Landscape Of St Lucia:

The Landscape of St Lucia Ali Brownlie Bojang, Alison Brownlie, 2001 Helps you find out about St Lucia's varied landscape settlements and wildlife This work shows what you can find in St Lucia in the heart of the Caribbean an island with the world's only drive in volcano a beautiful rainforest a bumper crop of bananas a bright green parrot and more The Landscape of St Lucia Ali Brownlie Bojang, 2001 Landscapes and Landforms of the Lesser Antilles Casey D. Allen, 2017-07-19 This book focuses on the highly touristed but surprisingly under researched Lesser Antilles region After offering a brief overview of the region's geologic and tectonic history as well as its basic climatology subsequent chapters then discuss each island's or island set's geomorphology and geology and how the settlement history tourism and hazards have affected their individual landscapes Written by regional experts and replete with up to date information stunning color imagery and beautiful cartography maps it is the only comprehensive scientific evaluation of the Lesser Antilles and serves as the region's definitive reference resource Accessible to non experts and amateur explorers the book includes in depth discussions and reference sections for each island island set Usable as both a textbook and guidebook it offers readers a straightforward yet detailed assessment of an interesting and intriguing but often overlooked and under appreciated locale Landscape Conservation IUCN World Commission on Protected Areas. Special Meeting, 2001 International Concepts in Protected Landscapes, 2001 Anthropos and the Material Penny Harvey, Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2019-05-09 The destructive effects of modern industrial societies have shaped the planet in such profound ways that many argue for the existence of a new geological epoch called the Anthropocene This claim brings into relief a set of challenges that have deep implications for how relations between the human the material and the political affect contemporary social worlds The contributors to Anthropos and the Material examine these challenges by questioning and complicating long held understandings of the divide between humans and things They present ethnographic case studies from across the globe addressing myriad topics that range from labor economics and colonialism to technology culture the environment agency and diversity In foregrounding the importance of connecting natural and social histories the instability and intangibility of the material and the ways in which the lively encounters between the human and the nonhuman challenge conceptions of liberal humanism the contributors point to new understandings of the capacities of people and things to act transform and adapt to a changing world Postcolonial Romanticisms Roy Osamu Kamada, 2010 Postcolonial Romanticisms Landscape and the Possibilities of Inheritance describes the production of a new and particular kind of postcolonial text and resituates the notion of literary influence in the context of postcolonial literatures This book addresses the ways in which Derek Walcott Garrett Hongo and Jamaica Kincaid have appropriated aspects of colonial culture and how they deploy the tropes of British Romanticism in their own texts Postcolonial Romanticisms argues that Walcott Hongo and Kincaid radically reimagine and rewrite the various traditions that have figured their island landscapes as unhistoricized unoccupied and marginal The landscapes that they write about are necessarily politicized their own subjectivities are intimately implicated in both the natural beauty as well as the traumatic history of place they confront and engage to varying degrees the history of their postcolonial geographies the history of diaspora of slavery of the capitalist commodification of the landscape and the devastating consequences this history has on the individual These postcolonial writers confront what Derek Walcott calls the shards of an ancient pastoral the literal and literary remains of colonial cultural authority that clutter their landscapes Postcolonial Romanticisms is ideally suited for courses in cultural literary and postcolonial studies specifically courses in world literature global literature postcolonial literature Caribbean literature contemporary poetry and eco literary studies

Archaeologies of Slavery and Freedom in the Caribbean Lynsey A. Bates, John M. Chenoweth, James A.

Delle, 2018-09-12 Caribbean plantations and the forces that shaped them slavery sugar capitalism and the tropical sometimes deadly environment have been studied extensively This volume brings together alternate stories of sites that fall outside the large cash crop estates Employing innovative research tools and integrating data from Dominica St Lucia the Dominican Republic Jamaica Barbados Nevis Montserrat and the British Virgin Islands the contributors investigate the oft overlooked interstitial spaces where enslaved Africans sought to maintain their own identities inside and outside the fixed borders of colonialism Despite grueling work regimes and social and economic restrictions people held in bondage carved out places of their own at the margins of slavery's reach These essays reveal a complex world within and between sprawling plantations a world of caves gullies provision grounds field houses fields and the areas beyond them where the enslaved networked interacted and exchanged goods and information The volume also explores the lives of poor whites Afro descendant members of military garrisons and free people of color demonstrating that binary models of black slaves and white planters do not fully encompass the diversity of Caribbean identities before and after emancipation Together the analyses of marginal spaces and postemancipation communities provide a more nuanced understanding of the experiences of those who lived in the historic Caribbean and who created nurtured and ultimately cut the roots of empire A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P Bullen Series

Karl Langer, 2021-12-30 Despite a European training and an early career working with Peter Behrens a migration from Vienna to the Australian state of Queensland positioned the architect Karl Langer 1903 1969 at the very edge of both European and Australian modernism Confronted by tropical heat and glare the economics of affordable housing fiercely proud and regional architectural practices and a suspicion of the foreign Langer moulded the European language of international modernism to the unique climatic and social conditions of tropical Australia This book will tell Langer's story through a series of edited essays focused on key themes and projects Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects it is both an examination of an architect's work and international legacy and also a case study in the trans global dissemination of design ideas Studying the architect's built and proposed work both regional and metropolitan the scale and reach of Langer's practice will be considered for the first time showing how given his continued influence on the contemporary culture of tropical design Langer has been unjustly ignored by the historiography of both Australian and Modernist architecture to date

Envisioning Landscape Dan Hicks, Laura McAtackney, Graham Fairclough, 2016-06-03 The common feature of landscape archaeology is its diversity of method, field location, disciplinary influences and contemporary voices. The contributors to this volume take advantage of these many strands to investigate landscape archaeology in its multiple forms, focusing primarily on the link to heritage, the impact on our understanding of temporality and the situated theory that arises out of landscape studies. Using examples from New York to Northern Ireland, Africa to the Argolid, these pieces capture the human significance of material objects in support of a more comprehensive, nuanced archaeology.

Landscapes and Landforms of South Africa Stefan Grab, Jasper Knight, 2015-03-05 This book presents a beautifully illustrated overview of the most prominent landscapes of South Africa and the distinctive landforms associated with them. It describes the processes, origins and the environmental significance of those landscapes, including their relationships to human activity of the past and present. The sites described in this book include, amongst others, the Blyde River Canyon, Au-grabies Falls, Kruger National Park, Kalahari desert landscapes, the Great Escarpment, Sterkfontein caves and karst system, Table Mountain, Cape winelands, coastal dunes, rocky coasts, Boer War battlefield sites and Vredefort impact structure. Landscapes and Landforms of South Africa provides a new perspective on South Africa's scenic landscapes by considering their diversity, long and short-term histories and importance for geoconservation and geotourism. This book will be relevant to those interested in the geology, physical geography and history of South Africa, climate change and landscape tourism.

Offshoot Donna Lee Brien, Quinn Eades, 2018 Offshoot includes essays in life writing, methodologies and approaches as well as a series of creative work, poetry and prose that engages with current life writing. This collection highlights the development and influence of the genre in the twenty-first century. Starting from the premise that life writing is a significant component of both contemporary artistic practice and scholarship, Offshoot provides a necessary re-evaluation of the mode, its contemporary sub-generic incarnations as well as methodological and practical approaches. The book presents research on a wide range of approaches, including both traditional areas such as literature and creative writing and areas that have not previously been associated with life writing scholarship. With its multifaceted readings, Offshoot signals a shift in life writing research, tending towards an expansive, hybrid, experimental and rhizomic approach. Subject: Life Writing, Education, Literature.

Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Synthesis for The State of the World's Biodiversity for Food and Agriculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-12-04 The Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Synthesis for The State of the World's Biodiversity for Food and Agriculture summarizes the state of biodiversity for food and agriculture in the region, based largely on information provided in fourteen country reports submitted to FAO as part of the reporting process for the report on The State of the World's Biodiversity for Food and Agriculture. Biodiversity for food and agriculture is the diversity of plants, animals and micro organisms at genetic species and ecosystem levels present in and around crop livestock forest and aquatic production systems It is essential to the structure functions and processes of these systems to livelihoods and food security and to the supply of a wide range of ecosystem services It has been managed or influenced by farmers livestock keepers forest dwellers fish farmers and fisherfolk for hundreds of generations The report was originally prepared as supporting documentation for an informal regional consultation on the state of Latin America and the Caribbean s biodiversity for food and agriculture held in Panama City Panama 8 to 10 March 2016 It was later revised based on feedback received from the participants of the informal consultation and on an additional country report It also discusses the state of efforts to promote the sustainable use and conservation of biodiversity for food and agriculture in the region including through the development of supporting policies legal frameworks institutions and capacities

Mining the Landscape Geraldine Mate, 2022-09-12 Mining was one of the primary elements of colonial enterprise in Australia and a factor in movement on colonial frontiers In the second half of the 19th and early 20th century mining particularly of gold saw transformations of the land itself as well as in the way that people working in mining engaged with the landscape around them Landscape archaeology provides a theoretical perspective that allows an articulation of how people created and understood the place in which they lived and worked The impact of and narrative surrounding gold mining has meant that it has long been a focus of study both historical and archaeological The archaeology of mining has traditionally fallen under the umbrella of industrial archaeology with analyses based on historical economic and technological evidence However this is changing From an industrial focus examining the remnants of mines and associated processing equipment archaeology has progressed towards understandings of the social aspects of mining recognising that people not just equipment occupied these landscapes Nevertheless there remains a separation between industrial technology based studies and purely social household based archaeological studies a division that overlooks the integration of home and livelihood This work addresses these very challenges using a landscape based approach that articulates a nuanced meaning laden and experienced mining landscape Integrating the social and the industrial the case study of Mount Shamrock a gold mining town in Queensland Australia demonstrates how this methodology can enhance our understanding of the past The work presents an integration of social and industrial perspectives in a mining settlement and provides an exemplar in the application of landscape theory to Australian historical archaeology These concepts and approaches developed in an Australian context are of universal interest

Situating Caribbean Literature and Criticism in Multicultural and Postcolonial Studies Seodial Frank Hubert Deena, 2009 Situating Caribbean Literature and Criticism in Multicultural and Postcolonial Studies is a pioneer in advancing the difficult but necessary argument of situating and centering Caribbean literature and criticism at the foundation of multicultural and postcolonial studies through an interdisciplinary international and intercultural manner made possible by the author's unique multicultural and transnational interest and experience The Caribbean more than any other region has suffered from European imperialism annihilation of the native population piracy amongst the European powers deracination and atrocities of the slave trade and subsequent systems of indenture but has received the least critical and international attention Situating Caribbean Literature and Criticism in Multicultural and Postcolonial Studies argues that Caribbean criticism shaped by the region's socio economic political and historical phenomena has a more complex and significant marriage with postcolonial and multicultural studies than acknowledged by the international community Caribbean scholars should not only seek to legitimize and publicize the marriage and its depth but also expand the borders of its scholarship and protest its disneyfication and prostitution
