Genevieve Brown, Beverly J. Irby, 2001 While our culture aids and encourages men in their achievement women are often discouraged Women as a group have not been as successful as men in the fields which have traditionally been assigned achievement value Common internal barriers for women include low confidence perceived lack of advancement opportunities poor self image and weak determination and motivation Coupled with difficult experiences such barriers can persuade some women to relinquish their aspirations for a career in administration In various ways both subtle and direct our culture discourages women from expressing their intelligence For some who weather the difficulties the results can be highly confirming and motivating As women strive to achieve professional success and recognition they still feel societal pressure to assume more conventional roles Although cultural sexism is a consistent theme in these women's stories so are strength determination and inspiration Resources in Education, 1978 Sex Differences in Human Communication Barbara Westbrook Eakins, Rollin Gene Eakins, 1978 Handbook of Gender Research in Psychology Joan C. Chrisler, Donald R. McCreary, 2010-03-12 Donald R McCreary and Joan C Chrisler The Development of Gender Studies in Psychology Studies of sex differences are as old as the field of psychology and they have been conducted in every sub field of the discipline There are probably many reasons for the popularity of these studies but three reasons seem to be most prominent First social psychological studies of person perception show that sex is especially salient in social groups It is the first thing people notice about others and it is one of the things we remember best Fiske Haslam Stangor Lynch Duan Glass 1992 For example people may not remember who uttered a witty remark but they are likely to remember whether the quip came from a woman or a man Second many people hold firm beliefs that aspects of physiology suit men and women for particular social roles Men's greater upper body strength makes them better candidates for manual labor and their greater height gives the impression that they would make good leaders i.e. people we look up to Women's reproductive capacity and the caretaking tasks e.g. breastfeeding baby minding that accompany it make them seem suitable for other roles that require gentleness and nurturance Third the logic that underlies hypothesis testing in the sciences is focused on difference Researchers design their studies with the hope that they can reject the null hypothesis that experimental groups do not differ
