Innovation in Learning-Oriented Language Assessment Sin Wang Chong,Hayo Reinders,2023-03-03 This edited book documents practices of learning oriented language assessment through practitioner research and research syntheses Learning oriented language assessment refers to language assessment strategies that capitalise on learner differences and their relationships with the learning environments. In other words, learners are placed at the centre of the assessment process and its outcomes. The book features 17 chapters on learning oriented language assessment practices in China, Brazil, Turkey, Norway, UK, Canada, Japan, Saudi Arabia and Spain. Chapters include teachers' reflections and practical suggestions. This book will appeal to researchers, teacher educators and language teachers who are interested in advancing research and practice of learning oriented language assessment.

Digital Teaching for Linguistics Rebecca Gregory, Jessica Norledge, Peter Stockwell, Paweł Szudarski, 2021-12-30. Digital Teaching for Linguistics reimagines the teaching of linguistics in a digital environment. It provides both an introduction to digital pedagogy and a discussion of technologically driven teaching practices that could be applied to any field of study. Drawing on the authors' extensive experience of successful delivery of web based instruction and assessment, this book provides extended analysis and discussion of the best practices for teaching in an online and blended context. Features examples and case studies based on current research and teaching practice. Proposes new methods of teaching and assessment in line with innovations in educational technology. This book is essential reading for educators in the areas of linguistics, English language and education seeking guidance and advice on how to design or adapt their teaching for a digital world.

Student Engagement in the Digital University Lesley Gourlay, Martin Oliver, 2018-02-02. Student Engagement in the Digital University challenges mainstream conceptions and assumptions about students' engagement with digital resources in Higher Education. While engagement in online learning environments is often reduced to sets of transferable skills or typological categories, the authors propose that these experiences must be understood as embodied, socially situated and taking place in complex networks of human and nonhuman actors. Using empirical data from a JISC funded project on digital literacies, this book performs a sociomaterial analysis of student technology interactions, complicating the optimistic and utopian narratives surrounding technology and education today and positing far reaching implications for research policy and practice.

How To Design And Deliver Enhanced Modules Medlicott, Diana, 2009-06-01. This book will help university and further education tutors to engage and motivate their learners and create learning environments which will encourage assessment success and very importantly retention of students. It provides a practical approach on how to challenge the standard module structures and start to create much more fun and engaging approach to teaching in higher and further education. The book is split into two sections: designing and delivering. The author draws from her own research and experience to create ideas and approaches that readers will be able to apply immediately to their own situations and teaching experiences.

The Learning Wheel Deborah Kellsey, Amanda Taylor-Beswick, 2025-02-28. Given the influence of digital technologies on the world at large, education and educators are yet again being forced to consider their educational practices. Not all educators have been socialised professionally to use technologies and therefore knowledge gaps exist. This book adds to emerging conversations about the use of technologies to support and indeed replace traditional teaching methodologies in a range of educational settings It offers an example of innovative approach LearningWheel to bridge the afore mentioned knowledge gap and provides an opportunity for readers to engage with technologies for teaching and learning purposes Beginning with an outline of how technologies are shaping the learning landscape more broadly each subsequent chapter takes on a layer of the LearningWheel and sets it in context from a theoretical position An example wheel is included in each chapter as are stop and pause questions to prompt educators to engage with the content in a very real sense By the end of the book readers will have had the opportunity to connect with the LearningWheel VCoP in the development of a Learning Wheel unique to this book Proceedings of the Third International Conference on Innovations in Computing Research (ICR'24) Kevin Daimi,Abeer Al Sadoon,2024-07-31 The Third International Conference on Innovations in Computing Research ICR 24 August 12 14 2024 Athens Greece brings together a diverse group of researchers from all over the world with the intent of fostering collaboration and dissemination of the innovations in computing technologies The conference is aptly segmented into six tracks to promote a birds of the same feather congregation and maximize participation ICR 24 book concentrates on innovations in research in the areas of Data Science Computer Science and Computer Engineering Education Computer and Network Security Health Informatics and Digital Imaging Internet of Things and Smart Cities and Smart Energy It introduces the concepts techniques methods approaches and trends needed by researchers graduate students specialists and educators for keeping current and enhancing their research and knowledge in these areas
