Janda, 1998-03-01 Tests designed to help job seekers make career choices have traditionally been time consuming and expensive. But psychologists have made major breakthroughs in developing tests that you can take on your own. These tests can help you determine if you're on the right track by teaching you how to evaluate your personality and then match your interests and abilities to the right job for you. These tests are fun to take, easy to understand, and invaluable in helping you choose the right career path. They'll help you confront serious topics such as: How do I really feel about my current job? Do I have the right stuff to succeed at work? What do I want to do with my life? What's the best career choice I can make? Is this the right job for me?

AUTHOR: Louis Janda, Ph.D., is a professor of psychology at Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia, and a practicing clinical psychologist. His practice includes psychological testing for private business and industry.
