Miller, 1993-01-01 This overview of the sister arts of the nineteenth century by younger scholars in art history literature and American studies presents a startling array of perspectives on the fundamental role played by images in culture and society Drawing on the latest thinking about vision and visibility as well as on recent developments in literary theory and cultural studies the contributors situate paintings sculpture monument art and literary images within a variety of cultural contexts The volume offers fresh and sometimes extended discussions of single works as well as reevaluations of artistic and literary conventions and analyses of the economic social and technological forces that gave them shape and were influenced by them in turn A wide range of figures are significantly reassessed including the painters Charles Willson Peale Washington Allston Thomas Cole George Caleb Bingham Fitz Hugh Lane and Mary Cassatt and such writers as James Fenimore Cooper Nathaniel Hawthorne Henry David Thoreau and William Dean Howells One overarching theme to emerge is the development of an American national subjectivity as it interacted with the transformation of a culture dominated by religious values to one increasingly influenced by commercial imperatives The essays probe the ways in which artists and writers responded to the changing conditions of the cultural milieu as it was mediated by such factors as class and gender modes of perception and representation and conflicting ideals and realities Power-Lined Daniel L. Wuebben,2019-07-01 The proliferation of electric communication and power networks have drawn wires through American landscapes like vines through untended gardens since 1844 But these wire networks are more than merely the tools and infrastructure required to send electric messages and power between distinct places the iconic lines themselves send powerful messages The wiry webs above our heads and the towers rhythmically striding along the horizon symbolize the ambiguous effects of widespread industrialization and the shifting values of electricity and landscape in the American mind In Power Lined Daniel L Wuebben weaves together personal narrative historical research cultural analysis and social science to provide a sweeping investigation of the varied influence of overhead wires on the American landscape and the American mind Wuebben shows that overhead wires from Morse s telegraph to our high voltage grid not only carry electricity between American places but also create electrified spaces that signify and complicate notions of technology nature progress and most recently renewable energy infrastructure Power Lined exposes the subtle influences wrought by the wiring of the nation and shows that even in this age of wireless devices perceptions of overhead lines may be key in progressing toward a more sustainable energy future A Dictionary of the Avant-Gardes Richard Kostelanetz,2018-11-15 Twenty five years after the publication of A Dictionary of the Avant Gardes the distinguished critic and arts historian Richard Kostelanetz returns to his favorite subject for a third edition Rewriting earlier entries adding hundreds of new ones Kostelanetz provides intelligence and information unavailable anywhere else no less in print than online about a wealth of subjects and individuals Focused upon what is truly innovative and excellent he ranges widely with insight and surprise including appreciations of artistic athletes such as Muhammad Ali Johan Cruyff and the Harlem Globetrotters and such collective creations as Las Vegas and his native New York City Continuing the traditions of cheeky high style Dictionarysts honoring Samuel Johnson and Nicolas Slonimsky both with individual entries Kostelanetz offers a reference book to be enjoyed not only in bits and chunks but continuously as one of the dozen books someone would take if they planned to be stranded on a desert isle Transporting Visions Jennifer L. Jaffe, 1989 Annotation Sixteen essays examine aspects of American art that owe a debt to Italy and Italian artists A central theme is the tension between perceptions of Italy as a mythic presence the visual incarnation of spirit and a contrasting ambivalence felt by many Americans about the cultural ties binding them to Europe despite their political independence With some 200 illustrations 36 in color Not indexed Pre publication price 49 95 until 12 31 90 Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Grand Themes Jochen Wierich, 2012-01-01 Explores history painting in the United States during the middle decades of the nineteenth century as exemplified by Emanuel Leutze s Washington Crossing the Delaware 1851 Includes the work of artists such as Daniel Huntington Lilly Martin Spencer and Eastman Johnson Provided by publisher The Visual Arts and Christianity in America John Dillenger, 2004-09-13 How has religion affected the creation and patronage of American art This is the question explored in The Visual Arts and Christianity in America the most comprehensive treatment of this subject to date With its 184 illustrations the volume is a visual and textual survey of both the religious paintings statuary and architecture produced in America since colonial times and the attitudes toward such art expressed by the artists the clergy and the religious press By means of a multifaceted approach that includes investigation of biographical journalistic art historical as well as religious literature a broad range of art objects and buildings are carefully placed in their social and intellectual context Part One presents the colonial backdrop both English and Spanish against which and out of which the ensuing developments in American art and religious life took shape Part Two treats nineteenth century views of art and architecture focusing on the views held by the clergy and conveyed in religious journals as well as the religious views of the artists and architects themselves In Part Three devoted to art in private and public life major issues emerge that will remain as such into the twentieth century the relation between nature and history the place of art in civil religion and the presence or absence of explicit biblical themes The fourth and entirely new portion of the book devoted to the twentieth century examines the continuities and discontinuities in style and content between nineteenth and twentieth century art in relation to spiritual and religious perceptions Cutting a Figure Richard J. Powell, 2008 Examining portraits of black people over the past two centuries Cutting a Figure argues that these images should be viewed as a distinct category of portraiture that differs significantly from depictions of people with other racial and ethnic backgrounds The difference Richard Powell contends lies in the social capital that stems directly from the black subject s power to subvert dominant racist representations by evincing such traits as self composure self adornment and self imagining Powell forcefully supports this argument with evidence drawn from a survey of nineteenth century portraits in depth case studies of the postwar fashion model Donyale Luna and the contemporary portraitist Barkley L Hendricks and insightful analyses of images created since the late 1970s Along the way he discusses major artists such as Fr d ric Bazille John Singer Sargent James Van Der Zee and David Hammons alongside such overlooked producers of black visual culture as the Tonka and Nike corporations Combining previously unpublished images with scrupulous archival research Cutting a Figure illuminates the ideological nature of the genre and the centrality of race and cultural identity in understanding modern and contemporary portraiture Imago Musicae, Volume III
