In Search of Ourselves Frank E. Poirier, William A. Stini, Kathy B. Wreden, 1990-01-01 In Search of Ourselves : an Introduction to Physical Anthropology Douglas E. Schoen (D. Phil), 1977 The Concept of Race in Natural and Social Science E. Nathaniel Gates, 2014-05-01

Explores the concept of race The term race which originally denoted genealogical or class identity has in the comparatively brief span of 300 years taken on an entirely new meaning In the wake of the Enlightenment it came to be applied to social groups This ideological transformation coupled with a dogmatic insistence that the groups so designated were natural and not socially created gave birth to the modern notion of races as genetically distinct entities The results of this view were the encoding of race and racial hierarchies in law literature and culture How racial categories facilitate social control The articles in the series demonstrate that the classification of humans according to selected physical characteristics was an arbitrary decision that was not based on valid scientific method They also examine the impact of colonialism on the propagation of the concept and note that racial categorization is a powerful social force that is often used to promote the interests of dominant social groups Finally the collection surveys how laws based on race have been enacted around the world to deny power to minority groups A multidisciplinary resource This collection of outstanding articles brings multiple perspectives to bear on race theory and draws on a wider range of periodicals than even the largest library usually holds Even if all the articles were available on campus chances are that a student would have to track them down in several libraries and microfilm collections Providing of course that no journals were reserved for graduate students out for binding or simply missing This convenient set saves students substantial time and effort by making available all the key articles in one reliable source Authoritative commentary The series editor has put together a balanced selection of the most significant works accompanied by expert commentary A general introduction gives important background information and outlines fundamental issues current scholarship and scholarly controversies Introductions to individual volumes put the articles in context and draw attention to germinal ideas and major shifts in the field After reading the material even a beginning student will have an excellent grasp of the basics of the subject

Erect Men/Undulating Women Melanie G. Wiber, 2006-01-01 Based on intensive study of human origin illustrations responses from students and colleagues and research into reconstructive illustration and feminist criticism of Western art this ground breaking book traces the subtle ways in which paleoanthropological conventions have influenced and have shifted in the creation of these illustrations Wiber reveals that embedded meanings in these illustrations go beyond gender to include two other ubiquitous themes racial superiority and upward cultural progress Underlying all these themes she found a basic conservatism in the paleoanthropological approach to evolutionary theory Erect Men Undulating Women provides a deeper understanding of popularized illustrations of human origins but more importantly it encourages readers to gain a sensitivity to the ways in which Western culture constructs scientific findings that are compatible with its deeply held beliefs and values National

Blunsom,2013-04 We live in our nations but what other nations do may affect us and sometimes immensely We are all members of the world community of people living in our dangerous world The purpose of the following book is to consider the laws and practices that govern our nations and through them our world It builds on the premise that unless we change and improve our laws the human race may not survive in the future It is not about any particular nation but about all nations Many citizens believe their nations are ideal providing freedom and justice and with governments representative of the people This may be true in their minds and according to their beliefs but the dangers and sufferings of the world continue They are the concern of us all because they affect all people The world has changed vastly from the past It is technically more advanced but also more dangerous because of nuclear and other deadly weapons and widespread poverty and diseases in overgrown populations The past in spite of its myriad wars and premature deaths has survived Can our present world using the same instruments power nations positive laws strictly enforced retaliations and harsh punishments also survive The answer may be an unequivocal no reverberating through future power wars We need a fresh outlook different laws and a new phase of global society to replace the past Legal philosophers have proclaimed many varieties of laws including eternal laws provided by God and natural laws according to human nature Most are nonenforced laws that
