Language Of Difference Writing In Quebec Ois:

The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor, 2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization

Private and Fictional Words (Routledge Revivals) Coral Ann Howells, 2014-08-07 First published in 1987 this is an introductory study of the most widely read Canadian women novelists of the 1970s and 1980s At its centre lies the question of how the search for a distinctive cultural identity relates to the need for a national cultural identity in the post colonial era Coral Ann Howells argues that Canadian women's fiction throughout the period of study represents how the Canadian cultural identity exceeds its geographical limits and those traditional structures of patriarchal authority need revision if women's alternative views are to be taken into account Including short biographical sketches and a complete list of the books published by the authors under discussion writers examined include Margaret Atwood Alice Munro and Margaret Laurence

Canada & Its Americas Winfried Siemerling, Sarah Phillips Casteel, 2010-01-15 The chapters in this volume a groundbreaking work in the burgeoning field of hemispheric American studies expand the horizons of Canadian and Québécois literatures suggest alternative approaches to models centred on the United States and analyze the risks and benefits of hemispheric approaches to Canada and Quebec Revealing the connections among a broad range of Canadian Québécois American Caribbean Latin American and diasporic literatures the contributors critique the neglect of Canadian works in Hemispheric studies and show how such writing can be successfully integrated into an emerging area of literary inquiry An important development in understanding the diversity of literatures throughout the western hemisphere Canada and Its Americas reveals exciting new ways for thinking about transnationalism regionalism border cultures and the literatures they produce

New Contexts of Canadian Criticism Ajay Heble, Donna Palmateer Pennee, J.R. Struthers, 1997-04-18 Times change lives change and the terms we need to describe our literature or society or condition what Raymond Williams calls keywords change with them Perhaps the most significant development in the quarter century since Eli Mandel edited his anthology Contexts of Canadian Criticism has been the growing recognition that not only do different people need different terms but the same terms have different meanings for different people and in different contexts Nation history culture art identity the positions we take discussing these and other issues can lead to conflict but also hold the promise of a new sort of community Speaking of First Nations people and their literature Beth Brant observes that Our connections are like the threads of a weaving While the colour and beauty of each thread is unique and important together they make a communal material of strength and durability New Contexts of Canadian Criticism is designed to be read to work in much the same manner

A History of Canadian Literature William H. New, William Herbert New, 2003 New offers an unconventionally structured overview of Canadian literature from Native American mythologies to contemporary texts Publishers Weekly A History of Canadian Literature looks at the work of writers and the social and cultural contexts that helped shape their preoccupations and direct their choice of literary form W H New explains how from early records of oral tales to the writing strategies of the early twenty first century writer reader literature and society are interrelated New discusses both Aboriginal and European mythologies looking at pre Contact narratives and also at the way Contact experience altered hierarchies of literary value He then considers representations of the real whether in documentary fantasy or satire historical romance and the social construction of Nature and State and ironic subversions of power the politics of cultural form and the relevance of the media to a representation of community standard and individual voice New suggests some ways in which writers of the later twentieth century codified such issues as history gender ethnicity and literary technique itself In this second edition he adds a lengthy chapter that considers how writers at the turn of the twenty first century have reimagined their society and their roles within it and an expanded chronology and bibliography Some of these writers have spoken from and about various social margins dealing with issues of race status ethnicity and sexuality some have sought emotional understanding through strategies of history and memory some have addressed environmental concerns and some have reconstructed the world by writing across genres and across different media All genres are represented with examples chosen primarily but not exclusively from anglophone and francophone texts A chronology plates and a series of tables supplement the commentary

A Written Constitution for Quebec? Richard Albert,Léonid Sirota,2023-01-15 No province in Canada has codified a written constitution and whether Quebec should be the first remains a controversial question A Written Constitution for Quebec enters into the debate drawing a roadmap through the legal political and constitutional terrain of the issue Leading scholars each take their own position in the debate examining the issue from various sides and exploring the forms and limits of a codified Quebec constitution by asking whether Quebec should adopt a written constitution how the province might go about it and what such a document might achieve Along with a comprehensive introduction to constitutional codification and how it relates to Quebec the book opens with a proposal for a written constitution with the analyses that follow expressing a diversity of views on the feasibility and desirability of a written constitution for the province An array of perspectives through the lenses of Indigenous inclusion and reconciliation interculturalism and democratic constitutionalism and insights from other federal and plurinational states are included in this wide ranging volume Taking a doctrinal historical theoretical and comparative approach A Written Constitution for Quebec extensively addresses Quebec s constitutional future in Canada

Literature and Exile David Bevan,1990

Difference and Community ,2022-03-07 This volume brings together essays which suggest that the relationship between Canada and Europe is a two way process as historically the traffic between them has been either may have something to offer the other Europe too acknowledges situations today in which difference and community are hard terms to reconcile Difference refers to gender sexuality race nationality or language Community is the collective understanding which must continually be renegotiated and reconstructed among these factors The Canadian European connection is one in which it seems especially appropriate to explore such circumstances The topics covered include pioneer women s writing transcultural women s fiction canonical taxonomy of the contemporary novel the city poem in Confederate Canada poetry of the Great War various ethno cultural perspectives Jewish South Asian Italian Native reappropriations Quebec cinema literature and the media and small press publishing Some of the authors treated Sandra Birdsell Nicole Brossard Jack Hodgins Henry Kreisel Robert Kroetsch Janice Kulyk Keefer Archibald Lampman Malcolm Lowry Lesley Lum Daphne Marlatt Susanna Moodie Bharati Mukherjee Alice Munro Frank Paci and Susan Swan

The Postwar Novel in Canada Rosmarin Heidenreich, 2006-01-01 As a comparative study which includes the analysis of both English Canadian and Quebec novels this book provides an overview of the novel as it has developed in this country since the Second World War Focusing on narratological rather than thematic elements the book represents a systematic application of the insights and analytical tools of reader reception theory in particular the models proposed by Wolfgang Iser and Hans Robert Jauss Placing the emphasis on the text and its effects rather than on the historical or psycho sociological genesis of the text the author invokes the models and paradigms of other literatures to establish a broader cultural context permitting the significance of a literature to emerge as a carrier of meaning in and beyond the culture that produces it Tracing a critical path from Hugh MacLennan s hierarchic romance structures and Gabrielle Roy s social realism to the metafiction of Hubert Aquin and Timothy Findley the author reveals that the novel s narratological features themselves are often closely linked with ideological positions

Trans/acting Culture, Writing, and Memory Eva C. Karpinski, Jennifer Henderson, Ian Sowton, Ray Ellenwood, 2013-10-30 Trans acting Culture Writing and Memory is a collection of essays written in honour of Barbara Godard one of the most original and wide ranging literary critics theorists teachers translators and public intellectuals Canada has ever produced The contributors both established and emerging scholars extend Godard s work through engagements with her published texts in the spirit of creative interchange and intergenerational relay of ideas Their essays resonate with Godard s innovative scholarship situated at the intersection of such fields as literary studies cultural studies translation studies feminist theory arts criticism social activism institutional analysis and public memory In pursuit of unexpected linkages and connections the essays venture beyond generic and disciplinary borders zeroing in on Godard s transdisciplinary practice which has been extremely influential in the way it framed questions and modelled interventions for the study of Canadian Qu b cois and Acadian literatures and cultures The authors work with the materials ranging from Canadian government policies and documents to publications concerning white supremacist organizations in Southern Ontario online materials from a Toronto based transgender arts festival a photographic mural installation commemorating the Montreal Massacre and the works of such writers and artists as Marie Clements Nicole Brossard France Daigle Nancy Huston Yvette Nolan Gail Scott Denise Desautels Louise Warren Rebecca Belmore Vera Frenkel Robert Lepage and Janet Cardiff      Standardizing Minority Languages Pia Lane, James Costa, Haley De Korne, 2017-09-22 The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/9781138125124> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license. This volume addresses a crucial yet largely unaddressed dimension of minority language standardization namely how social actors engage with support negotiate resist and even reject such processes. The focus is on social actors rather than language as a means for analysing the complexity and tensions inherent in contemporary standardization processes. By considering the perspectives and actions of people who participate in or are affected by minority language politics the contributors aim to provide a comparative and nuanced analysis of the complexity and tensions inherent in minority language standardisation processes. Echoing Fasold 1984 this involves a shift in focus from a sociolinguistics of language to a sociolinguistics of people. The book addresses tensions that are born of the renewed or continued need to standardize language in the early 21st century across the world. It proposes to go beyond the traditional macro micro dichotomy by foregrounding the role of actors as they position themselves as users of standard forms of language oral or written across sociolinguistic scales. Language policy processes can be seen as practices and ideologies in action and this volume therefore investigates how social actors in a wide range of geographical settings embrace contribute to resist and also reject aspects of minority language standardization.

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies. The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods. The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography. The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism. It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole.
