Language And The Intelligence Of The Black Man Inaugural Lecture:

Language and the Intelligence of the Black Man Joseph O. Obemeata, 1992 Nationalism and African Intellectuals Toyin Falola, 2004 An examination of the attempt by Western educated African intellectuals to create a better Africa through connecting nationalism to knowledge from the anti colonial movement to the present day This book is about how African intellectuals influenced primarily by nationalism have addressed the inter related issues of power identity politics self assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid nineteenth century onward Their major goal was to create a better Africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge The results have been mixed from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the African condition as we enter a new millennium As the intellectual elite is a creation of the Western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship This world is in turn shaped by European contacts with Africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the Cold War and the subsequent collapse of the Soviet Union In essence Africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the West and changing global politics Neither can the academic and media contributions by non Africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that Africans think about themselves and their continent Nationalism and African Intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan Africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Zaria Educator ,2005-08 Nigerian Journal of Counselling and Applied Psychology ,2002 Language Attitudes and Minority Status Isaac N. Ohia, 1998 Refocusing Education in Nigeria S. O. Oriafio, Pius O. E. Nwaokolo, Godson C. Igborgbor, 2002 Evaluation in Africa Joseph O. Obemeata, Samuel O. Ayodele, M. A. Araromi, 1999

Igbo English in the Nigerian Novel Herbert Igboanusi, 2002 This study establishes the ethnic variety of English Igbo English IE in the Nigerian novel It demonstrates that IE is a deliberate and stylistic device arising from the influence of the Igbo language oral and written forms and culture on English resulting in the clear identity of this variety The author illustrates the distinctiveness of IE with reference to the novels of Chinua Achebe Cyprian Ekwensi Buchi Emecheta Chuwuemeketa Ike Nkem Nwankwo and several other writers He goes on to explore the role of these literary writers first in the development of IE and then more generally in the development of Nigerian English He comments on the implications of their work for the modern African novel as a whole and for an approach of study to African literature from the perspective of ethnic literary tradition Nigerian Books In Print 1996 ,1996 Ibadan at Fifty, 1948-1998 B. A. Mojuetan, 2000 This volume presents fifty years of the University of Ibadan Nigeria s oldest and pre eminent university from its inception as a college of the University of London The contributors are various existing and retired faculty professors heads of the university's libraries publishing house and printing press from the university's administration and former students. The essays are diverse and specific in their handling of the university's history but all broadly document the common experience of the university's decline and the enormous gulf between the present state of the university and the kind of institution its creators and ambassadors believe it should be. They reflect upon the earlier role of the university as an institutional of international renown and influential in shaping Nigeria's history and the present state of depleted academic departments and inadequate libraries and they describe how the university is suffering from the Africa wide brain drain and a chronic lack of funding. The essays further demonstrate how the historical development of the university has largely rested upon the mostly detrimental and at times disastrous attitude and actions of the Nigerian State and that the history of the university is inseparable from the history of the country the university having become the intellectual equivalent of a marginalised Third World economy. The overall picture is not wholly one of gloom however. The contributors also propose directions the university may pursue to reverse the decline and this publication itself represents a spirited rear guard action. Nigerian Books in Print ,1996

The Intelligence ,1896 Issues in English Teaching Jon Davison,John Moss,2002-09-11 Issues in English Teaching invites primary and secondary teachers of English to engage in debates about key issues in subject teaching. The issues discussed include the increasingly centralised control of the curriculum assessment and pedagogy in the school teaching of English in England and Wales as a result of initiatives such as the National Literacy Strategy new technologies which are transforming pupils lived experience of literacy or literacies the accelerating globalisation of English and the independence of other versions of English from English Standard English A National Curriculum with a nationalist perspective on language literacy and literature cannot fully accommodate English what has become naturalised and normalised in English teaching and the educational and ideological reasons for this hierarchies that have been created in the curriculum and pedagogy identifying who and what has been given low status excluded or marginalised in the development of the current model of English. Issues in English Teaching will stimulate student teachers NQTs language and literacy co ordinators classroom English teachers and aspiring or practising Heads of English to reflect on the identity or the subject the principles and policies which have determined practice and those which should influence future practice. International Books in Print
