Seelev.1973-06-18 Sustainability in the Coastal Urban Environment Ahmed Z. Khan, Le Xuan Ouvnh, Eric Corijn, Frank Canters, 2013-12-31 The process of globalization has been in the focus for much discussion and debate over its benefits and downsides Globalisation has helped to raise productivity and employment lift millions out of poverty revolutionised communications boosted international cooperation fostered competition boosted global economic growth and interdependencies through trade and FDI flows and facilitated scientific discoveries Gurria 2007 However at the same time globalization is also blamed for a growing uncertainty and insecurity in the job market depressed wages increasing inequality overexploitation of irreplaceable natural resources the transfer of political power to large multinationals operating outside of the democratic processes and the sacrifice of cultural and other values to the dictates of the marketplace Rates, Trends, Causes, and Consequences of Urban Land-use Change in the United States William Acevedo, 2006 Mapping the Chemical Environment of Urban Areas Christopher C. Johnson, Alecos Demetriades, Juan Locutura, Rolf Tore Ottesen, 2011-02-11 This comprehensive text focuses on the increasingly important issues of urban geochemical mapping with key coverage of the distribution and behaviour of chemicals and compounds in the urban environment Clearly structured throughout the first part of the book covers general aspects of urban chemical mapping with an overview of current practice and reviews of different aspects of the component methodologies. The second part includes case histories from different urban areas around Europe authored by those national or academic institutions tasked with investigating the chemical environments of their major urban centers Advancements in Urban Environmental Studies Atiqur Rahman, Shouraseni Sen Roy, Swapan Talukdar, Shahfahad, 2023-03-03 According to UN estimates approximately nearly half of the world's population now lives in cities and that figure is expected to rise to almost 70% by 2050 Cities now account for around 70% of worldwide greenhouse gas emissions and this percentage is predicted to rise in the near future as a result of projected increases in global urbanization patterns. It is widely acknowledged that irrational urban planning and design can increase emissions while also exacerbating threats and risks resulting in a slew of environmental issues such as urban heat islands air pollution flooding amongst other issues as well as environmental social and economic losses. Therefore these concerns must be addressed promptly in order to cope up with these rising difficulties and make urban environments safer for residents. With the advancement of remote sensing technology and the use of current remote observation systems urban data science remote sensing and artificial intelligence AI modeling and quantifying emergent difficulties in urban regions and urban systems have become easy. They aid in the quantitative analysis of urban shape functions and human behavior in cities. Harvesting data developing models and suggesting new methodologies will be aided by combining urban ecology with new breakthroughs in data science. This book is of great value to a diverse group of academicians scientists students environmentalists meteorologists urban planners remote sensing and GIS experts with a common interest in geospatial sciences within the earth environmental sciences as well as human and social sciences.
