes how each one of these premises was accepted and negotiated by literati intellectuals historians and other scholars in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The results of this research showcase how the reception of the new nationalist worldview crucially affected images of the past the present and the future in both societies and decisively framed cultural social and political debate In addition they likewise evidence the fundamental role that historical narratives play in the crystallization of national identities This book is perfect for readers interested in China and Britain during this time period but also to anyone attracted to new ways of conceiving nationalism and its role in our world
