Nature and Landscape Allen Carlson, 2009 The roots of environmental aesthetics reach back to the ideas of eighteenth century thinkers who found nature an ideal source of aesthetic experience

Today having blossomed into a significant subfield of aesthetics environmental aesthetics studies and encourages the appreciation of not just natural environments but also human made and human modified landscapes Nature and Landscape is an important introduction to this rapidly growing area of aesthetic understanding and appreciation Allen Carlson begins by tracing the development of the field s historical background and then surveys contemporary positions on the aesthetics of nature such as scientific cognitivism which holds that certain kinds of scientific knowledge are necessary for a full appreciation of natural environments Carlson next turns to environments that have been created or changed by humans and the dilemmas that are posed by the appreciation of such landscapes He examines how to aesthetically appreciate a variety of urban and rural landscapes and concludes with a discussion of whether there is in general a correct way to aesthetically experience the environment

Pasture Landscapes and Nature Conservation Bernd

Redecker,Werner Härdtle,Peter Finck,Uwe Riecken,Eckhard Schröder,2012-12-06 One of the main problems and aims of nature conservation in Europe is to protect semi open landscapes The development during the past decades is characterized by an ongoing intensification of land use on the one hand and an increasing number of former meadows and pastures lying fallow caused by changing economic conditions on the other hand In several countries the establishment of larger pasture landscapes with a mixed character of open grassland combined with shrubs and forests has been recognized as one solution to this problem The book gives an overview of the European projects concerning to this topic nature conservation policy and strategies scientific results and practical experiences creating large scale grazing systems

Landscape Perspectives

Marc Antrop,Veerle Van Eetvelde,2017-12-19 Climb a mountain and experience the landscape Try to grasp its holistic nature Do not climb alone but with others and share your experience Be sure the ways of seeing the landscape will be very different We experience the landscape with all senses as a complex dynamic and hierarchically structured whole The landscape is tangible out there and simultaneously a mental reality Several perspectives are obvious because of language culture and background Many disciplines developed to study the landscape focussing on specific interest groups and applications Gradually the holistic way of seeing became lost This book explores the different perspectives on the landscape in relation to its holistic nature We start from its multiple linguistic meanings and a comprehensive overview of the development of landscape research from its geographical origins to the wide variety of today s specialised disciplines and interest groups Understanding the different perspectives on the landscapes and bringing them together is essential in transdisciplinary approaches where the landscape is the integrating concept

Thinking through Landscape Augustin Berque,2020-09-23

Our attitude to nature has changed over time This book explores the historical literary and philosophical origins of the changes in our attitude to nature that allowed environmental catastrophes to happen The book presents a philosophical reflection on human societies attitude to the environment informed by the history of the concept of landscape and the role played by the concept of nature in the human imagination It features a wealth of examples from around the world to help understand the contemporary environmental crisis in the context of both the built and natural environment Berque locates the start of this change in human labour and urban elites being cut off from nature Nature became an imaginary construct masking our real interaction with the natural world He argues that this gave rise to a theoretical and literary appreciation of landscape at the expense of an effective practical engagement with nature This mindset is a general feature of the world's civilizations manifested in similar ways in different cultures across Europe China North Africa and Australia Yet this approach did not have disastrous consequences until the advent of western industrialization As a phenomenological hermeneutics of human societies environmental relation to nature the book draws on Heideggerian ontology and Veblen's sociology It provides a powerful distinction between two attitudes to landscape the tacit knowledge of earlier peoples engaged in creating the landscape through their work landscaping thought and the explicit theoretical and aesthetic attitudes of modern city dwellers who love nature while belonging to a civilization that destroys the landscape landscape thinking This book gives a critical survey of landscape thought and theory for students researchers and anyone interested in human societies relation to nature in the fields of landscape studies environmental philosophy cultural geography and environmental history

Landscape, Nature, and the Sacred in Byzantium Veronica della Dora, 2016-02-04 Explores Byzantine perceptions of creation and different types of natural environments and the principles underpinning such perceptions

Landscape, Nature, and the Body Politic Kenneth Olwig, 2002-06-14 This text is an exploration of the origins and lasting influence of two contesting but intertwined discourses that persist today when we use the words landscape country scenery and nature

Landscape With Figures Kent C. Ryden, 2009-05-07 Kent Ryden does not deny that the natural landscape of New England is shaped by many centuries of human manipulation but he also takes the view that nature is everywhere close to home as well as in more remote wilderness in the city and in the countryside In Landscape with Figures he dissolves the border between culture and nature to merge ideas about nature experiences in nature and material alterations of nature Ryden takes his readers from the printed page directly to the field and back again He often bypasses books and goes to the trees from which they are made and the landscapes they evoke then returns with a renewed appreciation for just what an interdisciplinary historically informed approach can bring to our understanding of the natural world By exploring McPhee's The Pine Barrens and Ehrlich's The Solace of Open Spaces the coastal fiction of New England surveying and Thoreau's The Maine Woods Maine's abandoned Cumberland and Oxford Canal and the natural bases for New England's historical identity Ryden demonstrates again and again that nature and history are kaleidoscopically linked

Nature-Based Design in Landscape Architecture Bruce Sharky, 2024-02-28 Nature Based Design in Landscape Architecture showcases a range of built works designed by landscape architects from many countries of the world representing diverse environmental regions and uses These projects demonstrate the transformative potential of a nature based approach to landscape architecture The nature based design approach supports and encourages natural regeneration

with a view to promoting sustainable environments preserving natural resources and mitigating the impacts of climate change and development The projects selected for this book demonstrate the potential of nature based landscape design to support healthy natural and managed ecosystems sequester carbon and support the recovery of biodiversity In addition to examples of design led environmental interventions Nature Based Design in Landscape Architecture the book also demonstrates the potential for nature based design to improve people s relationship with their surroundings by encouraging them to be active participants in their communities As such each project featured in the book promotes a discussion around future scenarios in which landscape architects can and will be engaged from minimizing environmental impact through sustainable design to fostering social justice through community engagement This book will be a welcome supplement for undergraduate landscape architecture survey or design studio courses and may also be used at the master s degree level either as part of a landscape architecture survey seminar or early design studio

The Spectacle of Nature Nicholas Green,1990 Explores the perception of nature in early 19th century France The book centres on a discussion of subjectivity and class and the way in which the process of looking at the countryside reinforced the identity of the metropolitan bourgeoisie and especially men

Nature Policies and Landscape Policies Roberto Gambino,Attilia Peano,2014-11-11 The book focuses on the relationship between nature conservation policies and landscape policies This is a relevant subject due to the current need of reviving nature conservation policies which are today affected by a general effectiveness deficiency To this end landscape policies can play a crucial role bridging nature and culture fostering more integrated approaches to nature conservation and stimulating the active participation of local communities The book gathers reflections researches and experiences developed on an international level on this subject by experts coming from different international contexts Europe U S A various disciplinary backgrounds geographers planners biologists historians jurists economists etc and several institutional bodies Universities administrative bodies international organizations such as IUCN EUROPARC Federation UNESCO etc The overall reflections gathered in the book which is divided in three main sections regulations and institutional frameworks policies actions and tools combine to suggest innovative visions about the relationships between nature policies and landscape policies

The Nature of Cultural Heritage, and the Culture of Natural Heritage David Lowenthal, Kenneth Olwig, 2013-10-18 The idea that the heritage of nature is fundamentally cultural is provocative to many but it is becoming increasingly accepted in the context of heritage preservation It is argued here that a person's perspective on natural vs cultural heritage as a contested patrimony is to some extent governed by one's intellectual and geographical position In discourses influenced by the natural sciences culture is a heritage of nature whereas in those deriving from the humanities and social sciences nature is defined socio culturally There is also however a geographical dimension to how one looks at the nature culture relation From at least the time of Aristotle the North has been identified with a cultural heritage thought to derive from the northern natural environment It was no longer culture as represented by the architectural monuments of the South but the natural landscape that provided the measure for both natural and cultural heritage as the natural landscape and its ecosystems were put in focus This essay provides a contemporary picture of the long standing contestation between natural and cultural heritage that provided the basis for the northern perspective taken in these essays This book was previously published as a special issue of The International Journal of Heritage Studies
