

The background of the book cover is a detailed illustration of a sea channel. Several steamships are depicted sailing across the water, leaving white wakes. The sky is filled with large, billowing white clouds. In the upper right corner, a small coastal town with buildings and a harbor is visible. The overall color palette is dominated by deep blues and greens for the water, and warm, golden-yellow for the clouds.

P. MacKenzie,2019-08-08 Since the Second World War depictions of Royal Air Force operations in film and television drama have become so numerous that they make up a genre worthy of scholarly attention In this illuminating study S P MacKenzie explores the different ways in which the men of RAF Bomber Command have been represented in dramatic form on the big and small screen from the war years to the present day Bomber Boys on Screen is the first in depth study of how and why the screen drama image of those who flew those who directed them and those who provided support for RAF bomber operations has changed over time sometimes in contested circumstances Until now dramas that focus on Bomber Command have tended to be mentioned only in passing or studied in isolation despite the prevalence of surveys of both the British war film genre and of aviation cinema In Bomber Boys on Screen MacKenzie examines the development presentation and reception of significant dramas on a decade by decade basis Titles from the beginning of the war The Lion Has Wings 1939 to the start of new century Bomber s Moon 2014 are situated in the context of technical possibilities and limitations evolving social and cultural norms in the United Kingdom and elsewhere and the development of moral and utilitarian controversies surrounding the wartime bomber offensive directed against Nazi Germany While the focus is on feature films and television plays reference is also made to documentaries memorials veterans organizations book titles war comics and other representations of the war fought by

Bomber Command      Battle of the Atlantic 1939-41 Mark Lardas, 2020-02-20 This is the David and Goliath story of how RAF Coastal Command battled with outdated aircraft against the deadly U boat fleet during the crucial first years of World War II At the start of World War II few thought the U boat would be as devastating as it proved to be But convoys and sonar equipped escorts proved inadequate to defend the Allies merchantmen and the RAF's only offensive weapon was the anti submarine warfare ASW aircraft For RAF Coastal Command the first two years of the war were the hardest Although starved of resources operating with outdated aircraft and often useless weaponry they were still the only force that could take the fight to the U boats But in these two years the RAF learned what it needed to win the Battle of the Atlantic Gradually developing new tactics and technology such as airborne radar signals intelligence and effective weaponry the Allies ended 1941 in a position to defeat Dönitz's growing fleet of U boats This book the first of two volumes explains the fascinating history of how the RAF kept the convoys alive against the odds and developed the force that would prevail in the climactic battles of 1942 and 1943

The Business of Reading Julian Lovelock, 2022-02-24 In The Business of Reading Julian Lovelock charts the development of the English novel over the past hundred years Smuggling in titles from Scotland Ireland and the Caribbean he focuses on twenty texts written since the end of the First World War some well known but others less so placing them in their historical context Novelists represented range from D H Lawrence E M Forster and Virginia Woolf through Graham Greene Kingsley Amis and Iris Murdoch to such contemporary writers as Ian McEwan Maggie O Farrel and Graham Swift Written in a lucid style that reflects his expertise and enthusiasm Lovelock's innovative selection perceptive analysis and lightness of touch will appeal to the general reader the book club member and the student He argues that our response as readers is an important part of the creative process and while he mainly avoids the criticalisms that have characterised recent academic debate he introduces such concepts as intertextuality metafiction and the role of the often unreliable narrator showing how an appreciation of the way the language of fiction works can only add to our understanding and enjoyment
