Ethnographic Self Fieldwork And The Representation Of Identity:

The Ethnographic Self Amanda Coffey, 1999-03-10 What are the relationships between the self and fieldwork How do personal emotional and identity issues impact upon working in the field This book argues that ethnographers and others involved in fieldwork should be aware of how fieldwork research and ethnographic writing construct reproduce and implicate selves relationships and personal identities All too often research methods texts remain relatively silent about the ways in which fieldwork affects us and we affect the field The book attempts to synthesize accounts of the personal experience of ethnography In doing so the author makes sense of the process of fieldwork research as a set of practical intellectual and emotional accomplishments The book is thematically arranged and illustrated with a wide range of empirical material

The Ethnographic Self as Resource Peter Jeffrey Collins, Anselma Gallinat, 2010 An excellent collection of anthropological autobiographical essays focusing on the positionality and resource of the self in ethnography The essays are engaging and well written and remind me of some of those classic anthropological ethnographic collections interesting in their own right to read but also serving as a good teaching resource Amanda Coffey Cardiff University

Researching Identity and Interculturality Fred Dervin, Karen Risager, 2014-09-19 This volume focuses on advances in research methodology in an interdisciplinary field framed by discourses of identity and interculturality It includes a range of qualitative studies studies of interaction narrative studies conversation analysis ethnographic studies postcolonial studies and critical discourse studies and emphasizes the role of discourse and power in all studies of identity and interculturality The volume particularly focuses on critical reflexivity in every stage of research including reflections on theoretical concepts such as identity and interculturality and their relationship with methodology and analytical practice reflections on researcher identity and subjectivity reflections on local and global contexts of research and reflections on language choice and linguacultural aspects of data generation analysis and communication Culture and Dialogue Vol.3, No. 2 (2013) Issue on "Identity and Dialogue" Gerald Cipriani, 2014-05-02 Volume 3 Number 2 of Culture and Dialogue focuses on the theme of identity and dialogue All the essays gathered in this volume address issues of identity with concrete examples and from different perspectives be they art philosophy politics religion gender or ethnic studies All essays describe and question the relational element at work in identity formation within different cultural contexts such as Japan America Corsica Mongolia Norway Australia Italy and Ireland Hiroshi Yoshioka offers a topical critique of what lays behind the fashionable self portrait of Japanese cultural identity as Cool Japan in all its uniqueness Sandra Wawrytko addresses the sensitive issue of gun culture in American identity by resorting to Mah y na Buddhist conceptions of failed interconnectedness Dominique Verdoni discusses cultural identity formation with particular reference to the Corsican language and literature against the background of more dominant or regulating cultures Angelika B ck shows how art practice can disclose the processes involved in any attempts to represent otherness including when different groups such as Mongolian herders Sami singers and Australian Aboriginal hunters use other cultural codes and perspectives Francesca Pierini critically reflects upon the culturally biased ways in which Anglo American literature has traditionally portrayed Italian culture an orientalist imagined identity The selection of essays closes with Hannah Hale s study on a very specific aspect of gender identity formation how eating and drinking habits shape the development of masculinities within a community of students All essays in one way or another disclose how identity formation is conditioned by or emerges from relationships between self and otherness inside and outside or minor and dominant cultures As paradoxical as it may seem the more we relate to each other the more identity becomes an issue

Negotiating Group Identity in the Research

Process Anastacia Kurylo, 2016-10-28 Negotiating Group Identity in the Research Process Are You In or Are You Out focuses on researcher identity and the role it plays in conducting research whether as a member of the culture being studied i.e. an insider or as an outsider to that culture Contributors address the problems researchers face as insiders and outsiders the practical strategies used to overcome related obstacles the implications of insider outsider status for the design of the study the value of insider and outsider perspectives the impact of this on the findings of a study the implications for advocating on behalf of a group being studied and other important topics These scholars are from within and outside the field of communication and include well known and emerging scholars who have studied a multitude of groups using various methodological strategies

International Handbook of Interpretation in Educational Research Paul Smeyers,David Bridges,Nicholas C.
Burbules,Morwenna Griffiths,2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled p dagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies

The Oxford Handbook of Identities in Organizations Andrew D. Brown, 2020-01-09. Conceived as the meanings that individuals attach to their selves, a substantial stockpile of theory related to identities accumulated across the arts social sciences and humanities over many decades continues to nourish contemporary research on self identities in organizations. In times which are more reflexive narcissistic and fluid, the identities of participants in organizations are increasingly less fixed and less certain, making identity issues both more salient and more interesting. Particular attention has been given to processes of identity construction, often styled identity work. Research has focused on how, why and when such processes occur and their implications for organizing and individual group and organizational outcomes. This has resulted in a burgeoning stream of research from discursive dramaturgical symbolic socio-cognitive and psychodynamic perspectives that most often casts individuals' efforts to fabricate identities as intentional, relational and consequential. Seemingly intractable debates centred on the nature of identities, their relative stability or fluidity, whether they are best regarded as coherent or fractured, positive or not, and how they are fabricated within relations of power combined with other conceptual issues, continue to invigorate the field. However, these debates have also led to some scepticism regarding the future potential of identities research. Yet as the chapters in this Handbook demonstrate, there are considerable grounds for optimism that identity as root metaphor, nexus concept and means to bridge levels of analysis has significant potential to generate multiple compelling streams of theorizing in organization and management studies.

Researching Sustainability Alex Franklin, Paul Blyton, 2013-11-12. This book is for students and researchers across the social sciences who are planning, conducting and disseminating research on sustainability-related issues. Real-world sustainability problems cross many boundaries, and this is the first book to guide students and practitioners through the practical and theoretical challenges of doing interdisciplinary research in this vital and emerging area. Researching Sustainability contains many in-depth hands-on accounts by expert contributors providing real-life examples and lessons that can be put to use immediately. Coverage includes the general challenges that sustainability presents to researchers, including frictions between sustainability and scientific tradition, complexity, research paradigms, interdisciplinarity, social environmental interactions and ethical concerns, a host of social science-based research methods and approaches. Each chapter presents a different method, its challenges and suitability for different situations, and an in-depth example of the method.

in action insights and lessons dissemination of sustainability research findings including influencing policy communicating with school children and working with the media The book concludes with a critical synthesis of issues and methods examined in the book together with a discussion of future research pathways This book is an essential tool for students researchers and practitioners in planning implementing and evaluating their sustainability research     Love, Sex, and Desire in Modern Egypt L. L. Wynn, 2018-11-23 Cairo is a city obsessed with honor and respectability and love affairs Sara a working class woman has an affair with a married man and becomes pregnant only to be abandoned by him Ayah and Zeid a respectably engaged couple argue over whether Ayah's friend is a prostitute or a virgin Malak a European belly dancer who sometimes gets paid for sex wants to be loved by a man who won't treat her like a whore just because she's a dancer and Alia a Christian banker who left her abusive husband is the mistress of a wealthy Muslim man Haroun who encourages business by hosting risqu parties for other men and their mistresses Set in transnational Cairo over two decades Love Sex and Desire in Modern Egypt is an ethnography that explores female respectability male honor and Western theories and fantasies about Arab society L L Wynn uses stories of love affairs to interrogate three areas of classic anthropological theory mimesis kinship and gift She develops a broad picture of how individuals love and desire within a cultural and political system that structures the possibilities of and penalties for going against sexual and gender norms Wynn demonstrates that love is at once a moral horizon an attribute that naturally inheres in particular social relations a social phenomenon strengthened through cultural concepts of gift and kinship and an emotion deeply felt and desired by individuals     Deviance and Risk on Holiday D. Briggs, 2013-07-18 This book represents the first attempt to step inside the holiday experience of young British tourists in San Antonio Ibiza Briggs ethnographic study reveals the ugly truth about how and why they get involved in deviance and risk taking when they go abroad driven by self validation and a commodified social context     Practical Theology Joanna Z. Ray, 2007-06-25 Through societal inequalities and the misuse of power a psychological burden of disablement is imposed upon people of faith with epilepsy this disempowerment is challenged by this work and an attempt has been made to highlight distorted applications of scripture and practice
