The Celtic Unconscious Richard Barlow, 2017-03-30 The Celtic Unconscious offers a vital new interpretation of modernist literature through an examination of James Joyce's employment of Scottish literature and philosophy as well as a commentary on his portrayal of shared Irish and Scottish histories and cultures Barlow also offers an innovative look at the strong influences that Joyce's predecessors had on his work including James Macpherson James Hogg David Hume Robert Burns and Robert Louis Stevenson The book draws upon all of Joyce's major texts but focuses mainly on Finnegans Wake in making three main interrelated arguments that Joyce applies what he sees as a specifically Celtic viewpoint to create the atmosphere of instability and skepticism of Finnegans Wake that this reasoning is divided into contrasting elements which reflect the deep religious and national divide of post 1922 Ireland but which have their basis in Scottish literature and finally that despite the illustration of the contrasts and divisions of Scottish and Irish history Scottish literature and philosophy are commissioned by Joyce as part of a program of artistic decolonization which is enacted in Finnegans Wake The Celtic Unconscious is the first book length study of the role of Scottish literature in Joyce's work and is a vital contribution to the fields of Irish and Scottish studies This book will appeal to scholars and students of Joyce and to students interested in Irish studies Scottish studies and English literature

Powell,2000-11-09 The most comprehensive state project book is set in the heartland of Ireland Its story line relates the relationship between two men in a love that dares not speak its name While that is the story line the theme of conflict between good and evil runs through the book Les Hamilton is a young protestant man who came to Munchindun to establish a forest He meets up with a young unemployed penniless son of a gamekeeper called Pete Donovan and the two men fall in love Les transforms Pete s life and the life of the parish The relationship between the two men is bitterly opposed by a nurse Mary Mc Menamin who was originally the girl friend of Pete. Her hatred of the two men and her involvement in the paramilitary politics of hate sectarianism and bigotry drive her to commit the murder of Les. Mary is put on trial for murder and on the testimony of Pete she is sentenced to life imprisonment for murder. In retaliation against Pete for giving evidence to a British court the IRA sentence him to death and have him shot. In the wider field the novel is set against a background of violence and unrest in Ireland in the 1970s. The thrust of the novel has to do not only with a conflict of good and evil between those who do good and those who do evil in a rural parish but this conflict is seen to run through Irish history where the good and the rational are wiped out by those who do evil, are irrational and are sectarian.
