Language Of The Self P:

Language, Culture, and the Embodied Mind Joseph Shaules, 2019-12-04 There is an odd contradiction at the heart of language and culture learning. Language and culture are so to speak two sides of a single coin: language reflects the thinking values and worldview of its speakers. Despite this, there is a persistent split between language and culture in the classroom. Foreign language pedagogy is often conceptualized in terms of gaining knowledge and practicing skills, while cultural learning goals are often conceptualized in abstract terms such as awareness or criticality. This book helps resolve this dilemma. Informed by brain and mind sciences, its core message is that language and culture learning can both be seen as a single interrelated process: the embodiment of dynamic systems of meaning into the intuitive mind. This deep learning process is detailed in the form of the Developmental Model of Linguaculture Learning (DMLL). Grounded in dynamic skill theory, the DMLL describes four developmental levels of language and culture learning, which represents a subtle yet important shift in language and culture pedagogy. Rather than asking how to add culture into language education, we should be seeking ways to make language and culture learning deeper, more integrated, embodied, experiential, and transformational. This book provides a theoretical approach including practical examples for doing so.

Traditionalism Mark Sedgwick, 2023 Traditionalism is a shadowy philosophy that has influenced much of the twentieth century and beyond. It is a worldview that rejects modernity and instead turns to mystical truth, perennialism, and tradition as its guide. Mark Sedgwick, one of the world's leading scholars of Traditionalism, presents a major new intellectual history, pulling back the curtain on the foundations of Traditionalist philosophy and its major proponents. Traditionalism provides an expansive guide to this important school of thought, one that is little known and even less understood, and shows how pervasive these ideas have become.

Language, Identity, and Choice Kami J. Anderson, 2015-05-20 Language Identity and Choice: Raising Bilingual Children in a Global Society provides scholarly insight into how foreign language acquisition influences an individual's understanding of identity within the African American family. Rooted in sociolinguistic communication and bilingual theoretical perspectives, Kami J. Anderson describes how foreign language acquisition, development, and use shape how Africans and African Americans describe and proscribe their identity, and in turn, the identity of the family. Language Identity and Choice looks specifically at how family language choices, in particular, choosing to be bilingual, affect family communication and perception of identity from people outside of the family. Anderson combines both extensive research and her personal experience of being bilingual to challenge the existing notions of what it means to be Black when personal experiences with race and ethnicity extend beyond the boundaries of the native country or culture.

The Usage-based Study of Language Learning and Multilingualism Lourdes Ortega, Andrea E. Tyler, Hae In Park, Mariko Uno, 2016-05-16 When humans learn languages, are they also learning how to create shared meaning? In The Usage-based Study of Language Learning and Multilingualism, a cadre of international experts say yes and offer cutting-edge research in usage-based linguistics to explore how language acquisition, in particular, multilingual language acquisition works Each chapter presents an original study that supports the view that language learning is initiated through local and meaningful communication with others Over an accumulated history of such usage people gradually create more abstract interactive schematic representations or a mental grammar This process of acquiring language is the same for infants and adults and across varied contexts such as the family the classroom the laboratory a hospital or a public encounter Employing diverse methodologies to study this process the contributors here work with target languages including Cantonese English French French Sign Language German Hebrew Malay Mandarin Spanish and Swedish and offer a much needed exploration of this growing area of linguistic research

Identity, Motivation and Autonomy in Language Learning Garold Murray,Xuesong (Andy) Gao,Terry Lamb,2011-04-14 In this volume researchers from Asia Europe the Middle East and North and South America employ a variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches in their exploration of the links between identity motivation and autonomy in language learning On a conceptual level the authors explore issues related to agency metacognition imagination beliefs and self The book also addresses practice in classroom self access and distance education contexts considering topics such as teachers views on motivation plurilingual learning sustaining motivation in distance education pop culture and gaming study abroad and the role of agency and identity in the motivation of pre service teachers The book concludes with a discussion of how an approach which sees identity motivation and autonomy as interrelated constructs has the potential to inform theory practice and future research directions in the field of language teaching and learning

Laura Barbara L. Estrin,1994-12-15 How do men imagine women In the poetry of Petrarch and his English successors Wyatt Donne and Marvell the male poet persistently imagines pursuing a woman Laura whom he pursues even as she continues to deny his affections Critics have long held that in objectifying Laura these male authored texts deny the imaginative intellectual and physical life of the woman they idealize In Laura Barbara L. Estrin counters this traditional view by focusing not on the generative powers of the male poet but on the subjectivity of the imagined woman and the imaginative space of the poems she occupies Through close readings of the Rime sparse and the works of Wyatt Donne and Marvell Estrin uncovers three Lauras Laura Daphne who denies sexuality Laura Eve who returns the poet's love and Laura Mercury who reinvents her own life Estrin claims that in these three guises Laura subverts both genre and gender thereby introducing multiple desires into the many layers of the poems Drawing upon genre and gender theories advanced by Jean Fran ois Lyotard and Judith Butler to situate female desire in the poem's framework Estrin shows how genre and gender in the Petrarchan tradition work together to undermine the stability of these very concepts Estrin's Laura constitutes a fundamental reconceptualization of the Petrarchan tradition and contributes greatly to the postmodern reassessment of the Renaissance period In its descriptions of how early modern poets formulate questions about sexuality society and poetry Laura will appeal to scholars of the English and Italian Renaissance of gender studies and of literary criticism and theory generally do not get lost How to Enhance Learning Efficiency When Online Learning is Popular and Indispensable: Theory, Research and Practice Rong Lian, Chang Liu, Juzhe Xi, 2024-07-17 Online learning has become more and more common globally whether for comfort adapting to work hours or just having the freedom to study from anywhere And now under the coronavirus pandemic as people are having to stay at home it has become more important than ever Although the popularity of wireless network and portable smart device makes it possible for people to acquire and learn knowledge anytime and anywhere it does not necessarily mean an increased learning performance Relevant research in cognitive science has revealed possible limitations in online learning For example the knowledge acquired through online learning tends to be fragmented and lacks guidance for integrated thinking among different subjects which makes it difficult for learners to form a systematic knowledge structure Learners may experience cognitive overload metacognitive illusion and low learning efficiency in self regulated learning It follows that in the post COVID 19 era online learning puts forward new requirements and challenges to the contemporary students not only to their learning strategies but positive character traits in learning Most of the current learning theories were developed in the early 20th century and may not fit in well with the current situation then possibly leading to inefficient learning and increased learning burden Therefore it is necessary and important to reexplore the influencing factors and mechanisms that affect the learning efficiency of students at all levels nowadays based on which we could construct a theoretical model of efficient learning model Online Intercultural Education and Study Abroad Jane Jackson, 2018-11-16 With the increasing focus on international education and study abroad programmes Online Intercultural Education and Study Abroad meets the need for a text that addresses ways in which technology may be harnessed to enhance student experience Combining case studies with theoretical insights this book critically investigates the effectiveness of a fully online study abroad intervention that was designed to optimise intercultural learning in an international context Intercultural education researchers and practitioners are provided with theory based practical ideas such as eLearning strategies and online mentoring tips to help students maximise their intercultural education journey intercultural competence development and social engagement while abroad Both practical and research focused this volume considers a wide range of topics including Contemporary notions of experiential learning Guided critical reflection through e mentoring A social constructivist orientation towards eLearning pedagogy Tools to help understand and measure learner development abroad Online Intercultural Education and Study Abroad is suitable for both novice and experienced study abroad practitioners researchers and administrators Satisfying the growing interest in using eLearning within study abroad programmes this book will be a necessary point of reference for any institution that aims to enhance international educational experience especially through the use of technology UML 2004 - The Unified Modeling Language Thomas Baar, 2004-10-05 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference on the Unified Modeling Language UML 2004 held in Lisbon Portugal in October 2004 The 30 revised full papers presented together with summaries on the workshops and tutorials were carefully reviewed and selected from 135 technical paper submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on metamodeling aspects profiles and extensions OCL model transformation verification and model consistency security and methodology The Next Phase in Heritage Language Studies: Methodological Considerations and Advancements Fatih Bayram,Maki Kubota,Sergio Miguel Pereira Soares,2024-03-27 Over the past three decades studies investigating heritage speaker HS linguistic competencies have shown time and again that despite being L1 or 2L1 native speakers of their home language s HS outcomes display variation across a wide spectrum of differences as compared to each other other types of bilinguals as well as their monolingual peers Studies have traditionally used mostly behavioral methodologies rooted in adjacent established fields e g L1 acquisition adult L2 acquisition offering in addition to documenting and describing HS performance important insights for linguistic theory and challenges related to home minority language maintenance contact policy and more A birds eye view makes it clear that the methodologies one uses to tap into HSs linguistic knowledge areas if not more are important than the phenomena under investigation especially in light of how their unique experiences with their heritage and other languages are present across a continuum

Assessment and Autonomy in Language Learning C. Everhard,L. Murphy,2015-03-25 This book examines this contested relationship between assessment and autonomy from a number of perspectives in a variety of Higher Education language learning contexts in Europe and the Far East The contributors to the book describe research into assessment both for and as autonomy as well as approaches to the assessment of autonomy itself International Journal of Applied Linguistics and English Literature (IJALEL: Vol. 3, No.1), 2014 Editor,2013-12-30 International Journal of Applied Linguistics and English Literature IJALEL is a peer reviewed journal established in Australia Authors are encouraged to submit complete unpublished and original works which are not under review in any other journal The scopes of the journal include but not limited to the following topic areas Applied Linguistics Linguistics and English Literature The journal is published in both printed and online versions The online version is free access and downloadable The Muse of Abandonment Lee Upton,1998 The Muse of Abandonment examines personal and cultural forms of abandonment in the poetry of Charles Wright Russell Edson Jean Valentine James Tate and Louise Gluck These poets register the tremors of the post modern exhaustion of universals and a conflicted desire for authenticating presences The first book to study these poets as members of a generation The Muse of Abandonment analyses the poets recasting of confessional and surrealistic legacies and discusses their reflections on coercion of thought and behavior and an atmosphere in contemporary culture that would trivialize private sensibility Theism in the Discourse of Jonathan Edwards R. C. De Prospe,1985 This book proposes that a new semiotic category called theism can more intelligibly classify the discursive pattern that precedes modern humanism in American literature than such standard historicist categories as Puritanism or Calvinism or medievalism and that the writings of Jonathan Edwards exemplify this theist discursive pattern Precursors of Functional Literacy Ludo Th

Verhoeven, Carsten Elbro, Pieter Reitsma, 2002-01-01 The purpose of this volume is to present recent research in the field of the acquisition of functional literacy and its precursors The volume aims to capture the state of the art in this rapidly expanding field An attempt is made to clarify the vague and often inconsistent definitions of functional literacy from the perspective of development Cognitive linguistic educational and social factors of literacy development are all taken into account The volume consists of three subsequent parts The first part goes into phonological precursors of literacy development In this part the focus is on the development of early language precursors of reading and writing The cultural foundations of these precursors are explored and their links with reading development are dealt with in detail Different psycholinguistic approaches are also proposed to explain the occurrence of literacy problems In the second part the scope is on the constraints of reading and writing efficiency at the word level and beyond The acquisition of reading and writing is seen as a result from the interaction between phonological orthographic and semantic processes A crosslinguistic perspective is taken on the role of writing system factors in the acquisition of literacy skills The final part deals with the role of social and educational factors in literacy acquisition Starting from a crosscultural perspective the central issue is how the attainment of functional literacy is dependent on sociocultural variation The predictors of more advanced levels of literacy development are considered including foreign language literacy and adult literacy
